Geneva Woman At Playhouse

Geneva—Miss Ann Higgins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Higgins, of 592 S. Main St., is a member of the cast of the new Bristol Valley Playhouse Inc. in Naples. Miss Higgins played the role of Amanda Wingfield in "The Glass Menagerie," Aug. 6-9. She was a member of the cast of the first production of the playhouse, "January Thaw," which was presented July 30-Aug. 2. The Geneva young woman also had a role in an original work, "Divide By Two," given Aug. 13-19 by the Playhouse cast. Other plays being presented include "The Wooden Dish," Aug. 20-23, and "Meet Me in St. Louis," Aug. 27-30. Miss Higgins was graduated from Genesee State University in Juris. At Genesee she appeared in several productions. In September she will teach speech and drama in a high school on Long Island.

The Bristol Valley Playhouse is located on Seman's Road in Naples. George Sherwood, its producer-director.

New Mass Setting Draws On Spirituals

Washington—(NC)—A musical setting for the Mass that draws its inspiration in part from Negro spirituals is winning acceptance in parishes throughout the country. Entitled "An American Mass Program," it has been described by a reviewer for the trade magazine Billboard as being "like Gregorian chant touched with the blues."

The music is the work of Father Clarence J. Rivers, 33, a curate at St. Joseph's church in Cincinnati. Director of a Cincinnati drama group, he was here studying in the speech and drama department of the Catholic University of America.

Father Rivers composed his American Mass Program originally for his own inspiration and enjoyment, and later used it to develop a program of active participation in the Mass at St. Joseph's parish.

During its first two years of use, none of the music was written down. Later, however, it was transcribed, and last year a recording of the setting was issued.

The liturgical and scriptural texts in Father Rivers' program appear in English translation.

Playboy Club 'No Surprise' Says Prelate

Cincinnati—(RNS)—The Ohio State Liquor Control Commission's granting of a liquor permit for a proposed Playboy Club here was stated by a Catholic prelate.

Auxiliary Bishop Paul F. Leibold of Cincinnati archdiocese and pastor of St. Louis church, located less than 200 feet from the club, said he was "disappointed but not surprised."

He had earlier expressed disapproval of the issuance of a license to the club at a public hearing.

Bishop Leibold said: "We are indeed disappointed but not surprised at the decision of the State Liquor Control Commission to grant the liquor license for a Playboy Club in Cincinnati. We knew the tremendous pressure that would be brought to bear in this case, due to the very large investment of money already made and the national syndicate behind it.

"No ordinary little club would draw radio, TV and newspaper, editorials, Chamber of Commerce and police department endorsement without considerable prodding the places where it counts.

"This meant civic leaders had to take the ridiculous position of pegging the downtown revival on the presence of a Playboy Club to cater to foolish, immature men who admit to the title of Boys at Play and euphemistically call their playmates 'Bunnies,' of the more abhorrent position that it is no danger to public morals because it is well policed from within.

"By law we were requested to express our approval or disapproval of a liquor license being granted to a club—upon which, of course, its existence depended.

"We obeyed the law and indicated our disapproval with a view to the present saturation of the area, because of our proper concern about the professed and proved lack of moral principles on the part of the group sponsoring the club, which also publishes an openly salacious magazine of more than two-million circulation.

"We have performed our duty and have highlighted the danger. Now it is up to the people to decide by their rate of patronage whether they want this blight on the community or not, for there is really only one power this type of enterprise understands, and that is the dollar sign."

71 Negro Prelates in Vatican City—(RNS)—The Roman Catholic hierarchy today numbers 71 Negro prelates—10 cardinals, 16 archbishops and 45 bishops—a Vatican Radio broadcast disclosed.

It said the largest single group of Negro bishops is found in the Congo—eleven—with Tanganyika next with eight.

Tanganyika includes the Diocese of Bukoba headed by Laurian Cardinal Rugambwa, only Negro member of the College of Cardinals.

'Shrine Day' At N.Y. Fair

New York—(RNS)—Thousands of visitors participated in the "National Shrine Day" at the Vatican Pavilion of the World's Fair in connection with the Feast Day of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

The observance, sponsored by the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C., included five Masses in the pavilion's chapel, a candlelight procession, solemn Benediction of the blessed Sacrament and special exhibits.

Presiding at the Benediction was Auxiliary Bishop John J. Dougherty of Newark, who preached at the service. He also led the procession which closed with the placing of flowers on Michelangelo's Pieta on display at the pavilion.

Among other events were the presentation of a 30-minute film, "Our Lady's Shrine," the showing of colored religious slides and the distribution of 100,000 prayer cards.

Mass to be Said in Maori Tongue

Auckland—(RNS)—Archbishop James A. Lister announced that New Zealand's 30,000 Catholic Maoris will soon be able to hear portions of the Mass in their native language.

The archbishop said that the Maori tongue also will be used in the administration of Sacraments, according to new Church regulations approved by the hierarchy.

He observed that the Maoris requested use of the vernacular in religious rites more than any other ethnic group in New Zealand.

New Zealand's bishops have approved English for Masses and Sacraments, beginning Aug. 18.

Smirnoff—filtered through a "mountain" of charcoal

What makes Smirnoff so crystal clear, uniquely smooth, remarkably free of taste or odor? Every drop is filtered through 14,000 pounds of activated charcoal. That's why it's drier in a Martini, smoother on-the-rocks, mixes with anything that pours. And... it leaves you breathless.
