Nursing Graduates Feted
GRADUATING CLASS of the Arnold-Ogden Hospital School of Nursing, Elmira, attended the 5:30 p.m. Mass at St. Patrick's Church on Aug. 26. The Mass was celebrated by Rev. Michael C. Hogan and the sermon was preached by Rev. C. David Scanlin, O.M.I. Immediately following the Mass, the graduates were feted at a dinner in St. Patrick's Hall. The dinner was prepared by Mrs. Douglas Breed, Mrs. Leo McMahon, Mrs. Walter Smith and Mrs. William Schiefel. Members of the Christian Mothers Society, headed by Mrs. John Finnel, served the dinner. Pictured at the head table are Father Scanlin, Miss Catherine Voetsch, director of student nurses, and Father Hogan.

Aquinas To Open With Corning

By Whit Johnson
With the opening game of the 1964 football season against Corning East High School scheduled Friday night, Sept. 18, coach Joe Repko is well satisfied with the work of his Little Irish eleven on offense and defense.
"We are going to have a good club this year," Repko predicts. "We hope to give Aquinas fans the best football team in the area—playing a brand of football that people like to come out and watch," he added.
Eight lettermen constitute the nucleus of the club which shapes up as a fairly light, but speedy outfit.
An eight game schedule including six at home and two away will be played by the Little Irish. Featured are games with McQuaid set for October 13, is the first ever in the rivalry level between the two local schools.

Aquinas should enjoy good quarterbacking this season. Leading candidates for the signal calling job are letterman John Dinolfo and Craig Engleth, both better than average passers.
Anchoring the offensive line are veteran Dick Schausell and either Jim Popen or Gary Pelcher, both up from last season's javvie squad.
Veterans will also help shore up Aquinas' defense. Buck is Dick Winterroth, a rugged linebacker, and powerful Doug Burgess and Tom Hughes. Both Burgess and Hughes weighing in over 220 and have plenty of game experience.

DAVE BURGESS with McQuaid Jesuit High School of Rochester and St. Joseph High School of Cleveland, an Ohio powerhouse undefeated in eighteen games. The meeting with McQuaid set for October 13, is the first ever in the rivalry level between the two local schools.

Veterans will also help shore up Aquinas' defense. Buck is Dick Winterroth, a rugged linebacker, and powerful Doug Burgess and Tom Hughes. Both Burgess and Hughes weighing in over 220 and have plenty of game experience.
Repko should find more offense help in halfback Pat DiNicola, who was impressive for Hunk Vadas' junior varsity last year. Halfback Gary Mulligan provides a breakaway threat. Tom Guendert is also battling for a halfback position.
Senior Bob Wengender and Junior George Kermis are leading contenders for the guard spot. Dick Winterroth will probably land the starting center job backed up by Mike Sloane.
Repko is especially happy about the work of fleet-footed Randy Block who played end last season but has been shifted to fullback. Block is president of the Aquinas student body and a letterman on the Irish track team.
Another veteran, Pete Bauer, may see double duty as a tackle and linebacker.

A place-kicker is one of the main-season concerns of the Irish coaching staff. Greg Manley looks to be the most promising to date.
All home games will be played at Aquinas Memorial Stadium, Ridgeway Avenue. Tickets for all games and season passes are available from all Aquinas students.

KC To Meet, Plan Outing
Members of Elmira Council 229, Knights of Columbus, will meet Wednesday night, Sept. 16 at 8 at Columbus Center.
Grand Knight Edward A. Clatus will preside.

Dietetic Group Names Mercy's Sister M. Patrick

Sister Mary Patrick of the Rochester Sisters of Mercy has been admitted to the American Dietetic Association. It was announced in Boston on Sept. 4. A certificate of membership in the national group was awarded to Sister upon her completion of the Post-Graduate Year of Dietetic Internship at Massachusetts General Hospital.
Dietetic Internship in the thousand-bed hospital is composed of weekly lectures and daily practice in the department of medical nutrition. Massachusetts General is the third oldest hospital in the United States, the teaching hospital of Harvard Medical School.
Sister Mary Patrick, the daughter of Mrs. Frank Kennedy of Harper St. and the late Mr. Kennedy, is an alumna of St. John's Evangelist School. Having studied, nutrition at Cornell University, she received her B.S. in Home Economics (Nutrition) from Columbia University. She has taught for several years on the faculties of Our Lady of Mercy High School and Notre Dame High School, Elmira.
This September Sister Mary Patrick will take up new duties as Chief Dietitian of St. James Mercy Hospital in Horwell, administered by the Sisters of Mercy. Sister's devotion to the field of hospital dietetics is the claim, "the result of the unusual inspiration accorded by the state of Massachusetts General Hospital, an institution outstandingly dedicated to the care and recovery of the sick."
Commenting on her experience at the Hospital, Sister said that its Director, Doctor John Knowles, formerly of the faculty of the University of Rochester Medical School, represents the entire personnel of the hospital in his conviction that "let one worker from a spiritual motive cannot properly care for the sick."
