Disc Notes

From Paul Constable

Bye, Bye Birdie, the sparkling [illegible] out in [illegible] numbers. Fine spoof of the reactions of teen-agers of today to their parents and to their emotional problems, told within the framework of a Presley-type record idol is still pleasing audiences throughout the country in the movie version with some minor changes and the addition of a title song. The music and lyrics by Charles Strouse and Lee Adams respectively, contain many lyrical and satirical moments.

Tunes from the film are impressively presented on a new Colpix release starring James Darren, Shelley Fabares, The Marcels and Paul Peterson with Stu Phillips, his chorus and orchestra.

Darren is pleasing in his rendition of A Lot of Livin' To Do and Baby, Talk To Me. The title song and How Lovely To Be A Woman receive splendid treatment from Miss Farbares who is joined by Paul Peterson for a pleasing version of Kids (Folks) and all three join for the exciting tune, Put On a Happy Face.

The Marcels sing One Last Kiss and Honestly Sincere and couldn't be better. Paul Peterson adds Rosie and One Girl to make this a disc you'll be playing over and over and enjoying more each time you hear it.

Colpix also released a jazz interpretation of Bye, Bye Birdie with Bill Potts and his orchestra. The jazz enthusiast will particularly enjoy the unique artistry of the flugelhorn on Bye, Bye Birdie and Baby Talk To Me. The trumpet is particularly impressive in Rosie and the tita sax stands

One of [illegible] latest singing talents of the [illegible] Burl Ives has released a ne[illegible]ction that he has dubbed [illegible]k music of tomorrow" [illegible] Decca label, Tilled, Sin[illegible] the album is truly fas[illegible] The unique artistry of [illegible] is impressive throughou[illegible] beautiful This Is All [illegible] the powerful ballad [illegible] Love, It Comes and Goe[illegible]

The bongos and guitars add a distinctive touch to the fine rendition of Baby Come Home to Me and a touch of the Caribbean is added with My Chicken Ran "Way to the Bush.

Burl Ives lends his brilliant and beloved style to such other tunes as The Late Movie, Roses and Orchids, Man About Town, Two Car Garage and There Goes Another Pal of Mine. One of Burl Ives best.

The Texas Boy's Choir—Folk Songs and Western Ballads is another recent Decca release. The 26 young voices featured in this album are the cream of the 150 member Texas Boys' Choir of Fort Worth, rated one of the finest in the world.

Having traveled more than 30,000 miles throughout the United States, Europe and Mexico to fill over 700 personal appearances, the selections in this album represent the most requested folk songs and western ballads from their wide repertoire.

Included are Old Chisholm Trail, Home on the Range, Buffalo Skinners, Goodbye Old Paint, Betsy From Pike, Whoopee Ti-Yi-Yo and eight others including Revolutionary Tea with soloists Dana Watson and John Kuhan adding a splendid touch to the charming and melodious performance.

The Exciting Voice of Charles K. L. Davis has been captured on the Colpix label in one of the finest collections of songs ever gathered on a single LP. Davis is flawless in his presentation and the disc couldn't be better.

Included are If I Could Tell You How Deep is the Ocean, Sweethearts in Paradise, Because of You, Till the End of Time, Love is a Many Splendored Thing, True Love, If You Are But a Dream, Our Love, Time After Time, Love is the Sweetest Thing and Love is Here to Stay. A showcase of beautiful music.

A spoof of history by comic-writer Gene Wood is presented on the Decca released What Would Have Happened If? depictings of the history of the world that might have been but fortunately never was. With routines lasting from 22 seconds to more than three minutes each, Woods provides many laughs throughout the album. Typical routines include one about Alexander Graham Bell who is about to demonstrate the telephone for the first time and discovered he didn't have a dime. Another routine shows the Louisiana Purchase being cancelled because Napoleon didn't give green stamps. A fun record.

'Hootenanny' In Hilton To Aid the Handicapped

A "Hootenanny for the Handicapped" will be held Saturday, Aug. 24, at 8 p.m. at Firemen's Field in Hilton. (In the event of rain, the Hootenanny will be moved to the Hilton High School Auditorium.)

Folk songs by vocal and instrumental groups, with the entire production being coordinated by Alfred Moses, of the staff of Brockport State Teachers College are planned. Moses, who contributed so much to the success of the recent Hootenanny at the Brockport Arts Festival, will also act as master of ceremonies.

Boys of Scout Troop 45, Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, under the direction of Scoutmaster Charles Schaal—are assisting in innumerable ways to insure a successful evening.

ALL PROCEEDS from the affair (donation is 50 cents per person) will go to the Residential Fund for Handicapped Children of Rochester and Monroe County.

The Residential Fund will be used to subsidize temporary and emergency residential care of severely handicapped children—those who cannot be accommodated in any other facility in this community.

A committee composed of several local business and professional persons concerned with humanitarian needs in this area is hard at work on plans to meet the urgent necessity for an accommodation of this kind.
