McQuaid Takes Crown

With junior Tony Leonardo leading the rebounding and scoring in championship style, McQuaid Jesuit High captured its third diocesan title on Sunday in a 69-37 victory over Notre Dame of Elmira at R.I.T.'s Ritter-Clark gymnasium.

An SRD crowd watched the finale, in which Leonardo tallied 27 points and grabbed 18 rebounds. Earlier, Aquinas gained consolation honors in the sixth annual tourney by routing DeSales of Geneva, 84-39.

McQuaid had anything but an easy time with the Crusaders from Elmira, whose 17-2 record going into the game stamped them as a definite title contender. In the early going it was N.D. on top by an 8-3 count as Jerry Roslock, Ron Limoncelli, and Bill Knott hit on fouls and John Barnoski took a pass from Knott for a layup.

LANCE COMPA was the only Knight to score for the first 4 minutes, but then Leonardo broke loose. He cashed 3 fouls and a jump shot to tie it up, and rebounded from underneath for a goal that put McQuaid ahead, 14-12, right at the quarter buzzer.

As it turned out, the Knights never trailed after that. Four points by Mike Spiegel and a drive by Leonardo gave them a 22-14 lead with 5 minutes to go in the half, and the Crusaders never closed that gap to the danger point. They were within 25-20 when Compa and Leonardo clicked on jump and drives for 5 baskets and a 35-24 half-time advantage.

Senior Sam Iacone, who along with Joe Miller and Vince Rosso closed out his scholastic career in the victory, scored twice from underneath to give the Knights a running start into the second half, with Notre Dame hanging doggedly in the running.

The Crusaders were down by 13 at 55-42 before they were able to launch a sustained comeback. Knott, Roslock, and John McCarthy led them back up to 63-55, but a fast break went awry, and Iacone's layup off Bob Brady's feed restored the initiative to McQuaid for the final two minutes.

FOR McQUAID the victory climaxed a 16-4 season that saw the Knights win 12 of their last 13. Compa and Iacone, with 15 and 10 points, wound up sharing the scoring laurels with Leonardo, paralleling the season-long statistics. And for coach Ken Jones, it was the first diocesan title, coming in his second year at the helm. He'll have four of his five starters back for a defense of the crown in '65.

For Notre Dame, the loss marked the fourth unsuccessful entry into the finale. Four seniors led Jim Flynn's scrappy Crusaders in the disappointing wind-up to a banner season. Limoncelli had 14, Knott 13, Roslock 11, and McCarthy 11. Knott, incidentally, led all tournament scorers with 47 points in 3 games.

The preliminary game saw senior Tom Festus win up his Aquinas exploits with brilliant shooting exhibition that netted 24 points. The 6-6 center, swished 12 of 18 shots from the field, including 10 of his last

This group of seniors had provided me with some of the most colorful copy a sportswriter could ask for. They were Don Kent, Jerry Roslock, Jim Madell and Mike Kelly whom I graduated, would also claim.

Nobody could ask for a more complete or exciting ball team to write about. They were humble victors and gracious losers. They were fine representatives for their school.

Earlier in this day, now shrouded in night, they had probably suffered their greatest disappointment—a defeat by McQuaid in the finals of the Rochester Diocesan Tournament.

They needn't be so gloomy, I thought, these boys had left Notre Dame more than just a winning tradition, they had willed next year's team a legacy of sportsmanship.

WINNING HAND . . . It belongs to McQuaid's Tony Leonardo (44), shown pumping home two of the 27 points he scored in leading the Knights to a 69-38 conquest of Notre Dame of Elmira for the diocesan championship. Leonardo, here sandwiched between N.D.'s John McCarthy (5) and Jerry Roslock, also grabbed 18 rebounds as the Knights rolled from an early deficit before a packed house at the R.I.T. gym.

12 Junior Jim Caverly provided Irish, but their eye deserted them in the third period after they had managed to stay with Kelly's early bench-clearing.

Retreat Benefits Told 80 Hornell Area Men

Hornell — The Laymen's Retreat movement is a powerful instrument to enable men to come closer to God in their daily lives was the message brought to 80 men at a breakfast here Sunday by Joseph Mark of the Notre Dame Speakers' Guild of Rochester.

Hornell area laymen's Retreat League and Hornell Council, Knights of Columbus jointly sponsored the breakfast for Catholic men of the area at the K. of C. Home.

Rev. Hubert A. Blesky, pastor of St. Ann's Church, Hornell, celebrated the Mass for the success of the closed retreat to be held at Notre Dame Retreat House, Rochester, May 1 through 3. Mark announced that two retreats for married couples will be held on July 10-12 and August 21-23.

IN HIS ADDRESS Mark explained that Communists are working long hours to indoctrinate the masses with their anti-God theory. "We as Catholics have a serious obligation to help our fellow men," he said. "The Catholic layman should give a good example in the home and bring up children by taking them to Mass and receiving Holy Communion with them often."

Retreat officers present included John F. Murphy, breakfast chairman, Victor Gessner, district retreat leader, Wayland, John Fennelly, leader, Harold Hoffman and Thurlow Gibson, co-leaders, St. Ignatius Loyola Church retreat committee; Robert Kubiak, Knights of Columbus program chairman; Joseph Bulock and Anthony Miller, co-leaders of St. Ann's Church retreat committee.

Murphy announced next meeting for all men of St. Ann's Church will be in St. Ann's School, Sunday, April 5 at 2 p.m.

Father Switzer said he explained that Our Lady said that the world must stop sinning our Lord, do penance, and make reparations.

"Our Lady of the Rosary" as she called herself, asked for penance, which she explained as fidelity to our everyday duties, for an offering of our sacrifices and sufferings for the conversion of sinners, daily recitation of the five first Saturdays, and consecration of her Immaculate Heart," he continued.
