

Mexicans Warned

Mexico City — (RNS) — A Catholic bishop's pastoral letter calling for social justice and the implementation of Christian social doctrine in opposition to communism is being widely distributed throughout Mexico.

The letter, written by Bishop Adalberto Almeida Merino of Tu Tulancingo, warned against Communist attacks upon religion and noted that Mexico is very much desired by the Reds because of its importance in Latin America.

He lives with his wife and two children at 195 Fairhaven Rd.

FIVE HUNDRED YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE CHURCH — The group of Sisters of St. Joseph pictured above each represents twenty-five years of service to the church. They entered the Community together, took their final vows together, and are still intact and active as a "band" after a quarter century. Shown at their silver jubilee reunion at Nazareth College are: standing (l. to r.) Sister Marie Perpetua, head of the business department, Mt. Carmel High School, Auburn; Sister Mary Elizabeth, reading consultant for the Sisters of St. Joseph Community; Sister Helen Roberta, principal of Sacred Heart School, Perkinsville; Sister Albertus, housemother at St. Joseph's Villa; Sister John Margaret, instructor at Holy Rosary School, Rochester; Sister Jamesetta, director of elementary teacher education, Nazareth College; Sister Anne Maurice, director of nursing education, St. Joseph's Hospital, Elmira; Sister M. Evelyn, head of the departments of English and Speech, St. Agnes High School and member of the extension staff of Nazareth College; Sister Mary Paul, principal of St. Anthony of Padua School, Rochester; Sister Joseph Catherine, principal of St. Bridget's School, Rochester; Sister Petrina, instructor at St. Joseph's School, Wayland; Sister Mary Dennis, instructor at Immaculate Conception School, Ithaca. (Sitting) Sister Cecilia; Sister Ambrosine, instructor at St. Joseph's, Wayland; Sister Francis Camilla, instructor at St. Mary's, Auburn; Sister Mary Donald, attached to Motherhouse staff; Sister Jane Joseph, principal of Sacred Heart Cathedral School; Sister Anna Gonzaga, assistant principal and instructor at Our Lady of Lourdes School, Brighton and member of the extension staff of Nazareth College; Sister Imelda, instructor at St. Anthony's School, Elmira; and Sister Ruth Agnes, head of the department of mathematics at St. Agnes High School and member of the extension staff of Nazareth College. Missing when the picture was taken was Sister Benedict, instructor at St. Mary's School, Waterloo. (Martin Wahl Photo)

20 St. Joseph Sisters Mark Jubilee

"Five hundred years of service to the Church." That's the way 20 members of the 1936 "band" of the Sisters of St. Joseph would like to sum up the past twenty-five years of their lives — and few other groups are so qualified to make that statement.

Catholic War Vets List National Meet

Atlantic City — The 26th annual national convention of the Catholic War Veterans of the United States will open at the Ambassador Hotel here August 15, continuing through August 20.

This year's convention, which the Department of New Jersey is host, will be dedicated to the 571 nursing sisters who served during the Civil War among the wounded of the Union Army.

SPECIAL PLAQUES will be presented to the more than 20 communities of men who served as battlefield nurses under the direction of the Surgeon General of the U.S. Army just a century ago.

Crescent W. Castaldo, past New Jersey department commander, executive chairman of the large convention committee, announced that among the highlights of the sessions will be the convention Mass scheduled for August 19 in Convention Hall, following the traditional parade along the Boardwalk.

BUSINESS SESSIONS will be held August 16, 17, 18 and 19, with election of a new slate of national officers slated for the final day.

Laureate honoring the national commander, national chaplains and the national auxiliary president, will also highlight the convention days, with prominent speakers of national stature slated to address the guests.

This year's convention is geared to include a family vacation working on the theme, "The Family That Plays Together Stays Together." Business meetings of the convention will be scheduled in the mornings and early evenings to permit the delegates to spend the afternoons with their families on the beach or touring the convention city.

Special programs are being provided for the wives of delegates, including fashion shows and special tours.

Twenty-five years ago, on July 4, 1936, 20 young women received the habit of their order. In 1941 those same twenty made their final vows. And this month the group, still intact and active, met on the Nazareth College campus to celebrate their silver jubilee.

How has the past quarter century been spent?

Put very simply: serving God and His Church. In many ways that service has been rendered in ways invisible to the public eye. Since virtually all of the Sisters have spent a great part of the past 25 years teaching in area schools, however, a portion of that service is known and appreciated by a legion of parents and students.

Also prominent in educational circles are Sister M. Jamesetta, dean of elementary teacher education, Nazareth College; Sister Mary Elizabeth, reading consultant for the Sisters of Saint Joseph; Sister Albertus, who was this year named housemother at St. Joseph's Villa after many years of teaching in elementary schools; and Sister Anne Maurice, director of nursing education at St. Joseph's Hospital, Elmira.

Sister M. Evelyn and Sister Anna Gonzaga, assistant principal of Our Lady of Lourdes School, Brighton, are also members of the extension staff of the elementary teacher education division of Nazareth College.

OF THE 13 Sisters who are members of the faculty of area elementary schools, four are principals: Sister Helen Roberta, Sacred Heart School, Perkinsville; Sister Mary Paul, St. Anthony of Padua School, Rochester; Sister Joseph Catherine, St. Bridget's School, Rochester; Sister Jane Joseph,

Rites In Singhalese

Colombo — (RNS) — In his capacity as Apostolic Delegate to Ceylon, Archbishop James R. Knox, Papal Internuncio to India, has given his official sanction to a Singhalese translation of the Roman ritual used in the administration of some Sacraments and various blessings.

The translation of the rites into Singhalese, the language of most Ceylonese, was ordered nearly 10 years ago by the Holy See. A counterpart of the translation in Tamil, the major language of Northern Ceylon, will be issued soon for the Jaffna diocese which covers the northern tip of the island.
