Clothes Pick-up Listed Nov. 17-23

At the request of Bishop Kearney, nearly 150 parishes of this diocese will join more than 16,000 other Catholic parishes of the nation in the 15th annual Catholic Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection for the needy of the world, to be held locally during the week preceding Thanksgiving, Nov. 17-23. To head the diocesan drive Bishop Kearney has appointed the Rev. E. Leo McMannus of St. Bernard's Seminary.

PREVIOUS nationwide collections, directed by Catholic Relief Services, the overseas relief agency of the American Catholic bishops, have amassed a total of 170 million pounds of clothing, bedding, and shoes. Since the first collection in 1949 the parishes of the Rochester diocese alone have contributed almost four million pounds of usable clothing.

"The record of the generosity of the clergy and laity in this important cause is an enviable one," said Father McMannus. "Last year the people of our diocese donated a total of 264 tons, the largest amount ever given in the history of our clothing collections."

Individual parishes will establish their own collection centers to receive the clothing, and will then ship directly to the new warehouse of Catholic Relief Services in Brooklyn. This agency, the largest private voluntary organization of its size in the world, will distribute the clothing in more than 60 countries regardless of race, creed, or color.

25 Years Ago

(From the files of Catholic Courier Journal, Nov. 3, 1938)

More than 200 Auburn Council, Knights of Columbus attended a breakfast at Osborne Hotel after assisting at Mass in St. Aloysius Church celebrated by Bishop Kearney. The Bishop urged the knights to carry on with vigor, the precepts of their order.

Pointing out that "we are not here to celebrate the existence of a building but rather to honor deeds performed in the past in the service of God," the Rev. Emil J. Gefell was heard at the Golden Anniversary of St. Francis Xavier Church in that church.

As a lasting reminder of St. Patrick's Cathedral, an imposing shrine built by Patrick J. Mackey at his home 91 Congress Ave. was formally unveiled by Rev. John L. Maxwell of Canandaigua and blessed by Rev. Edward Hartmann of St. Monica's.

Newman Clubs Confer

State Session Mapped Here

Utica College was the scene of the annual fall meeting of Empire State Province of Newman Clubs, Oct. 25-27. In previous year these meetings have been basically leadership conferences but the trend has now bbeen changed to educational conferences, beginning this fall.

An educational conference stresses a wider effort of the Newman movement that did the leadership conference. The latter had been mainly concerned with the work of the Newman movement on the local campus. The new stress lies in the spreading of mission work off campus as wel las one, to get a wider spreading of faith.

This fall's conference stressed the theme of the "campus mission," that is, how an individual on a college campus can spread the faith to the less fortunate peoples of the world.

THREE LECTURES were given. Rev. William A. Scott, associate professor of theology at LeMoyne College in Syracuse, spoke on "Charity and the Christian Student." Following Mass, Rev. Thomas Phelan, resident Catholic chaplain at RPI in Troy, spoke on the "Campus Mission." Later in the afternoon, slides of the Newman Missions were shown in a semi-lecture fashion.

Social aspects were not forgotten either as there was a number of events planned. Friday night there was a mixer and dance held for the early arrivals. Saturday night featured a dinner dance held at the Twin Ponds Golf and Country Club Guest speaker at the dinner was Rev. Lucein Robarge, O.F.M.

Rev. Stanley Gerlock, Utica College Newman Club chaplain, gave a brief address to the delegates on Friday and was the main speaker at the Communion-breakfast, held after the Mass at Holy Trinity Church.

The province executive committee took advantage of the break on Saturday afternoon to meet and discuss a number of problems dealing with the coordination of the regional directors. This helped to straighten out a few of the problems as a numberof solutions were formulated.

THESE SOLUTIONS will be applied in the different regions of the province and a full report will be given by the ESP executive officers at the next convention which is scheduled for RIT in Rochester, sometime in late February or early March. Exact date will be announced at a later time.

A final tabulation showed that over 150 delegates from 21 schools, in the province attended the fall educational conference at Utica College. Those schools represented included: Alfred, Auburn, Buffalo, Buffalo State, Cazenovia, Cornell, Delhi, Fredonia, Hamilton, Ithaca, Morrisville, Oneonta, Oswego, Paul Smith, RIT, RPI, Russell Sage, Skidmore Syracuse, Union and hosting Utica College.

National CWV Head Denounces Tito Visit

Two weeks ago the leading nation in the free world played host to Marshall Tito, Communist Dictator of Yougoslavia. A man who by his very existence is a sworn enemy of democracy and the American way of life.

In Rochester on Oct. 24, National Commander of the Catholic War Veterans Walter D. Hyle Jr. of Baltimore, Maryland, in an exclusive release for the Courier Journal has this to say: "As National Commander of the Catholic War Veterans of America, I submit that inviting this Communist dictator to visit us is folly. Treating him as anything but an enemy is betraying all that America stands for and in the name of the Catholic War Veterans of America, I call upon all Americans to treat this co-creator of the cold war as the enemy he is. Then call upon your representatives in Congress to find out how this "Open door policy" to Communists came about and insist that they insure against it happening again. Tito is a Communist and an enemy who has sworn to the same goals as Khrushchev, Mao and Castro to wipe out Democracy."

WHEN PUT TO a question by the Courier editor regarding a recent New York Times article stating that the Catholic War Veterans should not have a Charter from Congress, because the organization is exclusive, Commander Hyle said that the existing veterans organiza-
