New Kidney Treatment

This gentleman (at left) has severely progressive renal disease of 3 months duration. His survival has depended for the past two months on weekly treatment with the artificial kidney. Chronic treatment with the artificial kidney has been made possible by the use of special Teflon cannules and Silastic tubes (above) that permit use of the same vessels for several months. With this treatment the patient, (at right) previously a hopeless case, is rendered ambulatory, capable of performing social functions, and of possibly being gainfully employed. Patient is Lewis Alger, 19 Lehigh.

Honor Roll

Two hundred eighty-eight students at McQuaid Jesuit High School, almost 36 percent of the school's 805 enrollment — are listed on the honor roll announced this week by McQuaid principal Rev. Cornelius J. Carr, S.J. The honors cover the entire first semester including mid-year examinations.

First honors, for average of at least 90 with no mark below 85, were attained by 60 students, 25 of them freshmen. One-hundred fourteen had second honors with averages of at least 85 and the same number received honorable mention with averages of at least 80. Freshman honorees 133 led all classes, with 35 honors winners followed by honorariums 24, 23, and 24, all with 26.

Individual leader was freshman Robert McKay of 5 Callahan Rd., Pittsford, with a 96.6 average. Just behind him was junior Paul Casamace of 117 Seventh St., Rochester, with 96.6; sophomore Mark Sullivan of 181 Apollo Drive, Greece, with 96.0; and senior Jan Yutzy of 56 Danbury Circle So., Brighton, with 95.4.

Other top-ranking students in the four years were:
Senior — Richard Spies (95.1), James Brozman (95.0), Thomas Szabo (94.3), John Fester (94.2)

Junior — James Uebjacker (94.5), J. Michael Shughnessy (94.4), James Vally (93.0), Joseph Connelan (92.9)

Sophomores — Richard Rudy (94.2), Robert Budic (94.0), Charles Kober (93.4), Richard Hughes (92.9)

Set Record

In spite of the popular notion that teen-agers aren't the students their fathers were, Aquinas Institute recorded the highest number of honor students in history at its recent mid-term examinations.

Over one-third of the enrollment — 401 students — were listed on the honor roll with 116 earning membership in the St. Thomas Club, Aquinas' highest scholastic achievement.

Rev. L. G. Hart, C.S.B., the school's vice-principal, called the examination results "very gratifying," particularly in view of the fact that Aquinas Institute is exclusively a New York State Regents school and all students must meet at least the minimum requirements of the Regents.

who have superior intelligence are largely responsible for the advances society makes, and will continue to make, on all fronts," Father Ellinger said.

James Chiatery led the entire school in the recent examinations with an average of 98.30 per cent. A sophomore, Chiatery is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Chiatery of 433 Hazelwood Terr. He is a graduate of St. Ambrose school.

In second place was Gregory Holt of Holy Family school with a 97.86 per cent average. Toth was followed by a fellow parishoner, Timothy Clat, who earned a 97.16 per cent average.

Other members of the "big ten" were: Michael Melutt of Sacred Heart parish, 96.85%; Edmund Regina of St. George's parish, 96.69%; Francis Dealy of St. Augustine parish, 96.50%; Lawrence Unges of Corpus Christi parish, 96.50%; Dennis Bromka of St. Thomas parish, 96.50%; Thomas Pesar of St. Monica parish, 96.37; and John Dinolfo of Holy Rosary parish with 95.93%.

Father Hart also announced that an extremely large number of eighth grade students have applied for admittance to next year's freshmen class, far more than the school can accommodate. Selection, he said, will be made on the basis of an entrance examination to be held at the school on Saturday, Feb. 2.

Closed Retreat

Fifty-four Nazareth Academy seniors will spend this weekend on a closed retreat at the Conaco Retreat House on East Ave.

Exercises will include lectures by the Rev. James P. Malone, S.J., conference with advisors, recollection periods and spiritual reading.

Retreat will open at 5 p.m. Feb. 1 and close at 4 p.m. Feb. 3. The Student Council is sponsoring this retreat under the chairmanship of Carol Krug.

Vigorous discussion, perhaps the most vigorous ever heard at a student congress, was given on various bills up for consideration. Webster High School forcefully attacked a bill which proposed to place unions under anti-trust laws.

The Congress reached fever pitch when a bill, proposed by James Kehoe of Aquinas, was introduced to give aid to private
