ND High of Batavia Awaited By McQuaid

By JESS HEWITT

McQuaid Jesuit High, an impressive 26-6 winner over Batavia last Saturday, will wind up its campaign this week with another Saturday home contest, against Notre Dame of Batavia.

THE KNIGHTS, in top spirits and physical condition after their best all-around winning performance of the year, can raise their record to 3-2-3 with a win over the visitors, who have had rough sledding in an 0-6-1 season. Notre Dame is a lot tougher than that record indicates, though, and their rugged defensive performance in last year's 13-0 win over McQuaid presages anything but an easy finale.

McQuaid coach Joe Mancarella had reason to be pleased over two developments in the Batavia game. His team was able to rebound from an early deficit, and his defense staged its stoutest stand of the season at a critical point.

The comeback he referred to was the drive McQuaid mounted after being stunned by a 58-yard breakaway score in the opening quarter. The Knights had been rolling themselves when a fumble gave Batavia the ball, and 3 plays later, the score was 6-0. But, in just five plays from the ensuing kickoff, the Knights drew even when quarterback Tom McHugh spotted flanking halfback Dick Burns with a short pass that Burns lugged into the end zone on a 40-yard scoring play.

McHugh passed to fullback Tony Zollo for the lead point, and it was that narrow 7-6 margin that was in danger when Batavia drove deep into McQuaid territory in the second period. With a first down and goal to go on the 1-yard line, a Batavia score seemed imminent.

In the one play, the tide turned, as McQuaid right side defenders — Joe Hallett and Tom Geen — broke through to spill the Batavia quarterback for a 6-yard loss. The visitors almost made it on a last down but the ball went over to the Knights still one big yard away from the goal.

THAT OFFENSIVE bounce that Mancarella had praised showed itself again when the Knights moved out of that deep hole and went 99 yards for their second score. McHugh called the key play — a gamble pass on third down from the 5-yard line. He hit halfback Mike DiGregorio with a lob up the middle that carried all the way to the Batavia 11, a decisive thrust of 84 yards that led to a 1-yard scoring plunge by Zollo 5 plays later.

Batavia was able to mount only one more threat against a tough McQuaid line and the defense had a startling answer to that one. As Geen was about to wrap himself around a Batavia passer, the desperation throw was picked off by Zollo behind the line of scrimmage and carried 67 yards for the clinching score. McHugh added the last touchdown himself on a keeper play in the final period.

Coming against a veteran Batavia club that had a 4-2 record McQuaid's latest performance, on top of ties against formidable Canisius and CBA teams, led Mancarella to tab the season as a satisfactory one. "We've made some mistakes that have cost us victories, but we've done a lot of good things that have saved us from losses. It all balances out." A victory over Notre Dame would complete that balance nicely.

Sacred Heart Team Chosen

Sacred Heart Cathedral Grammar School basketball team members are chosen for the coming season after six weeks of tryouts and practice according to the Rev. Conrad J. Sundholm, director of athletics.

NAMED TO the squad by Coach Harry (Packy) McFarlin were: Tom Sullivan, Phil McNutt, Dennis Sabo, Pat Walsh, Frank Maglocco, Richie Greenwood, Jim Coffey, John Gormican, Dennis Clark, Kevin Cooney, Greg Whitney, John McMillen, Doug Farrell, Bob Meek, Mike Reynell and Tommy Dey.

Under the five year coaching of McFarlin, Sacred Heart has compiled a 104-15 record which includes two league championships and a Diocesan Tournament title. The Cathedral quint is the only school five in the city to have qualified for the tournament every year.

Aquinas, Pittsburgh Clash This Sunday

By WHIT JOHNSON

Aquinas Institute's Little Irish, still smarting from last week's 25-0 drubbing by arch-rival Cleveland, go after Pennsylvania's No. 1 high school football team Sunday afternoon when they meet North Catholic's gold clad Trojans at Memorial Stadium.

ED REGINA

THE TROJANS, one of the strongest visiting teams ever to play against Aquinas, will arrive in Rochester tomorrow afternoon fresh from winning the Pittsbburgh Catholic High School championship. With a five win, two loss and one tie record, Pittsburgh downed a strong Central Catholic eleven, 20-7, to walk off with the tournament laurels for the third consecutive year.

Last year North Catholic spoiled a perfect record for Aquinas by annexing a 21-12 win to stop an Irish winning streak of six games.

