Holy Trinity Sets Musical Comedy

"Broadway on the Ridge," a musical comedy, will be presented at Holy Trinity School Hall on Nov. 4, 5 and 6. The script, an original story written by Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Barrett and family, embraces several song hits from Rodgers and Hammerstein's shows: "South Pacific," "The King and I," "Oklahoma!," "Sound of Music" and "My Fair Lady."

The show is being directed by stage-producer Lloyd Hubbard, and musical-director Lois Gilbert. Hubbard is a veteran of many years in show business. Presently, he is the stage director for K.P.A.A. Musical Notes, a singing group from Eastman Kodak Co., and the director of plays at St. John Fisher College and the Kodak tors of Eastman Kodak Co.

LOIS GILBERT, a Websterite for only two years, has traveled all over the eastern part of the country, and made her debut at Radio City Music Hall singing with Jan Pearce and Leonard Warren, Metropolitan Artists. In Buffalo, she took part in operatic recitals in Kleinhans Hall and she appeared in "La Boheme" at the Auditorium in Rochester. Many will remember Mrs. Gilbert as songstress on the McCurdy Hour.

Leading parts in the show will be played by Pat Barrett as "Pinky," a star football player but an academic square; Carol Klem as "Mary Story," a music teacher; and Stanley Kopczynski as "Coach Fable," who begins suddenly to take an interest in music. To complete the school story, that couldn't possibly happen anywhere, are a supporting cast of 50 teenagers and adults plus 40 second and third graders at Holy Trinity School.

ASSISTING Hubbard and Mrs. Gilbert with their large cast are Mrs. Grace Bulman, director of the smiling midgets, Mrs. Roberta Witmer, piano accompanist, and Mrs. Jean Clarke, choreographer.

Proceeds from the show will be use diowards the cost of the recent addition to Holy Trinity School.

Varied Program Listed For Boys Town Concert

A program of religious, secular and folk music will be presented at the Auditorium Theatre, 875 Main St. E., at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 15, by the 50-voice Boys Town Choir.

The teen-age vocalists from Father Flanagan's Boys Town, Neb., will be directed by the Very Rev. Francis P. Schmitt.

On the program for the one-night appearance of the choir are "Songs for Twelfth Night," including "The Boar's Head Carol," "Stille Nacht," "De New Iuste there are "Danny Boy," "Jeannie," "Sneezing," "Morning" and "Rain And The River," among others.

The boys will be accompanied by Emmanuel Leemans.

Traveling in a chartered bus, the Boys Town songsters are on a nationwide tour. Because of their singing responsibilities, these youngsters attend school in the summer. Besides Father Schmitt, who is their spiritual adviser as well as musical director, the boys are supervised by other adults.

Tickets for the concert are on sale at the Auditorium box office and at Trant's, Inc., 96 Clinton Ave. S.

Musical Comedy Listed

An Irish colleen, Sheelagh O'Connor, plays an Irish colleen, Kitty Kelly, in the musical, "Manhattan Merry-go-round," to be presented at the annual Mission Show at Our Lady of Mercy High School, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 10 and 11, at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 13, at 3 p.m.

Syl Novelli and his orchestra will accompany the musical.

MISS O'CONNOR, a Mercy senior, who has appeared as a soloist in local Hibernian entertainments, will sing "Summer Moon" in the Mercy show. Senior Edna Chrysafides will also sold with "When April Sings." Sophomore Gabrielle Wickert as Nurse Maggie, will sing "Maggie Blues" with Terry Dwyer of McQuaid and Kip Brockmeyer of St. John Fisher.

Dwyer and Brockmeyer will also team up for "Ars Yok from Dixie" in the comedy department; Louis Mantione of McQuaid sings "Angelina" in the role of Antonio, the organ grinder.

In the merry-go-round of music, comedy and seasons, several dance routines are also featured. One to "Breezin' Along with the Breeze" is a lightsome soft-shoe routine worked out by junior Wendy Lesniak and performed by a group of park bums, "Knights of the Road," played by Mercians Mary Jo Carey, Eileen Barrett, Phylis Constestable, Laurie Waldorf, and Sue Klimgler.

OTHER DANCE numbers include a "Rockette" dance to "April Showers" by eight Mercians, Donna Avenel, Sue Kennedy, Janice Klein, Diane McCutcheon, Donna Phillips, Rosalie Sansano, Sue Timmons and Sharon Whalen.

A dance novelty, "Steppin' Out With My Baby," performed by four couples, includes Kathy McKenna, Tom Meek, Thelene Thurston, John Marshall, Maureen O'Brien, Bernie Puglisi, Carol Ruppel, and Frank Lorsop.

