

Luxurious Leather

By LOUISE WILSON

Louise Wilson, Women's Editor, is heard twice daily on Station WHAM 9:10 a.m. and 1:15 p.m., and also on Wednesdays at 11 a.m. from Midtown Plaza.

One of the most exciting parts of the entire fashion picture for the next months, if not indeed the next few years, is the entrance of lovely, lithe suede which is handled like a fabric and appears in coats, dresses, both one-and-two-piece, as well as three-piece costumes, pants and parkas. And the wonder of it is not only the way it's handled as if it were velvet but also the way it wears... and wears... and wears.

Of course, we should have seen it coming. The brilliant designer, Bonnie Cashin, has pioneered leather and fabric combinations for several years. Now at last, suede has grown up and is seen throughout the world of fashion in a very wide price range. A bare-armed shift runs around $70 in upstate stores. The suede dressmaker dress, pictured, costs about $90 locally. This Samuel Robert chiffon suede, fully silk-lined, has a beautifully cut dressmaker bodice with metal coin buttons above an easy skirt with inverted side pleats.

COATS, TOO, while not as new interpreted in suede, are deftly styled, some with tripe-flap pockets and castan side slits making them true trend-setters. And one of the delightful surprises are the HHS and HER fashions in suede to be seen in identical side-vent country coats in nutmeg brown or charcoal suedeskin with kid-skin collar, wooden buttons and windproof poplin lining. Consider also, a cypress green suede coat with white monk shag lining, cuffs and tuxedo fronts. Another knockout is a sweeping clutch coat with natural lynx shawl collar!

Observation—An anthropological and scientific photographic record of an expedition across darkest New Guinea, this documentary contains elements which may prove disturbing to the sensitive and the immature. It is regrettable that tabloid advertising has misrepresented this film of merit by creating for it a reputation of cheap sensationalism.
Home Sweet Home (Not Listed)

We had a glimpse of the probable popularity of suede in fashion as early as last May when we were on the French Riviera. While watching the filming of "The Grand Duke and Mr. Pimm" (due for release here early next year) we saw a gorgeous auburn-haired wedding guest resplendent in a draped cocktail dress in amethyst suede. Even the beautiful blonde star, Hope Lang, in a traditional wedding gown, veil, rain and all, took second place to the girl in a suede gown!

WHILE SUEDE is a lovely, lithe leather and "handles" like fabric, it does require a little care to get your money's worth and the years of wear it promises. A local home economist recommends a "hands off" policy for cleaning precious suede. She trusts hers to a professional drycleaner who specializes in special finishes.

Between trips to the cleaners, she suggests "suede erasers" for soil and wrinkles. If due to packing, your suede fashions show deep wrinkles, she suggests you hang them in a bathroom full of warm mist. Running the hot shower for several minutes will produce the desired warmth, humidity and moisture to help the cause.

Actually, the care of suede is an art in itself and you are urged not to use cleaning fluids or abrasives, shoe cleaners and saddle soap. While not all authorities recommend it, I have had good luck in pressing my suede coat on the lining side with a dry iron on its lowest setting.

I placed the suede side on a turkish towel and proceeded with care. Others have success when laying a piece of heavy brown paper between the pressing iron and the leather and pressing quickly and lightly. If it's necessary to shorten a skirt or pants, and you're a confirmed do-it-yourselfer, mark the new length with chalk, turn up and apply rubber cement... and HOPE FOR THE BEST. Personally, I'd wait for the old length to come in style again.

Hornell Anglers Capture Prizes

Judges of the Louis A. Wehle Fishing Contest awarded the three top prizes in the Rainbow Trout division of the August segment of the derby to three residents of Hornell all of whom caught their beauties in Canandaigua Lake.

First prize went to the 12 lb. 13 oz. entry of John Westlake RD $2; second, to Jack May 467 McKinley Ave., for his 12 lb. 4 oz. catch. The 10 lb. 12 oz. entry of John E. Kelly, 291 Grand St., won third money.

Thirty-seven anglers shared in the prize money offered in August and are eligible for the grand prize which will be awarded after the close of the contest on Oct. 31. Fishermen taking late vacations would do well to get a copy of the Fishing Guide offered without charge by Wehle, former Conservation Commissioner of New York State and Chairman of the Genesee Brewery. A letter or postcard to L. A. Wehle, 100 National St., Rochester 5, N.Y., will bring it by return mail.

Community Players Seek Members, Set Schedule

The kickoff meeting of the membership drive for the Rochester Community Players was held last night at the Monroe County Farm and Home Center. This year's drive which seeks 3,600 season memberships, will be conducted on a competitive basis among three teams using an automotive theme, the drive will be called "1962 Drama-Drive."

MEMBERSHIP in the Community Players entitles the ticket holder to season's reservations for all the regular productions. The first such production will be "Write Me a Murder," a new and compelling mystery by the author of "Dial M for Murder," scheduled for Nov. 15 through 24.

Other productions scheduled for the coming season include "The Fourposter," Dec. 27 through Jan. 5 (included in the

RICHARD MANCINI

Premiere

CATHOLIC THEATER of Rochester will open its 1962-63 season with the presentation of a world premiere. The play, "The Slaughter of the Innocents," written by William Saroyan, will be presented at St. John Fisher College on East Ave. on Oct. 5, 6, and 7. Tickets are $1.50 and $1.00 for students and all performances will be at 8:30 p.m.

The cast for this premiere will be directed by Richard Mancini and sets will be designed by Carl Zollo.

Open House At New Bank

A gala open house celebration, complete with free gifts and premiums for new accounts, highlighted the official opening of the newly enlarged and remodeled Bulls Head Office of First Federal Savings and Loan Association. The office, at 820 Main Street West, officially opened Thursday, Sept. 13 and open house celebration to continue to Sept. 25.

Tertiaries To Mark St. Francis Feast Day

Members of the Third Order of St. Francis will meet on Sunday, Sept. 23 at 3 p.m. in St. Patrick's Church, 444 Plymouth Ave. N.

Instructions for postulants and novices are at the usual time, 2:15 p.m., preceding religious services conducted by the Rev. Bonaventure Brown, O.F.M., Provincial Regional Director of the Third Order.

NICHOLAS J. DOWNS, Minister Prefect of St. Patrick's Fraternity, will discuss plans regarding attendance at the ceremonies of the Transitus, which commemorates the death of St. Francis, to be held at 7:30 p.m. in St. Patrick's Church, Buffalo, on Thursday, Oct. 4, the Feast of the saint. As is the custom, the Dominical Fathers will celebrate, also at St. Patrick's Church, a Solemn High Mass at 10 a.m.

Members are asked to note that there will be no local meeting of the Fraternity in October, since the Ninth Third Order Quinquennial Congress will be convening in Detroit, Michigan, Oct. 24-28. The theme of the Congress, "The Third Order in the Life of the Church Today" is based on the Encyclical "Mater et Magistra" (Christianity and Social Progress).

Highlights of the Congress include a keynote address by Richard Cardinal Cushing, Archbishop of Boston; an illustrated lecture on the "Physical Sufferings of Christ" by Frederick T. Zugbe, M.D., a tertiary from Pittsburgh; and a sound film-strip on Pope John's Encyclical "Mater et Magistra."

A final opportunity will be afforded any who wish to join a group of Tertiaries from St. Patrick's Fraternity who plan to attend.

All are welcome to make use
