FATHER'S DAY — The one-day-a-year chance most of us take to tell father he's head man! Say it with an adjustable razor, something to make father a real smoothie. And there's a special Father's Day bonus of Right Guard deodorant in the package. It's worth cracking open any piggy bank for this bit of treasure. Only one dollar and ninety-five cents plus tax at any drug, food, tobacco or variety store.

Thru The Looking Glass Father's Day

By LOUISE WILSON

(Louise Wilson, Women's Editor of WHAM, is heard twice daily at 9:10 and 10:05 A.M.)

The merry month of June, all budgets. Here's the biggest, unlike the dreary month of May, ranks high in special celebrations. In fact, the month of June ranks above all others for celebrating two important events — graduations and weddings. What's more, Father's Day, the one day in 365 when "Dad is King" also falls in June.

THIS IS JUNE 1961. According to the projection of Modern Bride Magazine: 200,000 radiant brides will win husbands. According to the Office of Education, Washington, D.C.: 410,000 college students will earn bachelor's degrees. According to the figures supplied by the Census Bureau: 50,000,000 fathers and grandfathers will be honored on Father's Day — June 18th.

Certainly the man who pays and pays the bills for all the many gift occasions during the year is entitled to his day with appropriate gift-remembrances of same. And most certainly, the gifts he receives shouldn't turn up later on the charge accounts he has to settle. This just isn't cricket! Nor is it necessary.

IT'S TRITE (but just as true) to say the thought behind the gift is what delight him most. But surely, Dad's appreciation will be the more that he knows the youngsters bought presents for him with money they saved from allowances or did extra chores to earn.

At Our House

Side Glance

By MARY TINLEY DALY

All of a sudden, and unseasonably late, it's time to "convert" as the Head of the House calls our transition from winter to summer living. From now until late September our living quarters are enlarged by that small but frequently used seven by 14 foot space off the living room, the side porch.

Some summer — "when we get organized" — transition will be gradual and graceful. In the Utopian year, the porch will have been cleaned, painted and waxed in early April. House plants will have been transferred to their summer home in the flower boxes. By late May profuse bloom will greet us when we are ready to "convert."

Further impediment to side porch pleasure was a broken chair: "Couldn't fix it, Ma'am. Somebody leaned back on it just one time too many."

At the time, we couldn't bear to throw it out. It had been the chair our Johnny had used (and abused) for years. Times without number we had warned The Exhuberant One that he was breaking up the furniture. At each warning, he would lower his growing weight back into position. Over and over that chair had been repaired. Now it has had it. Reluctantly, we cast it into the pile with the Christmas wreath, the Halloween candle—for the trashman.

With a general heave-ho from the side porch of its catch-all properties, we prepare our summer family "living room."

The three months upcoming will be leisurely, if they go according to pattern, with many happy hours spent on that seven by 14 space.

Come and join us during these summer evenings?

A CHILD SHALL LEAD

This story, we think, is too good to keep to ourselves. Last fall the youngsters at Hamagrael Elementary School, a public school near Albany, N.Y., heard about Thahn, a little girl in Vietnam. Thahn needed food, clothing, and medicine—so the youngsters at Hamagrael decided to "adopt" her. One class collected and sold old newspapers to a junk dealer, some of the girls made pot holders and decorations which sold for $1.40; the sixth grade began to publish and sell a school newspaper. The result? As of March, the youngsters at Hamagrael had raised the $180 needed to support Thahn for one year, plus $45 more to sponsor her for a second year. Not one penny, incidentally, came from the children's parents or from "weekly allowances."

WHICH REMINDS US, A splendid way to teach the meaning of vocations is to have the children in a particular class "adopt" a seminarian or Sister-in-training. The seminarian will write to the class occasionally, telling about his studies and his work. The class will pride themselves in the fact that they are helping to educate "their own" Priest or Sister. Right now PETER MINISCI and ANTHONY PONSIO, who are studying for the priesthood at the GREEK PONTIFICAL COLLEGE in ROME, need sponsors. So too, PAUL MANAKKATT and KURIAKOSE CHERUVALLY at ST. JOSEPH'S SEMINARY in ALWAYE, INDIA. The cost of educating each of these is only $100 a year, a little more than 25¢ a day. To train a Sister for two years costs $300. These Sisters-in-training in INDIA need sponsors: SISTER CYRIL and SISTER ANNUNCIATA, of the SISTERS OF THE DESTITUTE in ALWAYE, and SISTER MONICA and SISTER BASIL of the ADORATION SISTERS in KORATTY. It costs so little to obtain so much!—when you help to educate a Priest or Sister. Will you help? We need your help desperately. Write to us.

STIPENDS The offering you make to the Priest who celebrates Mass for your intention is, for our missionaries, practically their only means of support. The Masses you request are offered promptly, in mission chapels in the Near and Middle East. We can also arrange for GREGORIAN MASSES, Mass each day for 30 days without interruption.

FATHER DAMIEN, THE LEPER The proposal to place a statue of FATHER DAMIEN in the Capitol Building in Washington reminds us that our missionaries are still caring for lepers. You can help by joining our DAMIEN LEPER CLUB. The dues are a prayer a day, $1.00 a month.

PLEASE REMEMBER GOD AND HIS MISSIONS IN YOUR LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT.
