McQuaid Debaters Win Trophy

Mt. Carmel, Marshall Drop Games To McQuaid

By JESS HEWITT

McQuaid Jesuit High will go into its big game of the season against Aquinas at the War Memorial this Saturday with a 15-3 record thanks to home victories over Marshall, 78-29, and Mt. Carmel of Auburn, 55-41, last weekend.

THE TWIN victories were highlighted by Tony Criscuolo's breaking of the school individual scoring mark of 301 points set by Tom Nientemp in 1959. Criscuolo, who began the weekend with 292, hit for 15 against Marshall and 19 against Mt. Carmel to push fi mup to 326, an average of 18.1 over 18 games and a total that makes him Rochester's top point-getter so far this season. Appropriately, it was Frank Zona, McQuaid's high scorer a year ago with 270, who fed Criscuolo the assist that set up the record-breaker against Marshall. Zona is almost duplicating his last year's pace, with 246 points to date and two games in the Diocesan Tournament coming up.

McQuaid set something of a "record in reverse" against Mt. Carmel on Sunday, coming up with barely a 25 per cent shooting average. It was the Knights' coolest firing of the season, but they offset it with a 25 for 34 production at the foul line to shake off a stubborn Carmel team. The visitors, after falling behind by 35-22 early in the third period, came back to within 45-39 before the fouls began taking heir toll. Mc Quaid's last 13 points were on free throws.

Tim Gieselow of Mt. Carmel shared scoring honors with 16 points. Zona (13) and Gerry Rohrer (11) chimed in for McQuaid. For Rohrer, it was the first time this season in double figures. The 6-3 senior stuffed 10 of his total into the opening minutes, when he was the only Knight who could find the range.

In preliminary games against Mt. Carmel, the McQuaid junior varsity concluded a 14-3 season with a 61-28 win paced by Joe Miller's 13 points. The McQuaid freshmen, who'll meet Aquinas frosh in the opener of Saturday's War Memorial bill, remained undefeated but had their closest game of the year in a 36-30 triumph over the Carmel frosh.

Aquinas Posts 10th Straight

Tomorrow night will tell the story of an entire 20-game basketball season for the Little Irish of Aquinas Institute.

AQUINAS GOES into the Catholic Diocesan High School Basketball Tournament with an impressive 15 won, 3 lost record earned at the expense of some of the top cage teams in this part of the state.

"When my boys really get up for a game, they can beat any team in the area," Coach Ron Mack said. "And we'll be out to prove it against McQuaid."

The Irish came up with a pair of wins last week-end to close out their regular season. Still riding on the crest of its thrilling victory over Bishop Timon of Buffalo, coming from behind to win 64-63, the Dewey Avenue boys went on to trounce Hornell High School, 74-43.

Timon was the only team to beat Aquinas outside tournament play. The other two Aquinas losses were sustained in the Schnectady Christmas Tourney. The Irish were undefeated on their home court.

Aquinas is currently perched atop a 10 game winning streak and it means to keep going till it makes it an even dozen.

JIM CHATTERTON was brilliant for Aquinas in its win over Timon. The slender, 6-foot-3 senior made Aquinas' final five points by calmly sinking two field goals and one foul shot and then by grabbing his 19th rebound as the clock ran out.

Chatterton finished the regular schedule to lead his teammates with 319 points for an average of 17.7 points a game. He also leads in rebounds with 203 and accounted for 53 assists.

C.Y.O. Parish Basketball Leagues

By FRED BUTTACCIO

It's about over! Next week ends another slam bang season that has brought heartbreak to some and delerious joy to others. Tournament fever is high and most spots are filled with very few left to be decided.

St. Thomas, league winners will lead the White division entries along with Sacred Heart, Mother Sorrows, Holy Rosary and if Blessed Sacrament wins their final game they will assure themselves a spot for the first time in many years.

That Green division is still tight as a drum. St. Boniface dumped Lourdes last week and now have sole possession of first place. However St. Boniface has a makeup game with Holy Ghost to play yet and still must pass by St. Thomas More's guns. Right now it looks like St. Jerome's and Immaculate are sure bets for the tournament, they play each other this week. St. Thomas More must win to hope for a tourney berth. A St. Boniface loss to St. Thomas More would enhance Lourdes chances for a first place tie if they get by stubborn St. Anthonys. I think I've got you pretty well confused now so I'll hop along to the high school group.

Well Holy Cross pulled it out! They stopped Sacred Heart last Sunday 62-49 to snare first place. For all intents and purposes its all over here. Holy Cross and Sacred Heart have mathematically cinched tournament berths. My hearty congratulations to Mike Spang and his lakesider five . . . Holy Cross has now won two championships in a row (2 for 2 for Mr. Spang) . . . Father Cushing had better watch come contract time . . .

St. Monica moved a step closer to their fifth straight high school championship by beating rival St. Helen's 59-44. Holy Ghost plays St. Theodore's this week to decide the second team in the tournament. However if the Mustangs should lose to St. John's this week the Coldwater five could tie for first place, providing of course they despose of their neighbors from Spencerport Road. This should be quite a game. Best of luck to both teams.

Next week I'm trying to find out some dope on the out of town teams. Somebody said they're all 8 foot tall and shoot like Elgin Baylor. This should make you all feel real good I'm sure. Til next week be good, play hard and be a good sport . . .

Future In Doubt For Skating Star

Susan Warden, ten-year-old speed skating star, may be forced to curtail her competition in skating meets in the future, due to expenses incurred.

Sue, a fifth grader at Our Lady of Good Counsel School, and Janice Smith, a student at St. Agnes High School have attracted national recognition for their victories in speed skating meets across the country in recent weeks. They have taken first place in their respective classes in meets in several cities here and in Canada.

The cost of entering these various meets is usually undertaken by a sponsor, normally a business concern or fraternal group. Sue, a newcomer to speed skating, has not as yet obtained a sponsor to help defray expenses despite her excellent record.

Expenses thus far have been undertaken by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. (Bus) Warden of 357 Ravenwood Ave., and her coach, George Blackburn. Blackburn stated that Sue's future in skating depends entirely on finding a sponsor to help defray costs of travelling to these various meets throughout the country.
