Debate Victors

McQuaid's debaters successfully defended the first of last year's tournament championships last Saturday at Hamilton College, when it won a narrow victory over 20 other upstate schools in the annual Hamilton debate meet.

Seniors Bryan DeLeo and Tom Maier, both of Commodore Parkway in Brighton, won all four of their debates, taking the negative of Resolved: That the United States should promote a common market of Western Hemisphere nations. DeLeo was also named best negative speaker.

Two sophomores, Jim Peters and Charles Pinzon, completed the McQuaid team, compiling a 22 record on the affirmative side of the question.

The overall record of 6-2 tied McQuaid with Jamestown and Notre Dame of Ulster, but on speaker points the McQuaid Mandeville Trophy was awarded to the Rochester school by a slim 2 points over Jamestown.

This Saturday, debate moderator, Rev. Paul Dugan, S.J., will accompany his team to Jeffersonville, N.Y., for the annual debate there.

Parisian artist seeks his ideal model.

Members of the cast were seniors: Michelle Montione, Donna Partigan, Mary Frances Boothby, Jane Garvin, Diane Aceto, Ellen Zurkey, Dorothy Serdenis, and Patricia Cammarata.

After the play, Student Council president, Nancy Cahill, and Senior Class president, Cathy Dobbertin, presented Sister Marie Margaret with the students' gifts, a spiritual bouquet and other spiritual offerings and a material gift, a set of drapes to match the color of Sister's office.

Before the girls returned once more to their books to study for yesterday's classes, they gathered again in the auditorium for a delightful comedy concerning a teenage girl.

Wendy Wiksom, 10 Arlington Street, took a second place certificate in the interview contest.

Her interview was with Doris Fuchs, Olympic gymnast champion.

Certificates of Honor went to the Spectrum at the West Union Magazines Contest and to the Gabriel for newspaper typography. The following students received Honorable Mention Certificates: Judith Mildenberger, 39 Elwood Drive, sports writing; Judith Edwards, 28 Spearmin Drive, editorial writing; and Virginia Schlitzer, 148 Gorsline Street, editorial writing.

She has contributed articles to the ESSPA Magazine and has frequently spoken at convention meetings on such topics as "Writing Feature Stories," "Writing the Lead," "How to Handle the Interview," and "Financing the School Newspaper." Sister has also contributed an article to the Gannett, publication of Gannett newspapers.

UN Week

History students at St. Agnes High School will mark United Nations Week, Oct. 21 to 28, with special ceremonies. The Timon Club will publish results of a survey of faculty and students, showing that almost every nation is represented at St. Agnes.

Sophomore classes will dramatize a United Nations General Assembly debate on the question of Red China's admission before the entire school, using materials sent from embassies of each country. The Ukrainian embassy sent the most copious materials on this topic.

13 Honored

Thirteen seniors at McQuaid Jesuit High School have been honored with letters of commendation for their high performance on the National Merit Scholarship qualifying test. The thirteen, who are in addition to McQuaid's five semi-finalists announced last month, compiled scores which placed them in the top two per cent of the nation's high school students.

Three of the seniors are Brighton residents, two are from Irondequoit, one from Greece, and the remaining seven from Rochester. They are: John Amann, 80 Westmoreland Dr.; James Brodman, 17 Mappedale St.; Richard Cirre, 143 West Meadows Dr., Greece; Bryan DeLeo, 119 Commodore Pkwy., Brighton; Thomas Fuest, 105 Simpson Rd., Irondequoit; Thomas Griswold, 1927 Culver Rd.; John Hanna, 170 Sylvanwood Rd., Brighton; Frank Kwiatkowski, 1310 Norton St.; J. The results of her findings in those areas are being published in a book Safari by Jet, scheduled by Charles Scribner's Sons. This is the seventh book she has published.

Sister Maria del Rey was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., and worked as a reporter for the Pittsburgh Press. She entered Maryknoll in Garden Dr., Irondequoit.

Mark Feast

Sister Marie Margaret, principal of St. Agnes High School, and St. Margaret Mary Alacqua, Sister's patron saint, must be special friends of St. Agnes girls by now. Wednesday, October 17, to observe Sister's patronal feast day, the students gathered at school where they vacationed from classes to assist at Mass in the auditorium in honor of the feast, present gifts to Sister Marie Margaret, witness a play, a movie, and indulge in idyllic interludes of chatting among themselves and their teachers in the home-rooms.

Following the Mass, sung by the student body and members of the glee club, students of Sr. M. Evelyn's drama class presented "The Silhouette and the Stars," a play in which

Russians Find Rare Icons

Moscow — (RNS) — The Moscow Radio reported that a group of Leningrad art experts had uncovered rare Russian icons in the Archangel region on the coast of the White Sea.

Sister Mary de Pazzi added that it has been proven "over and over and over again that a miracle of grace walks into a classroom in every Catholic school."

She stressed the first meeting of St. Joseph's Catholic education committee, formed recently by Father John D. Malley, pastor. About 210 attended.

