

ANNE KLEIN

Thru The Looking Glass Fashion Award

By LOUISE WILSON

Louise Wilson is heard 11 times each week on WHAM: 9:10 Monday through Friday & 9:25-55 Monday through Saturday.

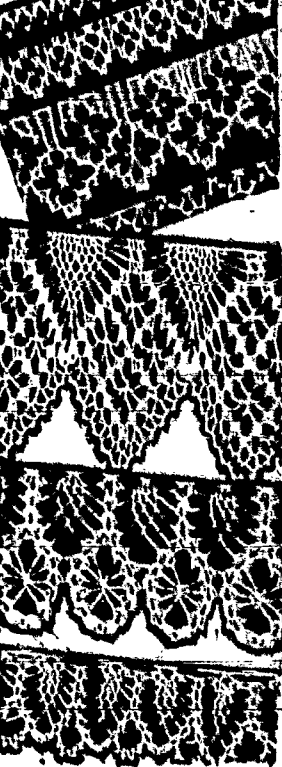

Anne Klein of Junior Sophisticates has just received the annual Cotton Fashion Award for her sheer genius in continuing to create the artfully young look in American fashion.

A jury of twelve agreed on Anne Klein's meriting the award. They took into consideration her imaginative use of the use of highly diverse cottons, from denim and poplin to organdy and lace.

Following the Award presentation, a fashion show pointed out the performance of cotton from sports through evening. White cottons called "Summer Snow," daytime cottons dubbed "Play It Cool," and at home fashions, and after-dark and evening selection were all included.

At Our House Favor'ite Friends

By MARY TINLEY DALY

A politician said recently, "I never ask for a favor, I only ask for a favor to be returned."

This is understandable, probably from a collecting point of view. "If I do something for you, by George, it will be something you'll remember—remember well enough to pay back in kind."

In other words, it is sort of like a bank deposit, to be drawn against "upon request," a tit-for-tat arrangement.

Unfortunately, this carries over, to a certain extent, into relations most of us have with relatives, friends, associates, neighbors.

"She borrowed a cup of sugar from me, so I feel perfectly free to ask her for a couple of eggs." They invited us to dinner, not a cocktail party, but a dinner. "Uncle Pete borrowed money from us to get his business started but do you think he'd ever offer to lend us money now that he's doing well? Not on your life!" "I wouldn't ask her for a favor if my life depended on it. I don't want to be under obligation!"

On the other hand, we are all blessed with a few—very few—of some of us, a very few—real friends, whether blood kin, business associates or whatever, whose tit-for-tat arrangement is utterly disregarded on both sides.

ONE OF THESE friends, rarer than rubies, more precious than diamonds, happens to be a priest with whom we have exchanged favors for many years. If books had been kept, we are sure we'd be on the debit side of the ledger, all down one page and well into another.

Somehow, though, we never think of being under obligation to him when we call him up and ask, "Father, please pray for me at Mass for a special intention." "Father, will you speak at a Communion Breakfast for our daughter's class?" "There's a young couple having trouble, Father, and we

Not all sermons begin with "Dearly Beloved" and end with "May God bless you."

Some start with "Hello" and finish with "Y.O.K.I."

This is the way our friend, Sebastian, O.F.M., Cap., performs. He is a truly happy man" as Mrs. Valeria MacGee, writer for The Catholic Standard, commented.

We, and his countless friends, add our "Amen!"

OUR REFUGEES FROM PALESTINE

PALESTINE is no longer on the map. It disappeared in 1948, as a result of the Arab-Israeli War. The Arab war produced refugees; they now number 1.4 million, and they still need food, clothing, shelter, spiritual care.

At BIERA, in ERITREA (which is part of ETHIOPIA), youngsters sit on the ground in the open air when they go to school. The reason? BIERA has no school building. To construct a building will cost very little—only $3,500. Would you like to build this school in memory of someone? Please write to us.
