By JOE BOGARDUS

This is the year of the "mighty moundsmen" at Notre Dame. Earlier this spring it didn't look like ND would have much when pitchers Jerry Rospink and Ron Limoncelli came down with acute sore arms.

Things looked pretty grim from this point of view, but now I feel like kicking myself down Main Street and back.

In the opening game of the season, Bill Huddle, a JV call-up, shattered my ideas about pitching. Huddle pitched a tremendous game last Saturday. He surrendered six hits, a walk, and struck out three. Faulty fielding and a bloop hit proved his downfall as Corning East bested him 4-2.

Arch rival Academy felt the sting of another fireballer. Jim Merriam twisted a three-hit shutout Tuesday. The Blue Devils crumbled to the dust 2-0. I guess these performances will teach me to be no pessimist.

The Notre Dame JV's eked out a 7-4 victory over Southside. On the golf scene, Ithaca's clubmen defeated N.D. last Friday 14-1.

Men's Mission At St. Anthony's

Solemn closing of the women's Mission will take place on Sunday afternoon.

Hornell CDA Women Hear Father McMannus

Hornell—Catholic women must care enough to become involved in the problems of today's world, the Rev. E. Leo McMannus told members of Court St. Ann, Catholic Daughters of America last night.

Father McMannus, professor of homiletics at St. Bernard's Seminary in Rochester and moderator of the Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, was principal speaker at the 51st anniversary banquet of the Hornell court. There were approximately 100 members and guests at the dinner party in The New Sherwood Hotel.

SELECTING AS his theme, the Community Chest slogan, "Suppose Nobody Cared," Father McMannus recalled the assault and murder of a young woman in New York City before 37 witnesses. "This horrible thing could happen because of the unnatural fear too many persons have of becoming personally involved," he continued.

"Suppose God didn't care enough to send His son as our Redeemer? Our destiny would be death, banishment, estrangement and abandonment. "Christ cared enough to suffer and die for us. His Blessed Mother spoke only seven times in Sacred Scripture but in each instance she revealed a perfect love and concern for God, for Christ and for those not only within her family but a tender regard for those outside.

"So long as Christ cares, we must care."

Mr. Ida Solo, grand regent, presided as toastmaster and introduced these at the speaker's table including officers of Court St. Ann; the Rev. Joseph P. Waffey, pastor of St. Ignatius Loyola Church, chaplain of Court St. Ann; the Rev. Hubert A. Bisky, pastor of St. Ann's and the Rev. William H. Hickey, chaplain of St. James Mercy Hospital.
