'Less Feminine' Trend Seen In Current Styles

Cincinnati — (NC) — The tendency of women to become "less feminine" drew sharp criticism here from the president of the National Women's Retreat Movement.

Miss Clementine M. Stein of Bremen, Ind., acknowledged: "I am mortally afraid of the apathy and indifference of our Catholic people in regard to the things of God, their appreciation of values..." She spoke to some 250 delegates from Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky at a Midwest regional rally of the NLRM.

Miss Stein emphasized that "the nature of woman is to give."

"BY HER NATURE, she is a teacher," Miss Stein continued. "She is compassionate and she is contemplative. In the married state, this giving life is realized in childbirth. In the case of the single woman, this must be found in the spiritual life."

"But give life she must, or have frustration. The giving of life to others means a parting with one's own self... a sacrificing."

Love of God, Miss Stein said, is more than "a series of pious desires." It requires "the reality of actual service — visiting the sick, feeding the hungry, clothing the naked."

Deploing the "loss of the feminine" in woman, Miss Stein was especially critical of "how little concern" many women have for modesty in dress.

"But if the picture we see of the world today is a frightening one," she said, "it also provides a great challenge. We, as women, true to our deepest nature, have the unique opportunity to redeem this situation. We do have it within our power to heal this humanity..."

Indian Headress Fire Engine, Uniforms Sought

If you're cleaning out your attic or basement, keep an eye open for an Indian headress, baseball uniform and 1910 fire engine. East Rochester Town and Country Musicals costume and prop departments have need of these and other items for this summer's shows.

As part of producer Barry Tuttle's plan, according to a spokesman, to make every Town and Country musical a polished, distinctive production, a costume department has been added this year. New York designer Ann Roesgen, who recently created costumes for off-Broadway's musical, "The Tattooed Countess" will be in charge of the department. Miss Roesgen also has been associated with Skaneateles Lyric Circus and Paper Mill Playhouse, Milburn, N.J.

Most of Town and Country's costumes will be made here, but some wardrobe essentials will have to be rented unless local attics yield the required items. Twenty Indian headresses are needed for "Annie Get Your Gun", nine adult baseball uniforms for "Damn Yankees" and an assortment of men's and women's 1900 vintage evening clothes for "Take Me Along."

If you have any of these things and would like to either sell them or become an honorary member of Town and Country Musicals' costumes department, call Dudley 1-3189.

Town and Country Musicals opens its season June 26, with Jacqueline James in "Annie Get Your Gun."

Religion Blamed

Moscow — (RNS) — Moscow Radio, replying to a United States listener who asked what was the Communist attitude toward religion, said "we consider all religions to be basically reactionary."

"Be it Mohammedanism or Christianity," the station said, "they all preach essentially the same thing: be patient with life on earth, accept all and everything, turn your left cheek to the man who struck you on your right cheek, for he will go to hell and you to the heavenly kingdom."

"Religion is against men fighting for their freedom. It has always opposed education and many great scientists were burned at the stake by the Catholics. In the beginning, Christianity played an important role, and at times even a progressive one, in the history of mankind, it has, through the ages, become a tool of reactionaries the world over."

OTHER AREA winners included nine year old Elwyn N. Chadwick, RD No. 3 Dundee, who won third prize in the Perch classification; Herbert Knapp, Elmira, third prize Lake Trout classification and Ferris G. Sykes, Elmira, first prize winner in the Walleyed Pike division.

Also sharing in the May prizes were H. Clark Guthrie, Geneva and William Hutten, Jr., of East Rochester who won first and second prizes respectively in the Pickerel division, and William Olmstead of Wolcott and Paul Oberdorf of Canandaigua, top winners in the Rock Bass classification.

The Louis A. Wehle Fishing Contest, now in its sixteenth year, runs until October 31, with monthly prizes for the largest fish in each of twelve eligible classifications. Grand prize winners, with additional cash awards, are made after the close of the contest.

