Choppy Capuchin Blessing on Cayuga

Strong winds and choppy waters didn't daunt Cayuga Lake boatmen who sailed their vessels to the Capuchin Fathers' headquarters for a blessing ceremony Sunday, August 6. Capuchin Father Harold Higgins gave the Church's blessing while some boats sang hymns. One who didn't hazard the lake trip attended the rite ashore.

Sonny Liston In Toughest Fight

Denver — (RNS) — A boxer and said he plans to live here! Among the charges was in trouble turns to the church until he can get his personal personation of a police officer for comfort and direction. Quashed at first, the charges have been reinstated.

Sonny Liston, rated by most experts as the only logical contender for Floyd Patterson's heavyweight crown, is shown here having a meal with the Rev. Edward P. Murphy, S.J., pastor, in the rectory of St. Ignace Loyola church in Denver. With Father Murphy's help, Liston hopes to purge himself of his many troubles with the law.

Once barred from a state title shot because a Senate committee charged his contract was held by racketeers, Liston, the hardest-hitting heavyweight in the world hopes to work his way back with the advice and assistance of Father Murphy.

Student Loan Aid Headed By Saunders

Jack A. Saunders is now assistant secretary of Columbia Banking Saving and Loan Association with duties as head of Columbia's new Educational Assistance Loan Department, Philip M. Liebschutz, president, announced today. In addition to this new assignment, Saunders will continue his responsibilities in the Property Improvement and Mortgage Department.

Educational Assistance Loans are Columbia's newest service and are developed through the New York State Education Assistance Corporation. Purpose of this plan is to provide low cost, long term, delayed repayment loans to qualified students.

Legal residents of New York State may apply for these loans which under New York State law provides for repayment after a student ends his study.

Saunders, who resides at 2128 Monroe Avenue, formerly resided in Hornell before he joined Columbia.

Students Attend Theatre Meet

Nineteen Mercy students interested in Dramatics are among area representatives attending the Silver Jubilee Convention of the National Catholic Theatre Conference in New York City, Aug. 23-26, according to Sister Mary Pius, dramatics moderator at Mercy.

At an Awards Luncheon, the Rev. Urban Nagle, playwright and director, is among those scheduled to receive N.C.T.C. honors.

Among the juniors, seniors and graduates, attending are Mary Barrett, Mary Elizabeth Barrett, Linda Kilt, Sue Klingler, JoAnn Madigan, Marian Mullen, Carol Ruppel, Diane Ferguson, Rosemary Gottry, Joanne Hargreaves, Kathy McKenna, Donna Penna, Diane Schneider, Laurie Waldorf, Kathy Ashenbarg, Donna Dyminski, Pat Farrell, Sheila McConville and Rene Ermatinger. Sister Pius and Sister Mary Dismas will accompany the group.

PROFESSIONALS of stage and screen will conduct the sessions, discussions and workshops at the Sheraton-Atlantic and the Staller-Hilton Hotels, convention headquarters, according to Sister Immaculate, chairman, and also executive secretary of N.C.T.C.

Convention highlights include a session entitled "Mary Martin Meets the Teenagers."

The Mercy girls will participate in a Talent Show for Teenagers, doing a takeoff on dramatic portrayals. Convention goers are also scheduled to see Camelot, The Sound of Music, and at the American Shakespeare Festival in Stratford, Connecticut, As You Like It.

A Pontifical High Mass is scheduled for convention delegates at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Aug. 25, at 10 a.m. The Rev. Gabriel Stapleton, S.D.S., president of the N.C.T.C., will be the celebrant.

At an Awards Luncheon, the Rev. Urban Nagle, playwright and director, is among those scheduled to receive N.C.T.C. honors.

KEYNOTE speaker at the opening session will be the Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Dougherty, president of Seton Hall University. At the closing banquet, the Rev. Robert Gannon, S.J., former president of Fordham University will speak.

Among those scheduled to appear on panels and conduct sessions are the following: Howard Lindsay, Russell Crouse, Emmet Lavery, Gian Pace of Children's Theater; Barton, the pantomimist; Jo Mielziner, designer; Alvin Cohen, representative of the Paramount

Hallahan-James Nuptials Said
Coming — Youngstown was the place of marriage at 11:30 last Saturday morning of Miss Janet Irene James, homemaker, and James Joseph Hallahan of this city. Mr. Hallahan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Donald Hallahan of 331 Woodview Ave.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Benjamin James of 522 Second St., Youngstown, and the late Mr. James.

St. Bernard's Church was the scene of the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Andrew Pronobis, who also celebrated the Nuptial Mass.

Miss Janet Gordon of Delmar, was maid of honor; Miss Janet Esposito of New Rochelle was bridesmaid.

Robert H. Hallahan of Arlington, Va., was best man while ushering guests were James Donegan of Corning and Neil Kennedy of Blossburg, Pa.

The bride is a graduate of Lewiston-Porter Central School at Youngstown and New York State College of Education at Oneonta. She is a homemaker and teacher at CFA.

The groom was graduated from Corning Free Academy and attended Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo. He is employed by Ward and Moore, consulting engineers.

On their return from their honeymoon, the couple will reside on Coopers Rd., Painted Post.

Nan Heinrich Ballet Classes To Re-Open
Miss Nan Heinrich announces the re-opening of her School of Ballet dancing. Classes are already forming in the various branches of this school. For several seasons these classes have been conducted not only on Saturday mornings downtown, but also at the Twelve Corners as well as Penfield, Browncroft, Atlantic Avenue and Landring Road areas.

The mothers in these sections find it convenient to have lessons in their neighborhoods, thus eliminating transporting the children to the downtown studio.

Miss Heinrich is a master teacher having been trained at the Metropolitan Opera and Chicago Opera Ballet schools under the teacher who trained such ballerinas as Maria Tallchief and Rosella Hightower, also in the foremost schools of America and Europe.

In her classes careful attention is paid by Miss Heinrich herself, to the physical development of each child as well as the correct ballet technique which is the basis for all dancing. She points with pride at the "lovely figures, physical well being and academic scholarship material which has been developed in my students."

At the close of last season Miss Heinrich presented over 100 of her students in a most successful recital which included four ballets written and choreographed by her. In one ballet the character of Peter Pan was danced most effectively by her student Laurie Platt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Platt of Millford Rd.

In her correspondence with Mary Martin, Miss Heinrich mentioned it, whereupon Miss Martin sent a picture of herself in the costume of Peter Pan for Laurie and a very nice letter in which she told her to "be sure to grow a little too" which is exactly what she does in the ballet.

'Music Man' Slates Run
