Science Meet

Rev. William H. McBride, S.J., of McQuaid Jesuit High School will address the annual meeting of the New Jersey Science Teachers' Association at St. Peter's College, Jersey City, this Saturday, Oct. 13.

Father McBride, chairman of McQuaid's science department, will speak on the topic: An Approach to Honors Chemistry in High School. Sharing the panel with him will be Dr. Mitchell J. Sienko, Associate Professor of Chemistry at Cornell U. Some 200 chemistry teachers are expected to attend the all-day conference.

Top Debaters

McQuaid Jesuit High's debaters picked up right where they left off last Spring when they met Canisius High of Buffalo in the year's first debate, last Saturday at McQuaid. With two of its four team going unbeaten, McQuaid took the measure of the visiting school by a 5-3 score. Last Spring, McQuaid edged Canisius, 3-2, in a prize debate at Buffalo.

Contributing 2-0 records to the victory were the senior team of Tom Maier and Bryan DeLeo, both of Commodore Pkwy., Brighton, and the sophomore pairing of Mark Sullivan and Dick Rudy. Sophs Jim Peters and Chuck Pinzon were 1-1, and the senior team of Tom Sable and Jim Brodman were 0-2.

Debate moderator once again this year is Rev. Paul Dugan, S.J.

'Blue Mist'

St. Agnes High School's gymnasium will be the setting for the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade's Mission Dance, "Blue Mist," Friday, Oct. 19 from 9 to 12 p.m.

"Blue Mist" was composed in a name-the-dance contest at St. Agnes, Oct. 15, by Kathy Dalton, junior, who will receive a free ticket to the dance.

According to senior, Joan Gally, prefect of the C.S.M.C. and general chairman for the dance, Sharon Magnera, senior, and her decorations committee will highlight a shrine to Our Lady, draped in blue chiffon. At the opposite end the room will stand a love seat for chaperones. Three fountains will also grace the floor.

Peter Patall, leading "The Chancellors," will provide the music.

Aiding Joan in C.S.M.C. work this year are Lucy Fantigrassi, junior, vice-prefect; Judy Kolanski, junior, treasurer; Ann Fisher, senior, corresponding secretary; and Mary Lou Fiser, sophomore, recording secretary.

Patron Drive

The annual Patron Drive, sponsored by the senior class and publication staffs, is now underway at Our Lady of Mercy High School. The drive will end October 18, according to drive chairman, Barbara Roth and Sharon Zicari, publication and managers. The goal has been set at $3,000.

Tickets and "dates" in the school's Fall Dance are among the top prizes. Miss Publications, the girl who brings in the most patrons in the school, will receive a special award.

Honorary chairmen are Laurie Schapp and Barb Downs, co-editors of the Quill; Denise Soebbing and Linda Wandtke, co-editors of the Mercedes; and Ann Tallmadge, Cold Frame editor.

Members of the journalism class serving as homeroom captains are Joan Abbott, Janet Archibald, Kathy Ashenburt, Mary Jane Carroll, Kathy Dawson, Carla De Stefano, Renee Ermatinger, Gerry Gasiewicz, Gwen Groves, Nancy Herbst, Paula Kirby, Kathy McCormick, Ellen McCorry, Pat Meagher, Nancy Peltcher, Donna Phillips, Paula Ratigan, Jackie Rock, Mary Samuelson, Norma Schimer, Sue Schlaerth, Ann Marie Scutiore, Kathy Shea, Pam Tarkington, Dorothy Tedesco, Judy Terhaar, Andy Volpe, Molly Walsh, Mary Lou Weider, and Gabriele Wickett.

The bulletin board chairman is Linda Wandtke.

Faculty Supper

The faculty of Nazareth Academy will entertain the seniors at a Senior-Faculty Supper at the convent on Lake View Park from 5-7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 15.

This is an annual feature of Founders Day introduced by the Student Council to honor the academy faculty. The school celebration includes a pageant dramatizing scenes from the early foundations of the Sisters of St. Joseph in France. The pageant will be presented twice during the day to accommodate the large number of students registered at Nazareth.

The supper will be held in the Sisters Dining Room followed by entertainment in the Community Room. The Perisian Choir seniors will sing Ravanel lo's "Magnificat" under the direction of Sister Rose Teresa, choir director. Soloists, Mary Lynn Marella and Dorothy Koster will sing "Climb Every Mountain," and "Tonight" by Bernstein.

The lay teachers have been invited to attend. The evening's entertainment will close with Benediction in the Convent Chapel.

Holy Hour

Rev. Joseph Bernier, S.S.S., will speak to students of Our Lady of Mercy High School in a general assembly Thursday, Oct. 18.

Father Bernier, the founder of the Catholic Youth Adoration Holy Hours, is a Blessed Sacrament Father at the Church of St. Jean Baptiste in New York City. He preached the Junior-Senior Retreat at Mercy this past year.

Father Bernier will also officiate at the Holy Hour and preach the sermon at St. Joseph's Church, Sunday, Oct. 21, at 7 p.m.

