

Pre-Cana Series Listed At Immaculate, Ithaca

A series of four pre-Cana conferences for engaged and newly married couples will be held in Immaculate Conception School on West Buffalo St., Ithaca, during Lent.

EACH CONFERENCE will begin at 8 p.m. The first, to be held on Tuesday, March 13, is entitled "God's plan in Love and Marriage." This talk will be given by Rev. John S. Maloney, administrator of Immaculate Conception Parish.

On Wednesday, March 21, Dr. Ralph Low of Trumansburg will discuss "The Physiology of Marriage." A panel of married couples will cover the topic "Practical Hints" on Tuesday, March 27.

Taking part will be Mr. and Mrs. Ray Orzell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schnorr, and Dr. and Mrs. A. Edward Cappucci. At the fourth and final conference, on Tuesday, April 3, Father Maloney will discuss "The Spirituality of Marriage."

An invitation is extended to all engaged and recently married couples to take advantage of the opportunity offered them in the above program. Couples should attend together if possible; even though one of the partners may be a member of a faith other than Catholic, they are welcome to attend.

If further information is desired, a call may be made to Mrs. Ray Orzell—Ithaca T.N. 4-3384 or Mrs. Charles Schnorr—AR 2-1848.

Fagan-Stevens Vows Exchanged

Hammondsport — A Hammondsport girl and a Bath man were united in marriage in St. Mary's Church, Bath, Saturday morning, Feb. 24, when Miss Nancy Kay Stevens became the wife of James Michael Fagan.

Mrs. Fagan is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Eldred J. Stevens of Hammondsport and her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Fagan of Bath.

CELEBRANT OF THE Nuptial Mass was an uncle of the bride, the Rev. Robert Fagan, Professor of Theology at Kings College in Wilkes-Barre, Pa. Assisting in the ceremony were the Rev. John O'Malley and the Rev. William Nolan. J. Allen Mays of Hammondsport played traditional wedding music at the organ.

The bride's twin sister, Miss Suzanne Stevens of Washington, D.C., was maid of honor.

Miss Donna Coon of Bath, cousin of the bride, served as bridesmaid.

The bridegroom's brother, Patrick Fagan of Bath, was best man. Ushers were C. Edward Stevens of Utica, brother of the bride, and James Neylon of Bath.

Aquinas Library Kept Busy

If Aquinas Institute students graduate without love of reading and discrimination in their choice of books—the cornerstones of education—it won't be because of lack of facilities or teachers' efforts.

IN A RECENT school evaluation by a visiting committee of educators representing the Middle States Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges, the Aquinas library and reading instruction program was given top rating.

Society Hears
Talk On Books
Cornell — Books appropriate for reading during Catholic Book Month were reported by Dr. Elinor Barnes at a meeting of the Catholic Action Society held last week.

MEMBERS MET in St. Vincent's School hall of the parish for the February gathering. Dr. Barnes displayed books and pamphlets and reported on several books regarding lives of saints.

The Rev. William Thomas, moderator, spoke briefly on details to be considered by the club for another year.

Mrs. Charles Houston, newly-elected president, assumed her duties. During a short business session, members decided to hold the annual bake sale on April 21.

Mrs. Emmett Fitzgerald and Mrs. James Keenan were in charge of the committee for Monday's meeting. Others assisting were Mrs. Joseph Colacchi, Mrs. Thomas Mullen, Mrs. Gerald Rohde, Mrs. F. W. Bobrick, Mrs. Domenice, Mrs. Roland Dorey, Mrs. Robert Breuille, Mrs. Charles Nitsche, Mrs. Hillary Billotte, Mrs. Nicholas Ambrosone, Mrs. Henry Fisher, Mrs. Theodore Hook, Mrs. Joseph DiGiacomo, and Mrs. James Collins.
