

'Immoral' To Pay For Stolen Schools

Colombo, Ceylon — (NC) — The Church will receive no compensation when Catholic schools in Ceylon are taken over by the state, the nation's new Minister of Education has stated.

"It would be immoral for anybody to ask for such compensation," Badruddin Ahmed added in a speech in the House of Representatives here.

The nationalization of Catholic schools in this southeast Asian island country was announced in August following the victory of the Great Ceylon Freedom party in the July 26 elections.

Meanwhile, plans have been made to introduce a bill in the House to require government permission for the building of new churches or temples. Churches and temples in the neighborhood of archaeological monuments will be destroyed, according to the proposed bill.

If the proposal is adopted, government permission to build a new place of worship will be granted only if there are at least 1,000 members of a religion within half a mile of a proposed site. It will also ban construction of a church within a mile of a currently existing one.

Famed Cathedral

Chartres 700th Anniversary

Chartres — (NC) — The heads of the French and German governments will attend the ceremony marking the 700th anniversary of the consecration of this city's famed cathedral, it has been announced.

President Charles de Gaulle of France and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of Germany will meet here October 21.

During the ceremony the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra and a Paris choir will present Beethoven's Mass in D minor.

There has been a church on the site of the Chartres cathedral since 67 AD. In 1020 Bishop Fulbert asked all the sovereigns of Europe to contribute to the rebuilding of the cathedral here, which had been destroyed by fire. Three more fires in 1050, 1134 and 1194 interfered with the rebuilding effort.

A message from the Pontiff was received by Jose Cardinal Garibaldi Rivera, Archbishop of Guadalajara and Mexico's first Prince of the Church.

In 1248 the completed cathedral was dedicated by Pope John XXII.
