DCCW Program On Radio

The Rochester Diocesan Council of the National Council of Catholic Women is sponsoring a series of radio programs for Catholic Press Month. The series is entitled "These Works Of Love", Catholic Women in Catholic Action.

THE PROGRAMS will be heard on five days during the month of February on Louise Wilson's "Woman's World" over the facilities of Radio Station WHAM Rochester from 10:05 until 11 a.m.

Content of the programs is based on the work of the National Committee System as carried out by over 175 affiliations in the Rochester Diocese. There are 10 of these committees in use in the local diocese. The five programs are listed as follows. The first took place last Wednesday.

Feb. 7: "What is the National Council of Catholic Women?" Mrs. Julian G. Humiston, president of the Rochester D.C.C.W., gave a talk on the spiritual and practical purposes of the council. The talk stressed the work of the two committees from which the effectiveness of all other committees comes, namely, Spiritual Development Committee and Organization and Development Committee.

Feb. 12: Citizenship in a Democracy—Brotherhood

Visit to home of Mrs. Harriet Schuyler, Negro laywoman and foster mother. Mrs. Schuyler is a member of the Mothers Circles Committee—Mother Cabrini Circle, Rochester.

Feb. 16: Hospitality In The Home For The International Student

Visit to the home of Mrs. Thomas McWhinney of Rochester to meet two visiting students "making themselves at home in the kitchen." Mrs. McWhinney is Diocesan Vice-chairman of International and Inter-American Relations.

Feb. 21: Catholic Book Week—"A look at a new Catholic Book"—Book Review.

Miss Ruth Ashburn, professional librarian and chairman (Monroe County Council) Library and Literature Committee.

Feb. 28: Catholic Family Life

A visit to the home and family of Mrs. Richard L. Weider of Rochester. Mrs. Weider is the mother of 7 children, the immediate past president of the diocesan council and now chairman of the committee on "Family Life and Parent Education."

THESE PROGRAMS have been planned with the cooperation of Radio Station WHAM diocesan chairman of the public relations committee.
