Blue Cross Circle Marks Anniversary

Mt. Morris—A small group of ladies, who organized a local unit of the Blue Cross Circle of the Catholic Medical Missions, for the purpose of making bandages and articles for lepers and the missions, have started their fifth year of volunteer work.

The ladies meet once a month at the homes of the members and cut and sew articles from donated and purchased materials such as used sheets, tablecloths and shirts. A lot of work is done at home between meeting nights. During the past four years the ladies have produced and shipped to the medical missions the following articles: 9000 bandages, 4700 compresses, 900 hospital gowns, 36 sterile dressings, 12 crisp sheets, 96 crib pads, 8 crisp quilts, 300 infant gowns, 250 infant kimonos, 300 infant jackets, 100 washcloths, 345 slings, and 348 miscellaneous items. A total of 38 cartons of these items have been shipped for the missions and $10 has been donated to the Medical Mission Building Fund in New York.

All the members of this Blue Cross Circle are also members of the St. Patrick's Rosary Society that has given some financial help to the group in carrying on their charitable work. The ladies are now making articles of children's clothing for Pope John's "storehouse" to aid needy throughout the world.

The circle was first organized in January 1958. The original members were Miss Anna Croston, Mrs. Emma Foley, Mrs. Teresa Laritoe, Mrs. Eugenia Zangerle, Mrs. Martha Downey, Mrs. Celia Gallivan, Mrs. Gladys Owens, Mrs. Nena Stockings, Mrs. Anna Keating and Mrs. Agnes Foster. Of this original group two members have moved away, Mrs. Downey and Mrs. Owens. Three new members have joined the original group, Mrs. Alice Brooks, Mrs. Mary Hargraves and Miss Gretchen Cauley.

TRANT'S

"Man's best conversations are his better thoughts. Fortunately, these have a tendency to find expression in the written word for the purpose of preservation and perpetuation. From such standards develop the books that are so valuable and helpful to us all, and so constructive and consoling as well as comforting. The accomplishment of a text for good reading is a real treasure.
