Legion Of Decency

The following are the titles of the films reviewed this week to be used in their respective classification of the Legion of Decency April 16, 1964.

Class A, Section 1 Ready for the People

Class A, Section 2 Goliath and the Island of Vampires

Class A, Section 3 Voice of the Hurricane

Class A, Section 4 Thin Red Line, The

Class A, Section 5 Black Live Me

Note: The realistic use which this film makes of vulgarity and crudity in dialogue may prove shocking to sensitive reviewers.

Note: An A-4 classification is given to certain films which, while not morally offensive in themselves, require caution and some analysis and explanation as a protection to the uninformed against wrong interpretations and false conclusions.

Class B

What a Way to Go

Objection: What could have been a light hearted comedy-satire becomes unacceptable because much of the costuming of the central character appears to have been chosen primarily for the purpose of stimulating prurient interest. High artistic purpose does not justify flagrant exhibitionism—even if only to ridicule it.

Note: This classification is applicable only to prints shown in the U.S.A.

Class C (Condemned)

Molesters, The

Objection: Under the flimsy pretext of a documentary, whose purpose is to instruct parents to cooperate with police by reporting incidents of molestation, this film is, in fact, nothing but a sensational orgy portraying in explicit detail various sexual aberrations.

'Whatta Blast!' Set For Mooney Stage

Boasting a cast of 180 members, the Cardinal Mooney Music Theatre will present its second annual spring musical, "Whatta Blast!" on May 8, 9, 15, 16, 17 in the school auditorium, at 8:15 p.m.

Written and directed by the school principal, Brother James Madigan, the two act musical comedy centers around the faltering career of a southern politician, Colonel J. J. Jackson, played by Daniel Kavanaugh. His bid for the governorship is seriously endangered by the intervention of a "Yankee" journalist into his campaign. Teen-age pandemonium breaks loose when J.J.'s teenage daughter, played by Lorraine Lionelli, and her hot-rodding friends decide to take J.J.'s campaign into their own hands. Their energetic venture into the world of politics provides the side-splitting resolution of the plot.

Other leading dialogue roles are played by: Mary Ellen Kuntz, Thomas Richardson, Daniel Sanangelo, Parice Miller, Thomas Traverser, Elaine Kubak, William Walker, James Barbato, Katherine Smith, Kenneth Harrington, Daniel Sponker, Suzbeth Van Dusen and Gerard Brien.

Choreographed by Joseph Hayes of New York, a dance ensemble and two vocal ensembles dance and sing their way through ten hit numbers from Broadway musicals. Soloists include Uguo, Andrea Dilbert, Miss Lionelli and Kavanaugh, along with a specialty group of dancers and singers and five other numbers to the score. Freshman Daniel O'Connell stars in two soft-shoe routines which highlight each act.

Members of the girls' art class are painting scenery under the direction of Sister Mary Estelle.

Tickets are available through any Cardinal Mooney student or at the school prior to the dates of performances.
