Diocesan Children Give $60,000 Young Missionaries

For the past month the children of the Rochester Diocese have been making many extra sacrifices in order to help the neglected and unfortunate youngsters in mission countries. In May, Father Duffy reports, the children put extra effort into the project as an honor and gift to Mary, the Mother of God. This part of the Association's work is known as the May Adoption Program. Last year children of the St. Andrew's School with an average of at least nine adoptions for each classroom and Sacred Heart Cathedral School with an average of at least eight adoptions followed close upon Holy Family. Other schools with an average of at least five adoptions per class room were: St. Mary's School of Elmira; Nazareth Hall Cadet School, Our Lady of Lourdes School, and St. George's School, of Rochester; St. Gabriel's School of Elmira; St. Joseph's School in Penfield; St. Mary's School in Waterloo; and St. Anne's School in Hornell. The Rochester Diocese is one of its loyal and enthusiastic supporters of Holy Childhood activities during the past school year, Father Duffy also reports. Sister M. Succursu, B.S.M., director of Holy Childhood in St. Ann's School, Hornell, died this past March. "Sister Succursu's enthusiasm and devotion for the Holy Childhood in not unique but typical of all the good sisters and teachers of the Rochester Diocese. Father Duffy said in his report. "I know this to be true for I have worked closely with all the sisters and teachers and have seen with my own eyes the benefits of their dedication."
