Aquinas Wins Tourney To Meet Edison Tech

Aquinas' Jim Caverly, active Little Irish basketball team, led a string of seven into the biggest upset of the holiday season last Friday night as the locals defeated Waterloo 59-50.

Sturdy Tom Pestorius, who stands 6-foot-6 in his stocking feet, scored 17 points to lead the Irish against the Waterloo giants.

HELPING OUT PESTORIUS were Jim Caverly and Frank Wosnick.

Irish Coach Jack Kelly will try to capitalize on his fast break and full-court press when his team meets Edison tomorrow at 7 p.m.

Kelly will rely heavily on Pestorius and Caverly who have been averaging 15.3 and 14.3 points per game.

Tickets for the doubleheader are available at the War Memorial box office.

Representatives from the various churches concerned will hold informal discussions on liturgical matters and make unofficial recommendations on such matters as public worship.

Initial projects to be discussed are:

1. The planning of a calendar, forms of daily services and a list of Scriptural readings for services.

2. The planning of joint forms of service which might be used with approval of various churches on occasions of public worship.

3. Consideration of the structure of services of Holy Communion.

The Anglican Primate, Archbishop Michael Ramsey of Canterbury, was asked to help bring the group into being by issuing invitations to various churches to appoint members.

He himself named the Anglican representatives who include one bishop.
