"...ask not what your country can do for you...ask what you can do for your country."

You can help build a living memorial to John F. Kennedy

If you have been wishing there were some way you could pay a personal tribute to the memory of the late President, here is your opportunity. The American people are completing the project he was planning when he died, the John F. Kennedy Library, in Boston, Massachusetts.

The goal is $10,000,000. Thousands of donations, large and small, have already brought in $5,000,000. A national magazine gave the $75,000 profit from their memorial issue. A girl in Cincinnati sent Caroline $1 for her daddy's library which she had saved from her lunch money.

MORE THAN A LIBRARY. President's libraries were built by public or private subscription for Hoover, Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower. The priceless documents of each administration are collected there, and the libraries turned over to the American people for their use. John F. Kennedy wanted his library to be more than a museum, however. As he envisioned it, it will also be a place where young people, scholars and administrators, will be inspired and trained to bring to public service the highest ideals and practical skills.

If you want to help keep alive this dream for America that was John F. Kennedy's, you will want to give.

Contributions will be acknowledged by Mrs. Kennedy. Your name will be recorded in the Great Book of Contributions, which will be on permanent display in the Library.

Honorary Chairman: LYNDON B. JOHNSON
Chairman: EUGENE BLACK • President: ROBERT F. KENNEDY • Vice President: MRS. JOHN F. KENNEDY

HOW TO GIVE. If you wish to contribute to the memorial building fund for the John F. Kennedy Library, fill out the coupon below and mail it with your donation. All contributions are tax deductible.
