

At Our House

A Day's Outing

By MARY TIMLEY DALY

A summer highlight at our house and the houses of our children, is the FAMILY FROLIC put on by the Press Club. Attended by 5,000 frolicking families of newsmen, even to the third generation, it is an annual "must" for anybody who ever has attended.

Papa or Grandpa Newspaper would be in the doghouse permanently if he failed to get tickets for this the all-out good time for everybody from toddlers to the cane set.

Torrid temperatures, blistering sun, four hours on your feet, upset tummies, sticky hands and faces, lost children — why these aren't drawbacks, they are part and parcel of THE DAY.

HONESTLY, during the 10 years the Club has put on this performance, the Family Frolic grows in popularity — now in its second generation at our house — and every year brings the same familiar — ride on a fire engine, morning rounds, special ride on a miniature train, pony and horse rides, with additions every year.

Contingent going from our house today included the Head of the House and the families (all but the babies) of Pat, Johnny and Ellen; seven adults and nine children. (Ginny and I baby-sat the twins, "Baby Brennan and Little John").

Plans and plans have been widely discussed for days by small fry who had previously attended:

"We'll get in the hot dog line first — let's take two, that'll hold us while we're lining up for the fire engine. Ahd, Kate, don't get scared when the siren blows."

"Yeah, then for the popsicles and cotton candy and peanuts — you can put the peanuts in your pocket — and we'll go for the pony ride."

"No, the train!"

"The stripe ride, that's for me," said Sean.

The day, quite evidently, went off with its usual flair according to the sticky, numbed and exhilarated gang that arrived at our house to pick up the babies.

"Grandma, I ate four hot dogs and I would-a got another but Daddy took it away from me."

Ed, 10,000 hot dogs, complete with mustard and relish was on the menu, a veritable Niagara Falls of coke, plus peanuts, cotton candy, potato chips and popsicles — "All you can eat" and nobody went home hungry. (A bit squeamish, perhaps, but not hungry).

"And, Grandma, they had airplanes for big kids and air planes for little kids and ..."

"There was a milk wagon with a horse pulling it! Just ..."

like they had when you were young. Grandma, long time ago ...

Some of the variety of features included in this well-worked-out performance included a barnyard full of live farm animals — cows, chickens, rabbits, ducks — animals, city children seldom see also a mobile display of animals of the forest, "The Zoo" on wheels, a solid propellant rocket ("From NASA with love" is the program put in); canine corps and mounted patrol; and for music, the Navy Band and a Hoop-nanny.

INCLUDED also were: an exhibition of jiu jitsu and karate; sports demonstrations from fly casting to tennis; races for children horseshoe pitching, and a ladies parking contest. (We have entered "I'm over and over, never wry")

Also among the non-wins this year, as usual, were our 10 for the assignment of prizes, 664 listed, and other valuable prizes.

This matters not at all. Everybody had a good time — an excellent get-together for any organization, provided in a camaraderie established on the family plan.

"We'll go again next year, won't we, Grandma?" were parting words as three cardinals of families drove off.

For once, their parents tell us, there was no response to the jingle of the Good Humor man.

"No, the train!"

"The stripe ride, that's for me," said Sean.

Vatican Pavilion Offers Souvenir Stamp Sheets

In connection with the Vatican Pavilion at New York World's Fair, three special official souvenir sheets are being issued. Each sheet, 5 1/2 x 7 inches, reproduces in their original colors postage stamps of the Vatican, including stamps dating from the Vatican's first issues in 1879. These official souvenir sheets were printed by Thos. De La Rue, Inc., of the Vatican.

Sheet A reproduces, against a background showing the Vatican Pavilion, Vatican stamps denoting the Pope who have reigned since the Vatican first became a sovereign state in 1929: Pope Pius XI, Pope Pius XII, Pope John XXIII, Pope Paul VI, Coat of Arms of Pope Paul VI, and Vatican Coat of Arms.

Sheet B reproduces, against a background illustrating Michelangelo's Pieta, stamps showing the cathedrals of the Vatican: Aerial View of the Vatican, St. Peter's Square, Dome of St. Peter's, Cathedral of St. Peter, St. Paul, St. John Lateran, St. Mary Major, and Obelisks of Roman churches.

Sheet C reproduces, against a background of the Vatican Pavilion, stamps illustrating famous paintings as well as other subjects: "Archangel Raphael and Young Tobias" by Botticelli (cataloging over $200 and one of the rarest Vatican stamps); "Archangel Gabriel" by Da Vinci; "St. John the Baptist" by Raphael; "St. John the Evangelist" by Raphael; and the 800th anniversary of Canon Law.

These sheets will be available at the Vatican Pavilion, at the New York World's Fair, as well as by mail.

For further information write to: Fair Philatelic Agency, Box 64, World's Fair Station, Flushing, N.Y. 11350.

Prelate Plans Mission Tour

Boston — (NC) — Cardinal Cushing of Boston announced he will visit three South American countries during August — Peru, Ecuador and Bolivia.

THE CARDINAL said he will visit with the 125 missionaries of the Society of St. James which he founded to aid the Latin American missions in 1958. The missionaries are stationed in the three countries.

"I cannot speak the language of the people," the Cardinal said, "but I know from experience that the greatest language anyone can speak is the language of the heart. People learn very quickly to understand among the South American people."

The Cardinal said he also is donating a great motor bus to be used by Spanish-speaking people in Boston so they can take their children on outings.

