

Two Films Listed At Museum Sunday

Two films, "The Man on the Hill" and "Geography of the United States" will be shown at Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences on Sunday, Oct. 16, at 2:30 p.m. and again at 3:30 p.m., to which the public is invited.

One film describes the daily life of a member of Congress, Ladd for Adults Only. Avid TV and movie spectators will be familiar with issues and ago may remember the story as candidates in forthcoming election of a "Playhouse '40" presentation, and most important of bearing the title of "The Last Man."

The other film is an introduction to the wide variety of climate, industry, agriculture and national groups represented in the United States. Both films are in color and sound.

Hot Foot

By RAY SMITH

All of us at one time or another has stubbed our big toe, but it didn't give us as much action as the present offering at the Palace Theatre. "ONE HOT FOOT IN HELL" with Alan Ladd for Adults Only. "Avid TV and movie spectators will be familiar with issues and ago may remember the story as candidates in forthcoming election of a "Playhouse '40" presentation, and most important of bearing the title of "The Last Man."

This Cinema One western is based on the ridge harbored by Ladd against the people of a small Southern town in which his present wife perished at a cost of his lacking $1.87 to his son. The town's leader, who is the only thing in his power now as he accepts the job as deputy sheriff of the town. Gathering around him a group of gentlemen of the unsavory class he gets the machinery in motion to kill those who contributed to his wife's untimely end.

Ladd goes about his business giving an outward appearance of friendliness by wearing a faint smile. Or, as we college graduates would say, flashing the choppers. His plot and the robbery well until he turns his venom on his own organization. The only apparent reason for his killing his own seems to be that he considers it not fit to continue living in the world a little weak but we have got somebody killed off somehow. All in all, it's not too bad and with Deluxe color and some good acting it makes for an interesting evening at the movies.

THE PARAMOUNT Theatre is passing out chills and thrills to Adults and Adolescents as Edgar Allan Poe's weird classic horror is to the screen under the roof of "THE HOUSE OF USHER." Herein are all the ingredients of a real eerie 85 minutes. "Accidents," a coffin being buried alive, bloodstains, secret passageways, insanity, a violent storm and fire will be the subjects of your conversation as you leave your friend on the corner and walk home.

THE HOUSE OF USHER

is the only thing in his power now as he accepts the job as deputy sheriff of the town.
