

College Heads Discuss Problems

COLLEGE PRESIDENTS Rev. Charles J. Lavery, C.S.B., of St. John Fisher College, and Sister Helen Daniel, of Nazareth College, go over the agenda for last Saturday's conference of upstate Catholic college presidents at Nazareth with some of the participants. Fifteen colleges were represented at the meeting during which some of the major problems now facing Catholic institutions of higher learning were discussed. College representatives shown in the picture are: (seated) Sister Helen Daniel, Father Lavery and Sister Catherine of Siena, president of D'Youville College, Buffalo; (standing) the Rev. Walter F. Dirig, C.M., Vice President of Niagara University and the Rev. Francis Kearney, O.F.M., president of St. Bonaventure University. Father Lavery, vice president of the New York State Conference of Catholic Colleges and Universities, was chairman of the meeting.
