Work Honored

A Mercy sophomore's literary efforts were rewarded recently when a poem by Mimi Kennedy was published in a nationwide magazine, the Catholic School Editor. The honor was a result of the 1963 contest sponsored by the magazine.

Open to high school and college students whose work appears in Catholic School Press Association publications, the contest evaluated the areas of writing, photography, and art.

Two 1963 Mercy graduates also gained honors in the contest. Margaret Weston won first place in the high school art division. Her drawing of a cat, which appeared in Mercy's literary magazine, the Mercedes, was also published in the Catholic School Editor. Katherine Ashenbarg received honorable mention for high school short story writing.

"Let There Be Spring" was the title of Mimi Kennedy's eight-line poem, describing winter's plan for spring to come.

Ski Club

Mercy's newest club, a ski club, has been organized under the auspices of the Student Government Association according to Ro Lo Verde, SGA president.

At the club's first meeting of the year, election turnout gave the presidency to senior Celia Walsh; the vice-presidency to senior Claudia Stover, and the job of secretary-treasurer to junior Andrea Odenbach.

The club has plans for ski trips, additional speakers, movies to instruct the members in skiing's safety rules, "dry" lessons, and skiing exercises.

Mercy Poets

A poem, "The Miser," written by a Mercy senior, Sharon Dunn, received a letter of special recognition from the National High School Poetry Press.

This poem and those of eleven other Mercy seniors will be published in the Annual Anthology of High School Poetry.

Mission Talk

"No priestland" was discussed by members of Mercy's Catholic Students Mission Crusade at their first Study Club meeting on Jan. 17, according to Mary Walsh, CSMC president.

Each mission captain led the members of the CSMC in her home room, in a discussion of the Southern Home Missions. The program was launched to promote a greater knowledge of the United States in terms of a mission land and to tell how Catholic students can affect the millions of Americans who do not belong to any religious sect.

Mardi Gras

The Men's Guild of Cardinal Mooney High School will sponsor the 2nd Annual Mardi Gras, Feb. 7 and 8 in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m., each evening.

The program with gay costumes and decorations will turn

Essays Win

"Abilly Counts" for Nazareth Academy students whose essays on this subject brought them a $50 U.S. Government Bond for First Place and a $25 Bond for second place in the annual contest sponsored by the President's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped.

Students winning the awards are First Place, Joyce Lambrose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lambrose, 173 Rosemary Drive; and Second Place, Carolyn Pero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Pero, 229 Pepperidge Drive.

Honorable Mention was awarded to the following: Mary Anne Cocchi, Anne Marie Miller, and Michele Patricia Love.

Monroe County Powers Chapter No. 15 Disabled American Veterans are giving the awards which will be presented at a school assembly.

Record Hop

"Mid-term Magic," a Record Hop climaxed by an examination week, will be held in the school gymnasium at Nazareth Academy from 8 to 11 p.m. Friday, January 31. The Quintones will play.

The dance open to all Catholic High School students, is under the chairmanship of Suzanne Bausch, a freshman.

Retreat Set

Following January examinations Bishop Kearney High School students will make a three-day retreat, January 28-30. Reverend Daniel Bowen, C.S.S.R. of Philadelphia will be retreat master for the girls and Reverend James McNulty will give the boys' retreat. Both are experienced retreat masters.

There will be three confessions daily, with Holy Mass at 11 a.m. and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at 2 p.m. Five or six priests will be present each day at the school as visiting confessors.

The school sodality sponsored panel Tuesday, Jan. 21 on the general topic of the annual school retreat. Questions were directed to a panel of sodalists divided according to Aristotelian categories, with Father William Amann, school chaplain, as chairman. Panelists included Joan Greenfield, Alan Ozminowski, Susan Lehner, Paul Walk, Esther Denaro, Steve Gormican, Kathleen Smith, Roger Palma, Cynthia Sulanowski, Dan Oberst, Barbara Parks, and Michael Crittelli.

Questioners were Melanie Cowan, Judy Brown, Greg Conhercel, and Rick Mayere.

Mardi Gras

The Men's Guild of Cardinal Mooney High School will sponsor the 2nd Annual Mardi Gras, Feb. 7 and 8 in the school cafeteria at 7:30 p.m., each evening.

Party Listed

The sophomore class of St. Agnes High School will not be in uniform next Wednesday, Feb. 5. They will be "dressed up" for they are going to a party.

The celebration of Sophomore Class Day will begin at Wednesday in the auditorium with the showing of a movie (title unknown—it's a surprise). This is to be followed by supper in the cafeteria, beginning with hamburgers and all the trimmings, and ending with sundaes.

At six-thirty, a talent show is scheduled featuring the Merry Minstrels—Mary Ellen Kwiatkowski, Anne Murrer, Patricia Shughnessy and Kathy Hudley; Irving, Cathy Ziemba, Ellen the Goofers—Theresa Young and Joanne Smith; and the Beatles—Tracy Hahnover, Julie Brennan, Elizabeth Dlan and Donna Faiello.

An original skit "Pretzling Up Pearl" will be staged by Sue Bagley, Patricia O'Reilly and Anne Taylor. Ending the show will be the River Road Ramblers—Julie Manning, Patricia Magill, Virginia Hall, Margaret D'Este and Barbara LaVilla.

Next on the program is a basketball game complete with cheerleaders. A Sing-Along consisting of original songs composed by members of the class will terminate the evening's entertainment.

Plans for the SAK Sophomore Class Day were formulated by the officers of the Class of '64 under the guidance of their class moderator Sister Annetta.

The following chairman and their committees took charge: Mary Ellen Kwiatkowski, Sing-Along; Theresa Young, Cheerleaders; Patricia Schoelles, Basketball; Sue Bagley, Refreshments; Mary Doherty and Rosemary Blum, Talent Show.

Alumnae Meet

St. Agnes High School alumnae and their guests will assemble for their next meeting this Wednesday evening, Feb. 5 at 8:00.

The evening's activities will begin with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament in the convent chapel. A short business meeting will then be conducted in the school auditorium.

Marie Finks, secretary of the Alumnae Association and entertainment chairman for this meeting, announces the special feature will be a Bingo, with prizes.

Refreshments will be served by Lynn McNamee Gilette and her committee.

Members of the Alumnae Association are urged to bring as their guests, their mothers, their sisters, their sisters-in-law and their friends.

CYO In The News

A free golf clinic for men sponsored by the Catholic Youth Organization and featuring Sunday Crests pro Bobby Hill will be held at the CYO Golf Driving range Feb. 10 at 7:30 p.m.

The evening will include Bobby Hill's expert lecture and demonstration of golf techniques (assisted by his pro Pete Vandewalker).

Golf films and refreshments will follow. Everyone is welcome.

Swimming Program

Every Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 8:30 until 9:30 the CYO Swimming Dept. conducts instruction. For business men: Tuesday is a learn to swim class and Thursday is a class of instruction for improvement of swimming skills. Any one interested is welcome. For more information, contact Mr. Gary Ertel, BA 5-2702.