Junior Wendy Lesniak, who plays an aspiring young dancer, Mimi Duquette, will do four original dances, one of which is a takeoff on Liza Doolittle from My Fair Lady.

THE "EASTER PARADE" number will be danced by Dean McMullen, Marian Mullen, Tom Meek, Rosemary Gottry, Don Burns, Anne Hilton, Greg Maier and Sheila Dwyer.

In special comedy acts will be seen McQuaid students, Dean McMullen and Jim Kalaska as DFW's; Mary Barrett, Wendy Hall, and McQuaid's Ben Madigan as a hill-billy trio; and birdwatchers Bill Imt of Aquinas, Mary E. Barrett, Edna Chrysafides, Gerry Vogt, Kris Cowin, and Sheryl Seager.

Officer Kelly, who walks his beat in Central Park throughout the four seasons, is played by Brockmeyer. McQuaid's Greg Maier is cast as Danny Riley, the romantic lead, and Ferdie Smith plays Pierre, an artist.

Lilting rhythm will be added by the 32-member chorus with songs like "Manhattan Merry-go-round," "September Song," "Here Comes the Sun," "Silver Bells," "Winter Wonderland," and "Broadway Melody." The chorus is under the direction of Sister Mary Leo.

The backstage crew includes set chairman, Sue Straub; prop head, Donna Penna (in the market for snow, leaves and a monkey); lights, Peggy Rooney, Margaret Blum and Carol James; wardrobe director, Barbara Eismont; makeup chairman, Mary Lou Bohnke; publicity head, Laurie Waldorf; prompters Diane Nuccifelli and Laurie Shedd. Marian Mullen is the general producer.

The play is under the direction of Sister Mary Pius, dramatic coach at Mercy.

Tickets may be bought at Mercy or at the box office for $1.00.

Watching The Screen

Campobello

By RAY SMITH

A glimpse of history and a look at an individual who help make it, aided by others around him, is the stirring drama at the Paramount Theatre this week under the title of "SUNRISE AT CAMPOBELLO". Transferred from the stage to the screen for Adults and Adolescents this chapter from the life of Franklin Delano Roosevelt has lost none of its poignant and inspirational qualities, none of its humor and pathos.

Some may think this film is a political vehicle released at an opportune time. Everyone to his own opinion. It's true that the Democratic party comes up smelling like roses and a hard blow is struck at religious bigotry but, all in all, the film proves that victory can be won by anyone who puts his or her mind to it.

Forget politics. A man had infantile paralysis. He didn't hide being sorry for himself. In spite of his sickness he fought to be President of the United States. If this isn't a lesson for every man, woman, and child, then I'll eat my hat.

RALPH BELLAMY repeats his excellent stage performance as F.D.R. That he gives a warm, revealing, compassionate, yet always energetic portrayal, is hardly news anymore. He achieves a certain resemblance by skillful make-up and his voice and bearing do the rest in this four year span out of the Roosevelt biography.

The period is 1921, when polio shatters a joyous family vacation on the island retreat of Campobello, to 1924, when Roosevelt re-emerges in public to put in Al Smith's name as a presidential hopeful at the Democratic conventions and in the process lit his own political star.

It's hard to judge who should take the top honors for the best acting in this movie. Greer Garson, as F.D.R.'s wife, gives Ralph a run in the Academy Award race. Her performance could be studied as a wholly successful instance of how an actress can by technique and empathy get outside her own nature and into that of an actual living person.

To do this Miss Garson only slightly changed her face, mainly around the mouth. Her chief reliance in an astonishingly effective alteration of voice tone and her manner of speech. The result is a fascinating example of supreme acting.

"Sunrise" is a class motion picture in every way which should live long in the memory of viewers. Remember, it's at the Paramount Theatre.

A real melting pot of humanity is assembled at the Loew's Theatre for adults only in the deep drama, "LET NO MAN WRITE MY EPITAPH." It is a tale of a boy, the slums, and the people of a seamy section of Chicago. Burl Ives, Shelley Winters head the cast of this unpleasant story which is a bit too long in the telling. P.S. Somewhat on the depressing side, too.

ELMIRA — Kindly cut your eyes upward and read again the comments on "SUNRISE AT CAMPOBELLO". Then take yourself to see this excellent movie at the Elmira Theatre. It's tops.

MORNELL — Hurry right down to the Majestic Theatre to see a pair of A-1 movies. "UNDER TEN FLAGS" and "THE BOY WHO STOLE A MILLION." "Flags" is filled with action about cat-and-mouse hunting on the high seas between the British and the Germans. I'd like to see it again. KIDDLE ! ! Save your pennies for next Friday (Nov. 11th). The Majestic will have a wonderful kiddie show with good movies and a lot of cartoons. Can I come?
