Tuesday of this past week.

Father James J. Shanahan. native of Schrea, is superior of the 'few more than 300' esults of the just established Buffalo (upstate) province.

Whether or not his order exands facilities for more stulents "depends on manyover,"

He talked with Father Robert Boyle, new rector at Me-Quaid, and reported in some New York City area schools staffed by Jesuits "3000 boys applied and all we could accept

He regretted, "We had to turn some away from McQuaid High School too but no where near that New York number."

FATHER SHANAHAN said, "If the many young men who have the idea of becoming a priest would only carry it through, we could soon build scores of more classrooms. We would, of course, need money for such a tast building program, but we need men even
