Book Reviews Resume at Civic Center

Louis Auchincloss' best-selling novel, "THE RECTOR OF JUSTIN," will be reviewed by the Rev. Robert Miller in the opening session of the Noonday Book Review series, next Tuesday, Sept. 29 at 12:30 p.m. The half-hour critique will take place in the Catholic Evidence Library, on the main floor of the Columbus Civic Center, 50 Chestnut Street.

Now in its fourth year, the Noonday Book Review offers a varied diet in its fall schedule this year. The books to be analyzed cover the areas of liturgy, race, the Vatican Council and Catholic education.

Series opener Father Miller is associate editor of the CATHOLIC COURIER-JOURNAL. Ordained eight years, he served as assistant pastor in Good Shepherd parish, Henrietta, and St. Margaret Mary's, Irondequoit, before entering the journalistic world. The work he will review is the story of the rector of a famous New England boys' school.

Other titles to be reviewed, and their critics are as follows:

Oct. 13—"The Church's Worship" by J. D. Crichton, reviewed by Rev. James Russell

Oct. 27—"Black, White and Gray," ed. by Bradford Daniel, reviewed by Mrs. Andrew Edwards

Nov. 10—"Observer in Rome" by Robert McAfee Brown, reviewed by Mrs. Harper Sibley

Nov. 24 — "Are Parochial Schools The Answer?" by Mary Perkins Ryan, reviewed by Mrs. Donald McConville

The Catholic Evidence Library is sponsored by the Monroe County Council of Catholic Women.

Precious Pearls now man-made

By LOUISE WILSON

Louise Wilson, Women's Editor of WHAM, is heard 11 times weekly 9:10 Monday thru Friday, 9:23 Monday thru Sat.

Agreeing that "ONLY GOD CAN MAKE A TREE," -- and only an oyster can produce a pearl, — people do very well indeed writing poems and creating pearls with a very precious look. And while in a single sentence we've combined Joyce Kilmer (of "Trees") and Dorothy Lansing (of Majorica), we hope the idea gets across that man-made pearls now can't be told by most of us from real pearls.

It's all because of a persistent dream of an inventive Spaniard. He wanted to reproduce a pearl's mystic beauty in a way that would bypass the oyster. After many years of experimentation, he successfully perfected his technique. Highly skilled workers and the most complex of precise, modern equipment today utilize this technique to produce Majoricas.

The fulfillment of the Spaniard's dream offers fashion-minded women the opportunity of owning a necklace that rivals real pearls. Amazingly, there is but ONE fine quality for Majorica necklaces, unlike cultured pearls for which there are many grades. Majoricas differ in price, one from another, only because of millimenter size or length of the necklace.

The size and length of Majoricas should depend largely on your features for, besides being beautiful, they are also beautifying. A long slim neck wears well a large uniform necklace while a wider, heavier neck appears more graceful when flattered by a longer graduated necklace. An entire wardrobe of Majoricas can be acquired for less than the price of a string of fine cultured pearls.

Handsomely packaged and sold with a registration number (under the Majorica label) plus a five year guarantee, Majorica necklaces make beautiful gifts for birthdays, graduation, anniversaries, Christmas and even weddings. To complete the elegant look of pearls, so popular with most of the truly fashion-minded, Amelia Basin gives us this suggestion:

"To make your finger tips match your pearl earrings, necklace or bracelet, apply a light, even coat of Faberger's ceramic glaze, followed by two of Gardenia white, sealed with another coat of frosted ceramic glaze, and your nails will gleam like precious pearls. What's more the gaze protects the polish from chipping and makes it look lovely longer.

"This is the look we've created for brides and we've seen it copied for special occasion fashions, — formals and cocktails and at many festive affairs," concludes fashion and beauty authority Amelia Basin of New York City. It is more than a clever whim of an imaginative and creative young lady. I've tried it on numerous significant occasions and am always delighted with the results.

NO TWO WAYS ABOUT IT: Pearls are "in" as never before. This whether precious or man-made, pearls are at the peak of an all-time high popularity poll. This applies whether it's the necklace or the finger-tips and whether you're a beautiful blushing bride or a home-maker who wants to add a little lustre and glamor to her life.

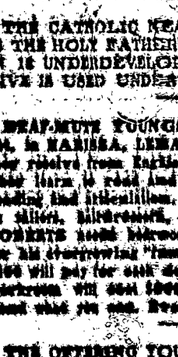
INDIA: COMMUNISM THREATENS

IN INDIA, THE TYPICAL WORKER'S TAKE-HOME PAY is only $1.75 a week! On this he supports his wife and children, mother, father, and parents-in-law . . . He lives in a hut made of mud or woolly straw bamboo. The hut has no light, running water, or sanitary facilities . . . Small wonder that, in KERALA STATE, where the Prince and Reich are hard at work, the Communists may be returned to power next February! . . . Our priests and Bishops, too, in their struggle against Communism, need your help . . . BISHOP VALLOPILLY, 57, asks help that he may build a church in MAVUR, for workers in a new rayon pulp factory there. There is no church anywhere in the vicinity, the bulk are Catholic families. "We are losing the workers, because we don't reach them often for Mass," the Bishop writes . . . An adequate church will cost only $3,500, altogether. Would you like to build it (and name it for your favorite saint) in memory of a loved one? Write to us now, and send whatever you can. Remember that $2 is more than a week's pay in MAVUR.



The Holy Father's Mission Aid for the Church in the Near East

THE CATHOLIC NEAR EAST WELFARE ASSOCIATION IS THE HOLY FATHER'S MISSION AID FOR THE CHURCH IN 18 UNDERDEVELOPED COUNTRIES. WHATEVER YOU GIVE IS USED UNDER THE HOLY FATHER'S DIRECTION.

DEAF-MUTE YOUNGSTERS ARE TALKING, believe it or not, in BAABDA, LEBANON, thanks to the superior training they received from Turkish-born FATHER RONALD ROBERTS. They learn to read and write — and to SPEAK, through lip-reading and articulation. They'll be able to support themselves in skilled, white-collar occupations . . . FATHER ROBERTS needs bedrooms, washrooms, and a study-workroom for his ever-growing "family." $750 will pay for the foundation. $150 will pay for each dormitory-bedroom (six are needed). The workroom will cost $600 . . . Like to help these boys speak? Send what you can. Even $1 will be a Godsend.

THE OFFERING YOU MAKE WHEN YOU ASK HIM TO READ MASS FOR YOUR INTENTION SUPPORTS THE MISSIONARY PRIEST FOR ONE DAY. HE'LL OFFER THE MASS PROMPTLY.

"NO STRINGS ATTACHED"—That's what many people write when they send us a gift to use where the HOLY FATHER says it's needed most. Your unrestricted gift may be used for medicine (for lepers), food (for refugees), clothing (for the aged), or a church (where things). Mark your gift "Unrestricted."
