
New Staff At Jesuit High

McQuaid Eleven Open In Auburn

Newly elected co-captains Al Maher and Ted Fink will lead McQuaid Jesuit High School's 1961 array of Knights into action for the first time tomorrow night against Mount Carmel at Auburn.

Maher, a veteran end, and Fink, a halfback turned tackle, are two of the solid segments of a McQuaid machine that is still in its experimental stages.

Rating on par with them as an experienced two-way performer is fullback Tony Zollo, running well after a brief layoff and tabbed by his coaches for heavy duty as a linebacker on defense.

Center Tom Fuerst and end Dick Kleisley, a pair of J.V. graduates, also appear to have their berths clinched, but, elsewhere, the competition for positions has kept the picture necessarily fuzzy.

SENIOR TOM McHUGH, the best passer on the squad, has gained the starting nod at quarterback over juniors Dick Spies and Paul McConville. But Spies, the better runner, is certain to see action as a relief man and McConville will be at least a defensive platooner when he isn't calling the signals.

The same situation exists at halfback where veteran Mike DiGregorio and newcomer Bill Bruckel are being pushed hard by Ralph Camardo and Dick Burns. Even if Camardo doesn't start on offense he'll be in there on defense.

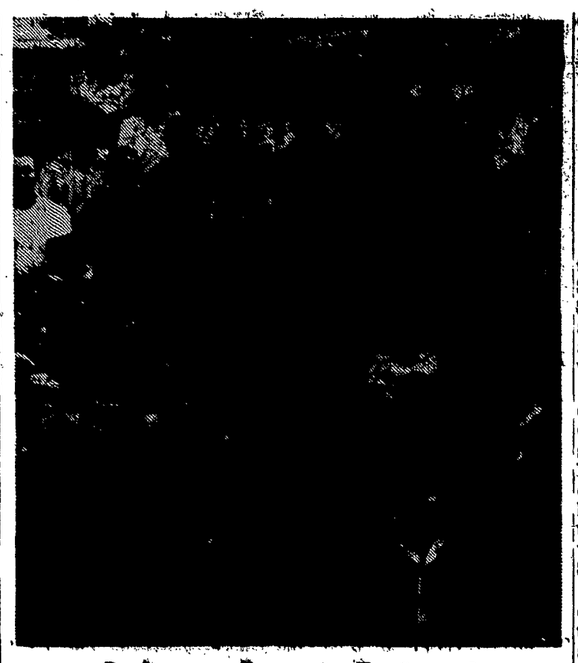
Guards Joe Pilato and Henry Cashette, both seniors, are also feeling the pressure from underclassman, though both are listed as starters tomorrow night. The only tackle except Fink who can call a berth his own is senior Bill Soehner whose 250 pounds is counted on to anchor the middle of McQuaids 5-man defensive line.

Junior Jim Pezzulo, a mobile 180-pounder, is continuing to gain in his bid for Soehner's offensive spot but Tom Walther and Bob Michniewicz are right with him.

Slated for defensive duty on a line that will average over 200 pounds are rangy juniors Joe Moore and Steve Tisa. Only at the ends is there a lack of depth. Senior Al Wagner is the lone experienced shuttle man there.

MAHER WILL likely do the punting and place-kicking for the Knights, and his toe may be a big factor until the offense begins to click. It's been slow to jell thus far, though the potential is high. But McHugh's throwing figures to keep rival defenses honest and the Knights' own barricades are expected to stand up well. At any rate, coach Joe Mancarella has cause for optimism that last season's 7-0 shutout by Mount Carmel will be reversed tomorrow night.

There'll be a good-sized contingent to support the Knights in the first of four straight road games. A Booster Club excursion is expected to send at least five busloads of students to Auburn for the '61 kickoff. B.M.



Auburn Scout Retreat

Some of the 86 Boy Scouts who made a retreat at Camp Columbus on Owasco Lake last weekend are shown with Father David Finks, retreat master. The retreat is part of the Scout program for the Ad Altare Dei award.

Mass Marks Opening At McQuaid High

Bishop Kearney celebrated the annual Mass of the Holy Spirit at McQuaid Jesuit High School last Tuesday morning and so doing marked the 53rd anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood.

THE BISHOP, recalling his ordination at St. Stephen's Church, New York City in 1908, spoke of the inspiration of St. Francis Xavier in his own vocation. "It is very appropriate," he said, "that I should observe this anniversary at a school whose patron saint is that same St. Francis Xavier."

The Bishop went on to speak of the many-sided responsibility of the Catholic high school student—to his parents, to his school, and especially, his moral responsibility to himself "to do one's very best at a time when mediocrity is almost a sin."

Assisting at the Mass were Rev. William B. Cogan, S.J., and Rev. Jerome Kleber, S.J. Joseph Mancini, president of the Student Council, led the student body in the Missa Recitata.

McQuaid Book Rates Tops

The "Accolade," McQuaid Jesuit High School's yearbook, has again won an All-Catholic rating from the Catholic School Press Association of Marquette University.

IN ATTAINING the highest rating given in the annual CSPA competition, the 1961 book was commended especially for its introductory pages and the activities and sports sections.

Its editor-in-chief was Donald Connor, class valedictorian who is now a freshman at Fordham College. Rev. William B. Cogan, S.J. was the book's moderator, assisted by Mr. Thomas J. Kenny, S.J.

Get Acquainted Week Climaxed At Mercy

A "Get Acquainted Campaign," first major project of the Student Government Association of Our Lady of Mercy High School this year, reaches its climax today, Friday at the school's annual Field Day picnic held on the school campus.

AIM OF THE day is 'getting to know you" and the promotion of class and school unity, according to SGA officers: president Margaret Garvey, vice president Michela Griffo, secretary Shirley Costanza and treasurer Ann Fassanella.

Working closely with them to plan the Song Fest, races and ball games were the class officers: seniors Jeanne Gasser and Mary Ellen Zeller, juniors Ellen McCorry and Andrea Volpe, and sophomores Ann Larimer and Mary Jo Brach. Freshman plans are being guided by class moderator, Sister Mary Padraic, since frosh officers are as yet unelected.

Four baseball games, two in the morning and two in the afternoon, will determine the championship team. Ball captains are seniors Lorraine La Patra and Mary Ellen Gary; juniors Ellen McCorry and Sharon Knutowicz; sophomore Mary Walsh, and freshman Martha Keller.

Recently elected class cheerleader captains are senior Shirley Costanca, junior Sheila McConville, sophomores Rose Mary Lauria and Kathleen Hickey, and freshmen Victoria Klingler and Mary Ellen Cadmus.

EACH CLASS will present a song fest of music of a particular composer, under the direction of senior Marguerite Pannepinto, junior Andrea Volpe and sophomore Elizabeth Rhodes.

The school-wide Get Acquainted program itself was organized by SGA council representatives: senior Arlene Fischer, junior Mary Jane Carroll and soph Sandy Mosta.

The other council representatives who assisted in carrying out the program in the homerooms were Pat Curtis, Pat Erdle, Sue Shaw, Mary Jane Stahl and Sue Ver Heeven; juniors Donna Dyminski, Pat Meagher, Betsy Ripton, Barb Roth and Laurie Schapp; and sophomores Dorene Agustin, Jeanne Carey, Pat Cerame, Barb Goetz, Rosemary LoVerde and Virginia Vecchiotti.

Moderator of the Student Government Association is Sister Mary Augustine.
