Christmas Aid Keeps Nurse Students Busy

The Advent season has found the students at St. Joseph's Hospital, School of Nursing busy about many things in addition to their studies and hospital duty.

At the General Sodality meeting on Dec. 5, Advent and Christmas customs were explained and this served to provide new meaning to practices which might have become routine. Sodality members have attempted to make Christmas a happy time for those less fortunate than themselves by collecting gifts, helping in entertainments and sending Christmas cards.

Glee Club members told the Christmas story in song at the party sponsored by the Elmira Council of Catholic Nurses, on Dec. 13, at the Hospital Christmas Party on Dec. 18 and over the hospital public address system on Dec. 19.

EACH CLASS at St. Joseph's, including the students from Nazareth College, carolled through the hospital and followed their singing with a party in the social room of the Nurses Residence. Santa Claus distributed gifts and each girl revealed her identity to her Kris Kringle for whom she had been doing small acts of kindness during Advent.

The Student Government Association, under the direction of the junior class, sponsored a party for 50 area children. The party was complete with Santa Claus, presents, tree and lunch.

The Advent season will reach its climax for students present in the residence on Christmas Eve when they carry the figure of the Infant in procession and place it in the manger in the Little Flower Chapel.

College Given Grants, $3,500

Nazareth College has received grants totaling $3,500 from the Esso Education Foundation and Sears Roebuck and Company.

BOTH THE $2,000 grant from Esso and the $1,500 from Sears Roebuck are unrestricted.

Nazareth was one of 32 institutions in the state to receive grants from the Esso foundation which is supported by Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and six affiliates. Leo Welch, chairman of the board, is a brother of a Nazareth graduate.

Twenty-seven educational institutions shared in the Sears Roebuck aid to education program.

Eighth Errand of Mercy

"My most important job is to say a sincere thank-you," commented Dr. Paul S. Lalonde, Rochester dentist, as he packed for his eighth trip to Tanganyika to aid mission nuns in their works of mercy.

While other people have been busy wrapping Christmas presents for friends, Dr. Lalonde has been wrapping up the last of an estimated 50 tons of medical and dental supplies to be shipped to hospitals and clinics staffed by the nuns in six African nations.

"I'm grateful beyond words for the contributions of equipment, supplies and money that industries, religious and civic groups and individuals have given for the missions," Dr. Lalonde stated.

HE EXPECTS to spend nearly six months visiting hospitals and clinics in Tanganyika, Nigeria, Kenya, Uganda, and this year for his first time also in Ethiopia and Nyasaland. He will also aid the nuns in establishing three new nurse training schools in eastern Africa. Most of his time will be spent at the headquarters of the Medical Missionaries of Mary at Ndareda.

The mission community of nuns was founded twenty-five years ago in Ireland by a World War I military nurse, now the order's superior, Mother Mary Martin.

Dr. Lalonde has given illustrated talks to numerous groups of the Rochester area in the past six months and will give another picture report of progress when he returns in May.
