Mercy Students List Original Christmas Play

An original Christmas play, "Bethlehem Forever," will be presented by the students of Our Lady of Mercy High School, Thursday, Dec. 23, at 8:30 p.m. in the school auditorium. The play, directed by Sister Mary Plus, is the school's annual Christmas gift to the parents and friends of Mercy.

A senior, Josephine Marinero, will play the role of Our Blessed Mother. Cast in a major role also as the Angel at the Crib is senior, Suzanne Klingler.

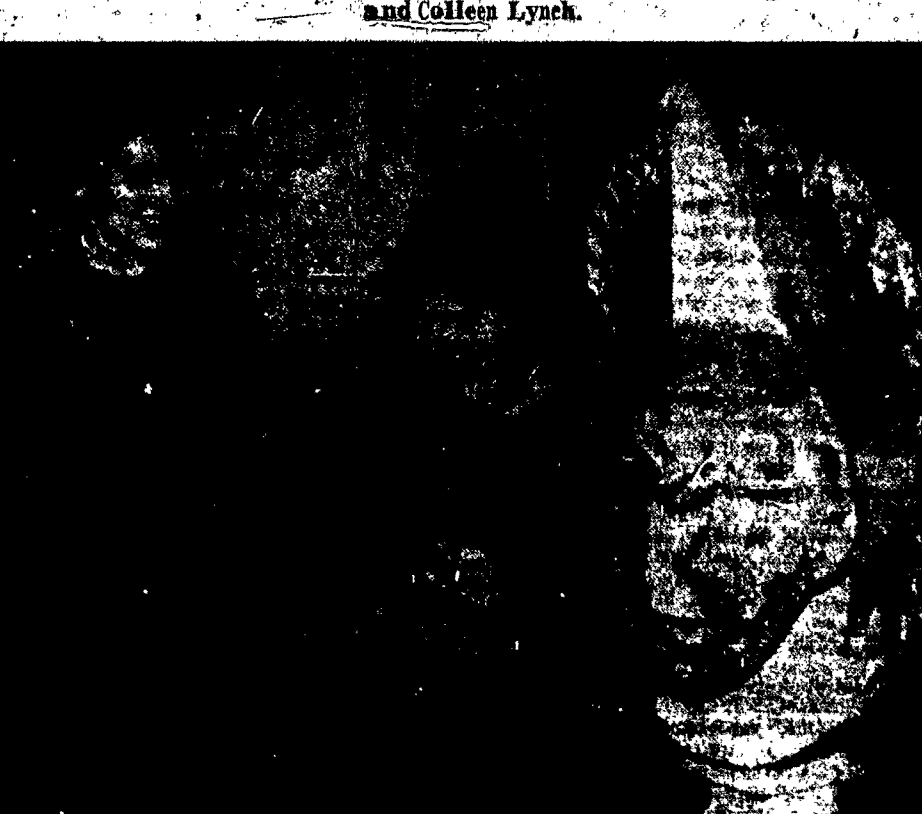

The Glee Club, singing hymns and carols, will form the traditional procession during the Nativity Scene.

Based upon the idea that Christ is born anew in the hearts of men every day, the play includes scenes depicting His spiritual rebirth throughout the ages.

St. Monica will be played by Bonnie Kaemerer while Julie Tiersman and Sue Timmons are cast as Brigid. Kathy Ashenbough portrays Joan of Arc and Marian Mullen enacts Tezucitha. The role of a Mercy girl will be played by Kathy Doran, and her mother by Pat Goyette.

IN THE male cast are Sam Desiderio, Jim Kalaska, Bob Kalaska, Jim Gagnan, Al Genuelle, Jim Connor, Dan Lanza, David McMillen, Paul Knipper, Frank Larson, Tom Meek and John Marshall.

FINISHED MASKS are admired by Miss Patricia Walsh, instructor in Art, at Nazareth and Mrs. Robert J. Bride, director of "The King and I."

College Project To Aid Musical

Sophomore art majors at Nazareth College and Rochester's Music Theatre have joined forces for the latter's forthcoming production of Rodgers and Hammerstein's musical "The King and I" slated for the Auditorium Theatre Dec. 30 and 31.

An elaborate ballet sequence called "The Small House of Uncle Thomas" demands the use of a number of Siamese and difficult-to-produce masks.

MUSIC THEATRE will get its masks — and, in creating them, Nazareth's art students will receive credit in their composition class.

The students, under the direction of art instructor Miss Patricia Walsh, are making the masks out of paper mache, yarn, old jewelry, pipe cleaners, ribbon and other display and trimming materials.
