Education Talk Given To DeSales Holy Name

"We must do the whole job... the souls of our children must be fed with the Catholic nourishment which can only be received in a Catholic school..."

This statement was made by Robert J. D. English of Syracuse in a talk on "Catholic Education" recently before the Holy Name Society of St. Francis de Sales parish, honoring its past officers.

More than 200 members and guests attended the dinner in St. Francis de Sales School hall, Michael J. Cecere Jr., was toastmaster. Carmen J. Acciulano was chairman of the dinner.

Past officers honored were Past President John Harding; past vice president Nicholas Cusimano, and former secretary Thomas J. O'Brien.

Stanley Ksionsky, Edward Bishoping, George Burns and Raymond Bosseler, Mrs. Joseph Wegman, refreshment chairman, Mrs. Roy Mutter, publicity.

ST. CECILIA. Ladies Guild meeting Nov. 7 at 8:30 p.m. This meeting includes annual Nuns' Shower. Members reminded to bring items for the shower and to be on hand to meet the Sisters and lay teachers of St. Cecilia's School. Program includes guest speaker, Richard Dixon of Marigold Florists. He will demonstrate floral arrangements.

English is director of the Speakers Bureau of Catholic Education in Syracuse. The bureau was organized in October, 1960, by a group of laymen of the diocese. The men began a study of the encyclical of Pius XI, "On the Christian Education of Youth."

He pointed out that the nation faces new and insidious dangers on many sides.

He referred to the stout-hearted men in Syracuse who want the best of everything for themselves and for their families.

"They have listened to the words of Our Lord, 'what doth it profit a man if he gains the whole world and suffers the loss of his immortal soul?' They knew what He meant. They should not have the goods of this world, but that we should want them with reason. They want the best... but they want the best of two worlds."
