Talk It Over Moral Danger

By ANNE CULKIN

Dear Miss Calkin:
I live in a town where there are very few Catholics. I've got a buddy who is one of the brightest in the school and a good guy. But lately he has been saying that no church can tell a free American what should or shouldn't be seen in the movies.

Yesterday he claimed that the Legion of Decency was an example of how the Catholic Church tries to boss the way Catholics think. I know this is wrong, but I'm not sure how to answer him. What should I say?

Dear Miss Calkin:
There is surely nothing about a girl entertaining in her own home. This is one way of saying "thank you" to parents who have provided their daughter with an excellent setting for a social evening. By not trying to plan a program and refreshments can be fun. Let your girl go and you'll be surprised how much your friends will enjoy themselves.

Dear Miss Calkin:
What should a girl get home from a date?

Dear Miss Calkin:
My mother is always telling me to ask some of the boys and girls from my school and have a party at our home. My parents say we have lots of room in our house, and I don't like it. But most of the kids at school would rather go out. I would too! How can I get my mother to understand that?

Dear Miss Calkin:
There is no fixed hour that can be set for every occasion: the right time to be home depends on your program for a particular evening. If a girl goes out at seven o'clock without word to her parents, eight o'clock should see her late in the house. But when she's at a party that ends at midnight, a girl who arrives home shortly afterwards is early, even though the hour is late.

Golden Jubilee Marked By McCormacks

General - Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCormack of 200 N. North St. celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary an open house from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 20, at their home.

The actual anniversary date was Tuesday, Nov. 22.

The couple were honored by their children at an anniversary luncheon in the Town Pump in Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormack were married on Nov. 22, 1910 in St. Francis de Sales Rectory. The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. William A. McDonald, then pastor of the church.

THE ANNIVERSARY program opened with the family attendance at an anniversary Mass celebrated by the Rev. Edgar Edward K. Hill, V.F.W. pastor, in St. Francis de Sales church.

Mr. McCormack was employed for 21 years with the American Can Company and retired two years ago. He is a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Francis de Sales. Mr. McCormack is a member of the Rotary Society of the church.

The McCormacks have nine children living. Their family includes nine daughters. Mrs. Ruth Winters, Mrs. Elizabeth Gleason, Mrs. Margaret West, Mrs. Alice Stone, Mrs. Helen Switzer of Newark; and four sons, James McCormack of Geneva, John McCormack, Penn Yan, Francis McCormack of Geneva and Charles McCormack, Geneva.

A daughter, Mrs. Mary Beck and a son, Richard McCormack, Jr., are deceased. The couple has 34 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Current vacancies are in the grades of First Lieutenant and Captain for qualified lawyers up to 40 years of age. For these selected appointments will be made within the continental United States.

Watching The Screen Mike And Freckles

By RAY SMITH
Movies dealing with psychotically unexplained emotions are quite refreshing to see in comparison with witnessing horror, crime, and mixed-up farces. With very little to repeat from the Broadway of Rochester this week, may I bring to the attention of my readers two such enjoyable movies you should be watching for a year or two movie houses.

ALL CHILDREN should see "FOR THE LOVE OF MIKE," the tale of a little Mexican boy who loses his church and is marginalized through the mercy of his faith. The cast is not the most popular in Hollywood but it is just as good performance.

It is the story of a lad who races a horse - the leg of which he has needed - to win $2,000 to help his beloved priest erect a new church. (I know a few priests who would use a similar donation.) The warm setting in this Alcala production Richard Basehart as a young priest and the superb Arthur Shields as an old one.

Roddy McDowell plays a young boy who is a prodigy in inspecting a horse's leg. (The last time I went to my doctor, he didn't mind either.) So well in this fine mixture of action, comedy and drama as juvenile D. A. B. B. and you've got something remarkable.
