Golden Jubilee Marked By McCormacks

Genera — Mr. and Mrs. Richard McCormack of 250 W. North St. celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at an open house from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 20, at their home.

The actual anniversary date was Tuesday, Nov. 22.

The couple were honored by their children and anniversary dinner in the town of Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. McCormack were married on Nov. 22, 1917, in St. Francis de Sales Rectory. The ceremony was performed by the late Rev. William A. McDonald, then pastor of the church.

THE ANNIVERSARY program opened with the family's attendance at an anniversary Mass celebrated by Rev. William A. McDonald, pastor in St. Francis de Sales Rectory.

Mr. McCormack was employed for 21 years with the American Can Company and retired two years ago. He is a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Francis de Sales. Mrs. McCormack is a member of the Rosary Society of the church.

The McCormacks have nine children living. Their family includes nine daughters. Mrs. Ruth Wilton, Mrs. Elizabeth Graham, Mrs. Margaret Welch, Mrs. Anne Stiles of Geneva; Mrs. Helen Spencer of Newark; and four sons, James McCormack of Geneva, John McCormack, Penn Van Franzen of Geneva, and Charles McCormack, Geneva.

A daughter, Mrs. Mary Brock and a son, Richard McCormack Jr., are deceased. The couple has 34 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Watching The Screen

Mike And Freckles

ALL CHILDREN should see "FOR THE LOVE OF MIKE" for the tale of a little Mexican boy who loves his church and animals and brings them into the service of his faith. The cast may not be the most popular figures in Hollywood but give just as good performances.

It is the story of a lad who races a horse — the leg of which he has mended — to win $1000 to help his beloved priest erect a new church. It has a few priests who could use a similar donation. The warm setting in this A-1 film includes Richard Basehart as a young priest, the superb Anthony Quinn as an old one.

Ruddy Stu Erwin plays a superbly general practitioner who is not above the practice of inspecting a horse's leg. (The last time I went to my doctor, he didn't mind either.) Stu will in this fine mixture of comedy, drama and the new variable D in a B-1 B-2 and you've got something real.

Talk It Over

Moral Danger

By ANNE CULKIN

Dear Miss Culklin: I live in a town where there are very few Catholics. I've got a buddy who is one of the brightest in the school and a good guy. But lately he has been saying that no church can call itself an American what should or shouldn't be seen in the movies.

Yesterday he claimed that the Legion of Decency was one example of how the Catholic Church tries to boss the Catholics. I know this is wrong, but I'm not sure how to answer him. What should I say?

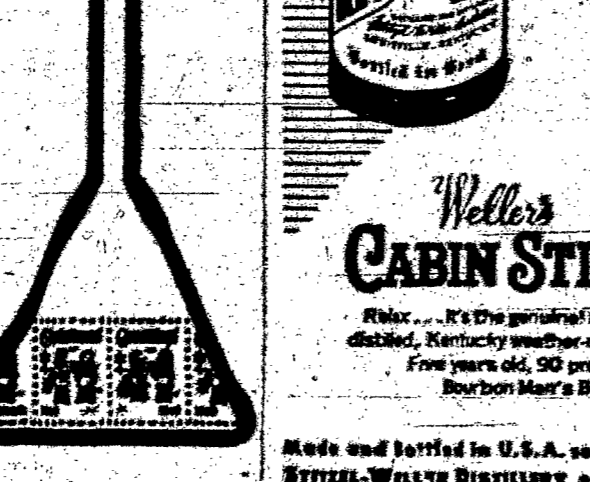

Dear Emmett R.: Few Americans generally know that their free choice is sometimes restricted. They can drink poison, jump off a cliff or play with burning coals if they so choose, but mostly they don't.

Your buddy was once a helpless baby. Did his mother prevent him from swallowing poison? You bet she did. Similarly, the Catholic Church protects her millions of children of all ages from moral dangers. That there are few, suggestive and vulgar films everyone knows. The Church, through the Legion of Decency, rates movies, indicating those that might be morally harmful for children, teenagers, adults, etc. Membership is voluntary. Several Protestant churches also rate films for members.

Now if your buddy really believes that free will can only be exercised by ignoring the guidance and wisdom of God and man, leave him alone. He'll learn, and we hope not too late.

Dear Miss Culklin: My mother is always telling me to ask some of the boys and girls from my school and have a party at our home. My parents say we have lots of room for liquor, and I don't see it. But most of the kids at school would rather go out. I would too! How can I get my mother to understand this?
