Christmas Aid Project Attracts College Women

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus.

At the very least over 200 adults and children will think so — thanks to a Christmas project undertaken by the Nazareth College student body.

Clothes, games, jewelry, cosmetics, food, will be delivered by Nazareth freshmen before Christmas to 18 needy families — involving 130 individuals — in the area and 75 residents of a home for girls in Albany. And every basket will glow with that extra measure of sacrifice that marks true giving.

THE PROJECT was sponsored by the Nazareth College Sodality, but the entire student body crowded into Santa's workshop. The object: to provide plenty of food and a gift for each resident of the girls' home in Albany and the 18 area families — 12 suggested by Catholic Charities, the other 6 by individuals.

Class treasures contributed money to buy the food — complete Christmas dinners with a generous supply of staples. Students donated the bulk of the remainder of the gifts, in many cases articles long treasured by the donors.

And others helped assure the success of the project.

Maine OKs Bus Rides

Augusta — (RNS) — Expenditure of public funds for bus transportation of parochial school pupils was approved by a large margin here in Maine's capital city.

The vote — 3,581 Yes and 2,157 No — came on a referendum authorized by a state legislature act allowing municipalities to decide whether they will transport parochial school pupils in public school buses.

Result of the referendum was a stronger endorsement of parochial pupil bus transportation than in 1956 when a similar vote was held. At that time Augusta residents voted 2,915 to 2,470 to provide such transportation.
