Sodality Conclave

The annual convention of the National Federation of Sodality was held in Cleveland, Oct. 12-13. It was attended by the president of the St. Agnes Sodality and by three local high school Sodality moderators.

In attendance were the Rev. P. David Flinn, Sodality director; Sister Josephita, Nazareth Academy; Sister Marie Vincent, St. Agnes; and Sister Mary Maureen, Mercy.

At the convention, commemorating the 40th anniversary of the founding of the Sodality, a number of lay leaders representing AID, PAULA, the Peace Corps, etc., spoke.

Team Teaching

Under way in the English department at Nazareth Academy is an experiment in team teaching, an educational technique which seeks to give each student teacher time, talent and method.

Three English III classes, meeting 60 periods under the separate direction of Sister Christine, Sister Sophia, and Sister Jean Strachan, are being combined for a three-week study of the short story. The study will, planned by Sister Christina, provides for a large group meeting of the three classes several times a week. At this meeting is a secure hall, teachers may give reports on discussions held in their own class. Open discussion may follow these reports, or a lecture by a teacher may point the way for further study. Maximum use of audio-visual aids is arranged.

Two other three-week units are scheduled, each under the direction of a different member of the team. Incomplete one-day meetings are also arranged, such as the recent lesson by Miss Strachan on the Common Man in a Man for all Seasons, and the play's relationship to Greek drama.

Pageant Held

The Student Council of Nazareth Academy honored the Sisters of St. Joseph with a pageant in the auditorium Oct. 10, commemorating the founding of their community.

The pageant, under the direction of Sister St. Gertrude and Miss Jean Strachan, was based on a scene from the Revolutionary War fought in France when Sisters of St. Joseph suffered martyrdom.

Reverend Mother Agnes Cecilia

Reverend Mother Agnes Cecilia, mother general of the Sisters of St. Joseph and former principal of Nazareth Academy was special guest.

Apostolic fields portrayed were Nazareth College, the four high schools staffed by the Sisters of St. Joseph, the elementary schools, Nazareth Hall, St. Joseph's Villa, St. Ann's Home for the aged, St. Joseph's Hospital, Good Samaritan Hospital School of Practical Nursing, and St. Elizabeth's Elementary School for Negroes in Selma, Alabama.

Big Sisters

The sophomore class of St. Agnes High School officially became upperclassmen Oct. 10, as they joined the ranks of "Big Sisters" at St. Agnes during the traditional sophomore day ceremonies. Amid hits and rattles and baby jockeys and teaching tips, the sophomores, each accompanied by a "Little Sister," were picked, initiated and entertained and welcomed the freshmen as the newest members of the SAA family.

Committee classes ordinarily scheduled for periods 6 and 7, the sophomores presented entertainment and refreshments in the school auditorium. Joan Weber and Carol Uebelacker each wrote skits for the occasion, and each sophomore home room competed in a game of cards with its "Little Sister" group. Excitement mounted as each "Little Sister" received and opened her gift personally chosen for her by her own "Big Sister." Ice cream and candy bars were then served to all.

In charge of the events for this all-important affair were the sophomore class officers: president, Mary Ellen Kwiatkowski; vice president, Therese Young; secretary, Sue Baring; treasurer, Patricia Scholten; Sophomore class moderator is Sister Anicetus and freshman class moderator, Sister Mellita.

Debate Honors

Four McQuaid Jesuit High School juniors combined their debating talents to come within speaker points of capturing the Canadian International Debate and Oratory Tournament in Buffalo last Saturday.

The 40 record chalked up by Mark Sullivan and Jim Patena and the 31 of Dick Rody and Charles Finney gave McQuaid a record of 7-1, giving it with Brendan's High of Brooklyn for top honors. The first place trophy went to St. Brendan's on speaker points, with McQuaid taking the second place award.

Another McQuaid junior, Bob Bragg, was second place in oratorical interpretation.

The competition, first of the season, attracted 34 schools from Canada, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland and other Middle Atlantic states. The event's topic is Resolved: That Social Security Should Be Ex-

Panel Formed

A dating panel consisting of two Mercy students and three representatives from boys' schools was presented at the Student Government Association-sponsored assembly at Mercy High Monday, Oct. 7.

The panel was moderated by Miss Ann Cullen, personality and charm consultant who featured at Mercy.

Top Rating

Two Mercy publications have received the top rating, All-Catholic, in the annual Catholic School Press Association survey. They are the newspaper, the Quill, and the literary magazine, the Mercedes.

The Mercedes also merited the additional honor, "Publication of Distinction," from the CSRA. It was rated excellent in the following areas: Catholicity, service to the school and student body, editorials, editorial articles, reviews, criticisms, essays, verse typography and makeup, and art work.

Editors of the publications were Jessica Schapp, Quill, and Denise Sobbing and Loda Wandita, Mercedes.

Press Convention

Members of the publication staffs at area schools will attend the Empire State Scholastic Press Association convention at Syracuse University on Oct. 25 and 26.

Sister Mary Christine and Sister Mary Cecilia, publication moderators at Mercy High, will accompany the group. Sister Christine will speak at the magazine session Friday afternoon on "Training a Staff."

Highlighting the two-day event will be an address by Mrs. Turner Colledge, managing editor of the New York Times, at the convention banquet Friday night.

College Night

Mercy seniors and juniors and their parents have been invited to attend a college night which is to be held in the school auditorium at 8 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 24.

The purpose of the College Night, sponsored by the Parents' Association and the guidance department, is to give the students and parents a better idea of higher educational institutions and the opportunities for a college graduate, according to Sister Mary Bryan, guidance coordinator at Mercy.

Speakers for the evening will include Sister Josephine Louise, Dean of Nazareth College; Donald E. Smith of Monroe Community College; and Russell McPhy of the Industrial Management Council.

Sister Josephine Louise will speak on "The Admission Policy topic will be 'The Admission of Private Colleges.' Smith's Policy of State Sponsored Schools." McCarthy's topic is "What the Professionally Trained Girl Can Expect to Find in the World of Work-Five Years from Now." He will discuss the future of different careers and the effect of industry on a career.

Spend a little now to save a lot later

What does your house need, really need to make it more comfortable this winter? Full insulation? That'll save you fuel costs, and incidentally make your house more comfortable all year round.

Full house-power, as our friends the electric people call it? No more blown fuses when you plug in two or more appliances, plenty of outlets and no danger of overloading.

New roof, or gutters and flashing replaced? Damaged roof can lead to ruined walls and ceilings. Have an antiquated heating plant? That should be replaced?

How about adding a bathroom to ease that morning traffic jam? Thought about turning your basement into a rumpus room? Or turning the attic into extra bedrooms?

Whatever project you've got in mind, call your dealer or contractor you want a Midland Time Plan Home Improvement Loan. Why Midland Time Plan? It's bank financing at bank rates. You get up to $5,000; take up to 180 months to repay. Or drop in and see us.
