Leadership Panel Held By Wayne Deanery Unit

Ontario — Seventy-five women of the Deanery attended a Panel on Leadership held at St. Mary's of the Lake, Ontario, on Tuesday, Nov. 15.

The recitation of Compline and Benediction preceded the panel.

PANEL MEMBERS were the Rev. E. Leo McMannus, Diocesan Moderator NCCW, Mrs. Theodore Strohmeyer, Diocesan Chairman of Organization and Development and Mrs. Lawrence Weis, vice-chairman, International Relations, D.C., NCCW. The Rev. William Gaynor, moderator of the Wayne Deanery was panel moderator.

Father Gaynor spoke on leadership and human relationships. He said that the Lay Apostolate was a means of preserving and extending the Faith. He used the recent convention of NCCW in Las Vegas as a good example of the power of the lay women and her hunger for more knowledge to be among the "influentials" of religion.

Leadership is the art of persuading someone to do something we want them to do, of acting out our convictions, of leading people to a goal in a mature and responsible fashion, Father Gaynor said.

MRS. STROHMEYER spoke on Leadership and Personality. A good leader must have a personality that attracts people and be willing to start with the smallest jobs in the parish, so that she will really understand what makes the organization tick, she said.

Mrs. Weis had Leadership and Techniques as her subject. She stressed that the first and most important technique was to know the type of people you are associating with (not just meeting). She suggested using the questionnaire to get all the available information on each member, (her likes and dislikes, abilities, talents, free time, etc.).

A question and answer period followed. It was concluded that all workers must have the proper motivation of working in the Lay Apostolate for the the extending of the Faith, for God's greater honor and glory.

A coffee hour followed the discussion.

Foreign Students' Status Discussed

Two Nazareth College students, Karolina Seidenbush, and Hildegard Werner, are representing the College at a Catholic Foreign Students Colloquium being held at Seton Hall University, East Orange, New Jersey, from Wednesday, Nov. 23, through Sunday, Nov. 27.

One hundred and ten foreign students from all over the world, and fifteen American Catholic students who are studying in the New York City-New Jersey area are present at this Colloquium, together with outstanding lay leaders and educators.

THEME of the Colloquium is "Unity in Cultural Diversity," devoted to the plan of God which demands the union of all men into one family. The political, social and economic problems confronted in the fulfillment of this plan, individual responsibility, and mutual cooperation, will be the subjects of panels and group discussions.

Since the delegates were gathered on Thanksgiving Day, a traditional American Thanksgiving dinner was planned for them as part of the social aspect of the conference. They have also been invited into family homes for supper and a social evening on Friday.

Miss Seidenbush and Miss Werner are both juniors at Nazareth College where they are members of the Fremin Mission Unit. The former is a native of Germany, and Miss Werner is from Austria. They are taking an active part in the discussions at the Colloquium.