Freshman Fete

Sophomores will fete freshmen at a surprise party, Friday, Oct. 19, from 1 to 2:30 p.m. at the St. Agnes High School auditorium. Choosing as theme, Ms. Sister and J. 260 Sophs will play "big sister" to 190 Freshmen, some of whom will have twin big sisters.

Freshmen will don green bows with baby bottles bearing their names, as they watch skits and games prepared by Soph homerooms. Surprise refreshments and gifts will be presented to the Freshmen during the party.

Sophs plan to close the event by inviting Freshmen to sing their class songs and answering with their own, to the tune of the Notre Dame Victory Cheer. Sophomore Class Officers planning the affair are Linda Bleier, Elaine DeMare, Zivile Vitkus, and Margaret Lynd.

Press Honors

Publications of Mercy, Nazareth, McQuaid, and Aquinas received top honors at the 18th annual Scholastic Editors' Conference at the Sheraton Hotel, New York City.

SISTER M. IMMACULATA, Nazareth Academy librarian, is training members of the Library Club in the use of the new charging machine. With Sister are Ann Marie Leonard, Karen Heintz and Sonia Serra. The machine was purchased from the Gaylord Library Supplies Company in Syracuse and installed this fall by Warren Ross. Sister stated that the machine will increase library efficiency and circulation. Each student has her own identification card with metal plate on which is stamped her number. The machine stamps all cards electronically.

October 6. The conference was sponsored by the Democrat and Chronicle and the Times Union, according to Ira Sapoznik, conference chairman.

Mercy received a blue ribbon for the school newspaper, the Quill, and the literary magazine, the Mercedes. The Cold Frame, senior class literary magazine, received a Class B honor certificate.

Nazareth Academy received a blue ribbon for the yearbook, Class A plaque for the school paper, the Gabriel, and a Class B honor certificate for the literary magazine.

McQuaid Jesuit High School was awarded a Class A plaque in the yearbook division. Aquinas received a Class B honor certificate for the Maroon and White, the school paper.

Latin Workshop

Nazareth Academy will conduct a Latin Workshop at the school on Lake Avenue Saturday, Oct. 20, beginning at 9:30 a.m. under the direction of the Reverend William George Most, Ph.D.

Father Most will explain and demonstrate the Natural Method of Teaching Latin of which he is the originator. His method combines the traditional grammar analysis method with the content method.

Having received his Doctor's Degree from the Catholic University of America, Father Most accepted a teaching assignment at Loras College, Dubuque, Iowa, where he is now teaching. Along with his teaching, Father is engaged in an intensive writing program. His name appears frequently in religious, apologetic and classical journals such as: Catholic Biblical Quarterly, Catholic Educational Review, Classical Journal, Classical Outlook, and Classical

Ground Broken for Dormitory At St. John Fisher College

The first step in a long-term development program at St. John Fisher College was taken last Friday when ground was broken for the first of ten proposed new buildings.

Faculty, students and members of the college's Board of Regents attended the ceremony which marks the first stage in construction of a $1,200,000 dormitory, the first in St. John Fisher's eleven-year history. The dormitory is expected to be ready for occupancy in September, 1963.

The building program, according to Father Lavery, is needed to cope with fast-growing enrollment. Although the college's enrollment is and will remain predominately local, Father Lavery said, the need for dormitory facilities was pointed up by the significant increase in out-of-town freshman enrollments this year.

Participants were the Very Rev. Charles J. Lavery, C.S.B., president of the college; Joseph Myler, chairman of the Board of Regents; and James Gullo, president of the Student Board of Governors. The first dirt was turned with a chromi- um shovel presented to the college by Robert E. Gianna, chairman of the college's planning and development committee. The shovel will be used at groundbreaking ceremonies for each of the college's ten proposed buildings and a suitable plaque will be placed on the handle to commemorate each event.

Located on the hill top of the upper campus, the 36,000-square foot building will be accessible to academic and administrative facilities. It is designed to provide for 200 occupants, with dining accommodations. The initial structure will be five stories, with floors two to five allocated exclusively for residential use. The ground level of the dormitory will serve as a lobby and general lounge.

The first stage of construction will also include a wing to serve ultimately as a connecting link to a future dormitory. This one-story wing with basement will house dining facilities and a lounge on the main level.

The dormitory will be financed by a self-liquidating 50-year federal loan from the Housing and Home Finance Agency. General Contractor is from outside the Rochester area. A. Friederich & Sons of Rochester.

Nine other buildings — including another dormitory, classroom office building, gymnasium, science building, faculty residence, student center, library and education center are planned in the $12,000,000 development program expected to be completed by 1975. The expanded facilities are designed to accommodate 800 to 900 students in 1964-65 and 1,200 to 1,400 students by 1970.

Presently St. John Fisher, founded in 1951, has only its original classroom-office building and four-year-old Chemistry building. The college has an enrollment of 625 students, twenty per cent of which is
