Lonely Weaver

by PAUL CONTESTABLE

There was hardly a dry eye in the house as The Weavers sang So Long, It's Been Good To Know You and I'll Be Here. But that sad ending to a long and brilliant career of one of the finest folk groups of the era was also a bright beginning. For this was the first step in launching Ronnie Gilbert as a solo performer of unusual stature.

Lead singer for The Weavers since the group formed in 1949, Ronnie is known for her full, rich voice and the clarity of her contralto. Now Mercury Records has released her first solo album, Alone With Ronnie Gilbert. The result is a warm, pleasing emotional wallop.

Her repertoire ranges from traditional folk tunes to modern tropical songs in the spiritual. But whatever the type of music, Ronnie Gilbert's version is always charming and enjoyable.

It would be hard to pick any best tune on the LP since each and every one is capable of selling the album on its own merits. Her rendition of Power and Glory and Turn! Turn! Turn! truly soar with inspiration and beauty as do all the other tunes.

Also included are What's That I Hear, Holler, Every Night When the Sun Goes Down, Masters of War, Burning Day, Long About Now, My Favorite Things and The Honey Wind Blows.

The Harry Simeone Chorale has released a new LP on Mercury label called Accent on Youth. But youth from nine to 99 will enjoy each and every song on the record. Sensational is not a strong enough word to describe the class, imagination and great sound of the Chorale.

Besides the title song, the group has a stirring version of There's a Boat Dat's Leavin' Soon For New York from Porgy and Bess. Their rendition of Bel Me Bist Du Schon is an especially brilliant work with a spot-on trumpet solo by Mel Davis. And in a beautiful tune called The Sounds of Summer there is an unusual background of the actual sounds of summer, such as the roar of the waves pounding the surf.

The album offers moods to suit your every purpose. And whatever your purpose you are sure to enjoy this brilliant LP. Other tunes include I Ain't Down Yet from The Unsinkable Molly Brown, Bluebird of Happiness with a fine solo by Barbara Webb, Brass Buttons, Thank You, Words Written on Water, It's a Darn Good Thing, Dum De Dum and Vaya Con Dios.
