Aquinas Captures Elmira Relays

A flock of records fell as expected Saturday in the Elmira Relays and the happy faces bursting across the finish line were Aquinas Institute runners for the most part.

Aquinas won the meet comfortably with 22 points. Runner-up McQuaid Jesuit, also of Rochester, finished with 12 points, edging out Elmira Free Academy which tied Ithaca high school with 10 points each.

And so Aquinas' collection of gold medals continues to grow. With Randy Block running as anchor man in the 880 relay, the Irish set a new meet record of 1:33 in the event. It was one of the four new meet marks produced by Aquinas during the afternoon. Aquinas also tied another and set a new school record, to boot.

Before the glory parade continues, it should be pointed out that McQuaid won the mile medley and set a new record. Eric Kendrick ran a 1:57.9 anchor 880 to help his team defeat Waverly. Elmira Free Academy captured the 480-yard shuttle hurdles; Southside took the distance medley and Geneva won the 440-yard event.

Aquinas broke records in the half-mile, mile and two-mile en-route to its fourth victory in the last six years of competition in the highly respected Southern Tier meet.

In the two-mile event, Aquinas' John Donovan, Barry McGee, Jerry Murray and Mike Popen established a new record of 8:27, breaking the meet record of 8:28.4 set by Aquinas in 1962.

The Aquinas squad of Dick Newman, Craig Zurkey, Tom Guerinot and Randy Block contributed to the new record in the 880-yard relay and in the mile relay Jim Walsh, Jim Bergon, Tom Woods and John O'Neill broke their schools established meet record set in 1962 with a 3:34.2 mark.

Aquinas's distance combines have been the terror of the relays circuit this spring setting no less than five new marks to date.

Last Monday Aquinas continued its winning ways by winning its nineteenth consecutive track meet, defeating Madison High School of the Interscholastic League, 86-27.

On Saturday, May 23, Aquinas will be host for the first annual Aquinas Relays, set for Fauver Stadium of the University of Rochester.

McQuaid Runs Second; Records Fall, Anyway

For the second week in a row, Aquinas and McQuaid were one-two against out-of-town opposition, with the Knights taking runner-up spot behind the Little Irish at the 13th annual Elmira Relays last Friday. That cozy arrangement may not have anyone exactly doing cartwheels around the Elmwood Ave. campus, but it has produced a substantial rewriting of the McQuaid record book. And further depredations against the surviving standards can be expected when the Knights and the Irish go at it again in the Aquinas Relays this Saturday and in next Wednesday's dual meet at McQuaid.

At Elmira, McQuaid relay teams set school marks in four of their six races, though they won only one of them. Individually, sophomores Eric Kendrick and Steve Fahy were clocked in sub-record time for relay legs, though running starts make relay times unofficial for record purposes. Point-wise, the Knights accumulated 12 to edge a pair of powerful Southern Tier rivals—Ithaca and Elmira Free Academy—for second place honors behind Aquinas's top-heavy 22-point victory total.

The evening started auspiciously, with senior Pete Gores coming up with a 14.6 anchor leg to bring the Knights home second in the 480-yard hurdles shuttle race. A school record 58.7 clocking went with the silver medals, shared by Gores, Steve Borbas, Bert DiPaola, and Dave Dunn.

In the next race, McQuaid's two-mile foursome of Greg Sloan, Paul Jones, Mike Shaughnessy, and Pete Miller, though far off Aquinas's winning pace, averaged under 2:13 apiece to lower the school mark to 8:51.5.

Gold medals went with the next record, as Kendrick outdueled his Ithaca opponent in a 1:57.9 half-mile anchor leg that carried McQuaid's mile medley team to a school and meet record of 3:42.7. It was the first time under two minutes for Kendrick, who began his leg in fourth position, some 25 yards off the pace. He caught up gradually, then battled stride for stride down the backstretch before finally taking the lead at the last turn. Keeping him in the race for his prime effort were Mike LaForce, Tom Meisch, and Gores. Meisch was timed in 22.7 for his 220 leg.

Elected to the board of directors were: Miss Mary Carvelli and Miss Mary Coccia. Don Mallidi, retiring president at the final dinner meeting, expressed thanks for cooperation given during his four years of office.

Rev. John V. Rosse, spiritual moderator of the chapter reported on the Catholic Nurses national convention in Chicago held from April 29 to May 3. He stressed the work required by the nurses if they are to preserve their organization.