SISTER DE PAZZI designed her talk mainly as a response to questions that had been submitted to her by the committee. The committee solicited the questions from parishioners.

Class size was of major interest.

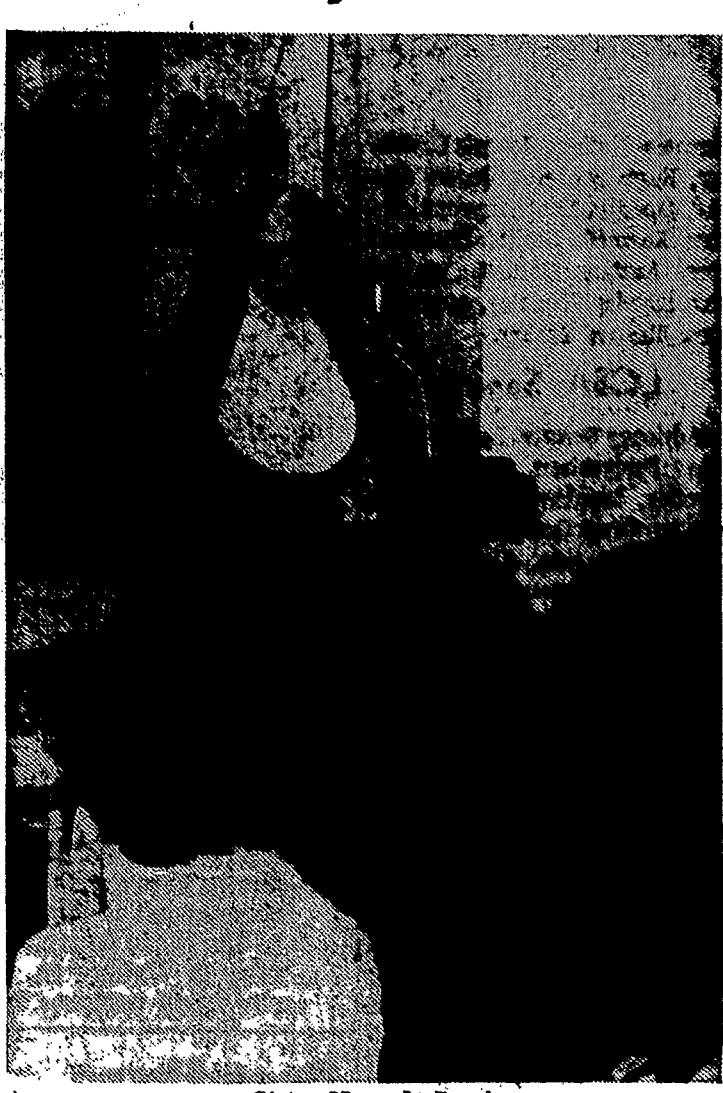

"The number of children in a grade hardly needs discussing in an intelligent group," Sister de Pazzi said. She explained why the Catholic school teacher has more to offer than the public school teacher.

The public school teacher is not allowed to give moral or

Army Teacher

A 1958 Nazareth College graduate has accepted a teaching appointment in one of the Army's Dependent Schools near Frankfurt, Germany. Carol Srokose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Srokose, 50 Rogers Parkway, left recently to join the teaching staff at the army base. After graduating from Nazareth, Miss Srokose completed requirements for a Master's Degree in Art Education at Columbia University. Prior to accepting her present position, she taught at the Whitesboro Central School.

McAuley Dean in Penfield

Sister Mary de Pazzi

"A public school teacher with five pupils can't give them what a Catholic teacher can give 50," the dean of Catherine McAuley College told a group of Penfield residents in St. Joseph's parish last Monday night.

The Catholic school teacher, however, works in a climate of religion, which permeates all subjects. She never leaves the school atmosphere; discussion away from the classroom inevitably turns to education.

The teaching nun has "education, dedication and consecration," she said.

She is able to use in her profession "every spark" she has because she need not reserve anything for home life that confronts the public school teacher.

LAY TEACHERS are equally dedicated, Sister de Pazzi said, because they sacrifice the higher pay which they could receive in the public schools.

One parishioner asked if it would not be better for the Catholic schools to retain quality teaching but make it even better by cutting class size in half. Sister de Pazzi replied, "Yes, if we weren't interested in 'saving souls.'"

Sister de Pazzi labeled the financing of the Catholic school "one of the greatest miracles of the 20th Century."

William A. Schaefer, 39 Cobles Drive, is chairman of the 10-member education committee, which plans another program in the spring.

DO YOU KNOW THE CATHOLIC MARKET FACTS?

$10,165,000.00

It takes a lot of socks 'n' shirts, dresses 'n' dungarees, pants 'n' panties to clothe the larger families of Catholic Courier readers. In fact, a recent reader survey shows that it takes $10,165,000 worth per year to keep the youngsters in clothing alone! Incidentally, the same survey bears out the larger family claim—there are more children than either the local or national average in Catholic Courier reader families.

If you want the facts about New York's fastest growing family market then ask to see the new Courier Readership survey. It's out now!