Summer Stock

T & C In Full Swing

By Suzanne Wigg

It looks like a glorious summer for theatre lovers in the Rochester area. Our Town and Country Musicals in East Rochester are in full swing as costumes are being whipped up, sets are moving from the drawing board to the battens and the cast members are sizzling with enthusiasm as they run through their various paces. Young producer Barry Tuttle is leading off the season with one of the most popular musical comedies of the American theatre-going audience, "Annie Get Your Gun."

"Annie" is the story of buckskin-clad, rifle-toting Annie Oakley who wanders out of the backwoods, ready and able to "shoot it out" with the world. Once discovered as the dead-end delight that she is, she tours the world, hitting the mark wherever she goes. But with handsome young Frank Butler she enjoys less than total victory. She wins the match but loses her heart.

In telling the story, the show treats its audiences to all the delights of a "Wild West Show" including cowboys, covered wagons and lots of Indian Chiefs. The musical score by Irving Berlin is a permanent constellation in the galaxy of American songs. It includes "Doin' What Comes Naturally," "You Can't Get A Man With A Gun," "They Say It's Wonderful," "I Got The Sun In The Morning," "My Defenses Are Down" and of course "There's No Business Like Show Business."

Jackie James, the blockbuster well remembered for her performance in last year's T & C production of "Call Me Madam," will play Annie. John Fredricks of stage and screen fame will play the Frank Butler role.

"Annie Get Your Gun" will open on Monday, June 26 and run through to Saturday, July 1, with a Wednesday Matinee at 2:00 p.m. and a Saturday Twilight performance at 5 p.m. in addition to the regular evening performances.

Producers Omar K. Lerman and Dorothy Chernuck of Corning Summer Theatre have announced that their opening show will be the pulsating and poignant musical-drama, "West Side Story." With music by Leonard Bernstein and choreography conceived by Jerome Robbins, this modern day Romeo and Juliet story has been hailed as one of the major achievements of the American musical theatre. "West Side Story" will open at Corning on Friday, June 23 and run for ten days, closing Sunday evening, July 2.

North Tonawanda's "Melody Fair" summer tent will open the season with that rip-roaring western — "Destry Rides Again" — announces producer Louis Fisher. Tom Destry's ride has been a long one, both chronologically and geographically. The original Max Brand story with a unique twist — a sagebrush hero who did not believe in gunplay — was first adapted into a motion picture in 1931. In 1939, a new, recast and refurbished, "Destry Rides Again" thundered across the nation's silver screen.

On April 23rd, 1959, it opened on Broadway as a musical comedy starring Andy Griffith and Dolores Gray. In a sense "Destry" shares its subject matter with a number of famous musicals: "Girl Crazy," "Oklahoma," "Annie Get Your Gun" and "Paint Your Wagon," all deal with aspects of the West. It's fresh off Broadway and something new in horse operas.

Indianapolis-Type Races Scheduled

The Indianapolis-type sprint car drivers, sometimes known as the "rim runners of the high banks," will be at the Monroe County Fairgrounds Saturday, June 17.

This is "Race Week" at the Fairgrounds with regular stock events slated Friday night and drag races Wednesday night.

About 25 of the pilots of the open-cockpit machines are expected to take part in Saturday night's program, sanctioned by the All-American Racing Club. On the schedule are a four-lap trophy race for the four drivers with the best time in time trials, three heats of eight laps each, a "semi-feature" of 12 laps and a main event of 30 laps.

The sprint drivers and cars are considered just one step below the men and machines who compete annually at the 500-mile Indianapolis classic. In fact many of the drivers tried for this year's 500 but did not survive the qualifier.

The drivers are sometimes called "rim runners" because they regularly compete on the high-banked tracks that require a speed of 100 miles an hour just to stay on the banked turns. The cars themselves are a bit smaller than the regular Indianapolis racers but many of Dare Devils will put on a show with 20 different acts, which will consist of new cars and acceleration necessary in sprint motorcycles June 29 at 8 p.m. races.