Young Adults Field Day

The St. Thomas More Club will honor its patron saint on July 12 during a field day at Hamlin Beach State Park. All young adults are invited to join festivities. Further information and reservations are available from Pete Ciaviasci at NO 5793.

The complete series of "A History of Medicine in Pictures" is being shown for the first time at Rochester Museum of Arts and Sciences. This magnificent collection of oil paintings telling the story of medicine from 1500 B.C. to present day will be on display on the first floor of the Museum until July 27.

MRS. JOHN VAETH Class Ready To Roll

Washington — (NC) — Catharine W. Moore of the University's first rolling classroom opened for public inspection (June 28) at its 8,000-sq-ft, two-month-old off-campus building. Dr. Ross H. Arnett, head of the department of biology, is in charge of the special summer field course to study first-hand various regions' ecology, or the mutual relations between organisms and their environment.

Those taking the course are supplied with a five-ton truck and trailer, truck-station wagon, three tents and laboratory equipment. The mobile unit, the CU Institute for the Study of Natural Species will serve as classroom, home, church and laboratory for six students and their director, Dr. Arnett, authority on beetles.

Going along for the ride, not for academic credit, will be Mrs. Arnett and six of the eight Arnett children.

The class carries its own chaplain, Father Joseph Piscitelli, O.S.F.S. of Allentown, Pa., a student.

Dear Loretta Young

By MISS LORETTA YOUNG

Dear Miss Young, I am a convert of a few years and is on the CCD Executive Board. He believes we must help to save souls. A man he works with was on the verge of a divorce and my husband was instrumental in bringing the family of four back together. They belong to another parish but to be sure that they keep up their religious practice my husband goes after them every Sunday morning for Mass at our church. After Mass, they always stop at our house for dinner and supper.

Our family consists of five children and two adults with one paycheck. This has been going on for two years and lately it has been getting worse. When I ask him where it will be our turn to be fed, he tells me that they cannot accommodate such a large family and that I am actually getting the better of the whole situation.

I'd like to know just how far charity goes when you deprive your own of the necessities they need.

"Just Fed Up"

Dear "Just Fed Up": It used to be a habit of mine, when giving something away, to say "You can have it, I don't want it." I was dumfounded when a good friend of mine told me that I was not practicing real charity because it wasn't costing me anything. From what you tell me, you and your husband are practicing charity in its finest form — selfishly giving until it hurts. God will bless you and yours one hundred fold for this. Remember He promised that.

Miss Young welcomes your letters, questions and problems. Write to her, care of A/M Publication Services, Grand Central Station, P.O. Box 4434, New York, New York.

Our Turn

However, as one woman to another, why not suggest to your husband that when he feels your friends are able, wouldn't it be kind, even wise, to allow them to practice a little charity too and invite your family to their house once in awhile. After all, no one likes to be on the receiving end all of the time.

Shave or Not

I am twelve years old and considered "old fashioned." My friends think I'm wrong not to shave my legs. They say I look funny with knee length chinos (flats, and no nylons. And right in the way I dress myself? Or am I really too "old fashioned?"

"No Nylons"

Dear "No Nylons": You're not old-fashioned, honey, you're just a normal healthy twelve year old girl with good taste in dress. A little girl who dresses too old is just as unattractive as an older woman who dresses too young. Both are ridiculous because they are not acting their age.

As to shaving your legs: If you have any more than a light fuzz on your legs and you would feel cleaner if you shave it off, by all means do so. There is nothing unattractive about it.

INDIA: TO CARE FOR BABIES

FIFTEEN BABIES ARE ALIVE TODAY IN KODAKARA, INDIA. Because the babies of the Holy Family refused to let them die ... The babies were found abandoned, weak and covered with filth and sores. Now they are clean and regularly fed, thanks to the "Milk" being sent ... The women who were sent to India, many mothers cannot keep these children ... The Sisters, therefore, look to the girls. They send a few rupees in which to keep these babies (and more to come), as well as blankets, cribs, etc. We can give them anything they need for only $2,000 ... Will you help? The Sisters are caring for 16 orphans, in addition to the babies. Imagine the expense: food for food and clothing ... If you'd like to build and equip the "Home" for babies in memory of a loved one ($2,000), please write to us now. Send us your check — $2,000 — $1,000, $500, $250, $100. Who can refuse a helpless baby?

PERSONAL: TO G.V.C. THANK YOU, G.V.C. — Your three $50 bonds will help build a church in ETHIOPIA, train a native Sister in INDIA, provide medical care for refugees and lepers.

GAZA: THE BLIND BLIND YOUNGSTERS IN THE GAZA STRIP (which lies between EGYPT and ISRAEL) will be able to support themselves, thanks to what they're learning in the Pontifical Mission Center for the Blind ... $100 pays the overall cost of a blind boy's training for one year ... $25 pays it for one month ... The Holy Father asks your help.

WELCOME, PARTNER! Dear Monsignor: I received the enclosed $25 for a Communion Breakfast about Lebanon and the Maronites. We're partners. Whatever I receive for talks like this, I'll give you for the missions. (Mrs. S. K. Brooklyn, N.Y.)

WHATEVER YOU GIVE to the Catholic Near East Welfare Association is used, under the direction of the Holy Father himself, to help the needy in 18 countries in which Catholics are a very small minority. EGYPT, for instance, is only 4% Catholic. CYPRUS, 11%; ETHIOPIA, 4%; INDIA, 1.5% ... Please remember our priests and Sisters when you make a will, or when you want Masses offered.
