'Tired Minds' Advise Birth Control

Vatican City—(RNS)—Artificial birth control to cope with the so-called problem of over-population is "a solution of tired minds," the Vatican Radio declared in a broadcast interpreting the section of Pope John XXIII's encyclical, Mater et Magistra, dealing with this matter.

Actually, the station said, the problem is not one of over-population but of under-production as well as of human selfishness.

BIRTH CONTROL, it said, is also "the solution of the faithless, of those who do not believe in the inexhaustible resources of nature and the inventive and creative capacity of man, of those who do not believe in progress."

Furthermore, the station added, it is "a solution of misers, of egoists, of those who do not wish to divide their bread with others, and who prefer to invest their money in the production of instruments of ruin and of death. It is a solution of base minds, who prefer death, and toil to jam up the precious streams of life."

The Vatican station said the real solution — "not new, but as old as the world" — is to ensure that all people have a share in the production and distribution of consumer goods.

The only problem, it stressed, lay in the fact that "men have always thought too much of themselves to distribute their wealth." It said "history records that the more violent of these men have often advocated and practiced the extermination of continuous populations."

"The 2,000,000,000 men alive today," the Vatican Radio continued, "are not fed any worse than the hundreds of millions who lived 2,000 or 3,000 years ago. The heart of the problem lies, not in over-population, but in under-production."

"Untapped natural resources are immense. Scientists prove that nature is not exhausted and that there is enough available material to feed all mankind—today and in the future."

Related to the possibilities of nature, the station stressed, are "the possibilities of mankind—man's intelligence and the power of his will."

"The solution," it said, "lies in a renewed scientific and technical effort by man to deepen and extend his power over nature. The progress already made in these fields reveals unlimited horizons. The problem is not to be solved by impoverishing the earth of the greatest of its riches — the life and intelligence of man."

The Vatican Radio said this was the essence of the proposal set forth in Mater et Magistra.

"It is a solution," it said, "which respects the law of life and the order established by Almighty God. It is the answer of strong men who have faith in the riches of nature and have the energy of those who believe in progress, of those who will share their daily bread and help others toward the technical development which they need for their livelihood."

"It is a solution of those who do not shrink from sacrifice and struggle to discover new fountains of riches for the triumph of the dignity and the mission of man in this world."

Three Kerry Maids

Englewood Cliffs, N.J. — (RNS) — With broad Irish smiles, three daughters of Margaret and the late Patrick Lynch of Kerry, Ireland, get together for a reunion at the novitiate of the Sisters of St. Joseph, Englewood Cliffs, N.J. Raised in the devout Catholic atmosphere of a large Irish family, the Sisters entered the order in Ireland and are now in hospital and welfare work in New Jersey. They are, from left, Sister Patricia Aidan, administrator of St. James Hospital, Newark, N.J.; Sister Marie de Pazzi, superior of St. Joseph's Village, a home for dependent children in Rockleigh, N.J.; and Sister Antonius, student at Holy Name Hospital's School of Nursing.

Lightning Kills Nun

Quebec — (NC) — An 83-year-old nun was killed by lightning during a storm as she was closing the window of her room.

Sister St. Elizabeth had been a member of the Sisters of Our Lady of Perpetual Help for 63 years. She was making a retreat at the motherhouse at St. Damien de Bellechasse and was returning to her room from the chapel when the storm broke.

Reds Jam Encyclical

London — (RNS) — Considerably increased jamming of the Vatican Radio was observed as soon as the station began broadcasting in Iron Curtain languages — installments of Pope John XXIII's encyclical, Mater et Magistra.

The jamming extended even to the Polish-language broadcasts, which hitherto had been almost free of interference.

Stations jamming the Vatican Radio broadcasts were traced to the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia and Hungary. There were no immediate reports of attempts to jam broadcasts in West European languages.