The Trojans won nine straight last season before bowing to Boystown in the season's finale after five Pitsburgh starters were disqualified from sports participation because of scholastic reasons. In spite of the loss the Trojans amassed 299 points, for the season, allowing only 98 points to opponents.

All eyes will be on quarterback Larry Szykowny who has contributed not a little to North Catholic's impressive record for the past two years. Larry is the younger brother of Matt Szykowny, currently starring as quarterback for the University of Iowa. Matt helped fashion a 33-7 Pittsburgh triumph over Aquinas in 1958. Another member of the 1958 Trojan team who Aquinas fans will remember is Dick Turia, now playing fullback at Iowa.

LAST SUNDAY before 9,986 fans Aquinas was stopped cold by a superior Cleveland football machine. But no one noticed the Dewey Avenue boys walking around with their chins on the ground.

In a grueling test the Cleveland Vikings, rated as one of the top school boy football teams in the nation, ground out a 25-0 victory over the Irish in a contest that went down to the wire.

"We've nothing to be ashamed of with that performance," commented Irish coach Joe Repko after the game.

"We gave it everything we had. It wasn't quite enough, but it took an awful good football team to beat us. I have no complaints whatsoever. I think the boys did a good job. They should be proud of their efforts."

All through the first quarter the solid Aquinas forward wall failed to give an inch even though every play was the "hit 'em again, harder, harder" type. Then in a bruising second period attack the Vikings suddenly appeared too big and too strong for Aquinas as the club rolled to a commanding 25-0 half-time lead.

Most of the fans fully expected Cleveland to start immediately in the second half. But Aquinas defensemen seemed to have other ideas and although the Irish couldn't get any sort of an offensive drive going for itself, it did dig in and made the going very sticky for Cleveland.

The biggest football crowd of the season appears certain for the clash between Aquinas and Pittsburgh at Memorial Stadium Sunday. Kickoff is scheduled for 2 p.m.

Review Given Salinger Book

"Some people feel that J. D. Salinger has discovered the doctrine of the Mystical Body; others sum him up as a Zen Buddhist. In any case, he is a man searching for truth through his characters."

THE SPEAKER was the Rev. Frederick Black, C.S.B., reviewing "Franny and Zooey" at Tuesday's Noon Book Review held at the Catholic Evidence Library.

Salinger's approach to God and religious truth is to search the thoughts of the wise men of many religions, not to see religion primarily in terms of truth God has revealed to men. Nonetheless, Father Black was convinced of the author's sincerity and that he does show a refreshing trend in current secular authors.

In the lively question period that followed the review, the question of Salinger's repititious use of profanity was raised. Father Black felt that it was a legitimate usuage, an accurate picture of the idiom of the people portrayed, and in its context, not objectionable.

A disdain for "phony" values, an impatience with life lived in a superficial way, a desire to be honest with oneself—these are the hallmark of Salinger's main characters and explain why so many reviewers emphasize the integrity of his work.

McQuaid Wins Over West In Shutout

A shutout victory over West capped a 5-game winning streak for McQuaid High School's J.V. soccer team in last week's final game.

JOE MANCUSO booted home two goals, and Chris Grauert added a goal and a penalty kick in the 7-0 win, which repeated an earlier 8-3 victory over the same school. Mancuso, whose six goals topped McQuaid's season scoring, also hit for a pair in a 4-0 shutout of Greece-Olympia. Steve Borbas, Dave Richards and George Lorson were the Knights' other scorers in a 5-2 season that also included twin wins over Monroe and twin losses to Marshall.

The Knights' J.V. football squad just missed closing out its season in winning style last Monday (Nov. 6) when it scored twice in the final 6 minutes against an undefeated Monroe team but lost, 13-12, by failing to convert either of its extra point tries.

Tom Meisch, on a 7-yard pitchout and a 45-yard end sweep, accounted for both McQuaid scores in the game, which finished a 3-4-1 season. The third win came last Friday when a first period quarterback sneak by Joe Miller and a conversion run by Jeff Galbraith stood up for a 7-0 win over East.

Speech, Hearing Convention Draws

Three Nazareth College senior speech correction majors attended the American Speech and Hearing Association Convention in Chicago this week.

Patricia Shea, Sharon Grinnan and Mary Anne Kowba joined Sister Helen Daniel, president of the college and Dr. Gladys Reid Jann of the Nazareth faculty at the meeting.

Sister Helen Daniel and Dr. Jann participated in a panel on academic training of the speech clinician in the undergraduate college.
