Cooks and Chefs

By MARY TINLEY DALY

(Mary Tinley Daly is on vacation. To make her vacation complete, the Head of the House—also on vacation—is substituting for her this week.)

Poets, artists, cooks and chefs are born, not made. If there is any doubt about this, as far as cooks are concerned, we have living proof. Her name is Mary Tinley Daly. Never took a lesson—she cooks by ear.

Mommie is the only one in the family who really relishes veal cutlets. Knowing this, she holds back; has them rarely. Then she does a job in the culinary department to make all hands—and mouths—reach for her piece of resistance. Yummy!

However, the other day as the Lady of the House brought a huge cutlet from the refrigerator there was a murmur of protest, like the under-breath growling on the East Side of the Brandenburg Gate, in Berlin.

"Mommie," said Ginny, leading the pack, "can't you cook a veal cutlet some other way, instead of as you always do?"

CHALLENGED. Mommie found a way, and pronto. She got out the Scimitar, the Big Egyptian carving knife, chopped the cutlet into bite-size pieces, put them in a bag loaded with flour, salt, pepper, oregano, then shook 'em up. Taken out, she placed the pieces in her electric frying pan.

A can of tomatoes, boiled down to pure juice, smothered

CAN LEPROS BE CURED?

Despite its name, GREEN GARDENS is a place we don't want you to see. GREEN GARDENS is a leper colony in SHERTAL-LAY, SOUTH INDIA... Americans who have been there came home horrified, sick at heart. They had seen for themselves the world's ugliest disease. They saw boys and girls, mothers and fathers—sometimes entire families—who had lost their fingers and toes, hands and feet. They saw hopelessness, dismay, suffering, in the eyes of little children... It makes you wish Our Lord were on earth today to cure the lepers miraculously, as He cured them in the Holy Land. It makes you thank God for the priests and Sisters who day in, day out, live with the lepers—sacrifice their lives to give lepers encouragement, consolation, medical care... It's estimated there are 5-million lepers in the world today—but only one out of twelve gets medical treatment. Yet leprosy can be stopped, sometimes cured, by means of modern medicine... That's what our priests and Sisters are doing in places like GREEN GARDENS—caring for bodies, and at the same time reaching souls. If only we had more help, we could expand the work, reach more of the suffering 5-million. As always, we must depend on you, of course—the faithful readers of this column. Medicine is expensive, and the lepers must be fed, housed and clothed. What will your donation mean? Your $1, $5, or $10 means food, a bed, something to wear, or medicine, for some pathetic leper. It means you are helping—just as if you were washing dishes or rolling bandages in GREEN GARDENS... Will you tell others about our work? Will you tell them they can help—by offering their prayers and by sending a donation? Will you tell them about our DAMIEN LEPER CLUB—the means by which they can help regularly? The dues are only $1 a month (pennies a day) and a share in your prayers. If you and 99 others join our DAMIEN LEPER CLUB, we'll be sure of $1,200 more each year. Imagine how we can plan our budgets, increase our work immeasurably! Perhaps you'll be able to organize a unit of our LEPER CLUB in your office, or among your friends. Whatever you do, you'll be doing it for lepers—and lepers touched the heart of Christ... Please think about our lepers, and let us hear from you right now!
