Which Hearing Aids Do Ear Doctors Prefer?

A survey of ear, nose and throat doctors, conducted by a leading medical institution re-veals that an overwhelming number of these specialists have strong preference for certain brand of hearing aids.

For a FREE PAMPHLET showing the results of this important, independent survey, and revealing why these doctors expressed a preference for certain hearing aids, write TODAY to: "Hearing Aids", Dept. 07, Box 1100, Minneapolis, Minn. 55402.

Youngsters of St. Januarius parish, Naples, rode the "Our Lady of the Grapes" float in the village grape festival parade Saturday afternoon. — Cynthia Farris, Enzo Warren, Robert Stolman, all 10 years of age; Cynthia Warren, 12; and Joel Chernick, 11.

'Our Lady of the Grapes' at Naples Festival

+ + +

Scripture says God made wine "to gladden the heart of man."

And Naples, N.Y., is where the wine is made.

Highlighting the grape harvest there, villagers put on a colorful festival last weekend which drew more than 40,000 visitors to their little community nestled in the hills south of Canandaigua Lake.

St. Januarius, patron of Naples, Italy, is also patron of the white clapboard church where Father Bernard Kuchman is pastor.

Parishioners served hundreds a country-style Italian dinner after last Saturday's parade.

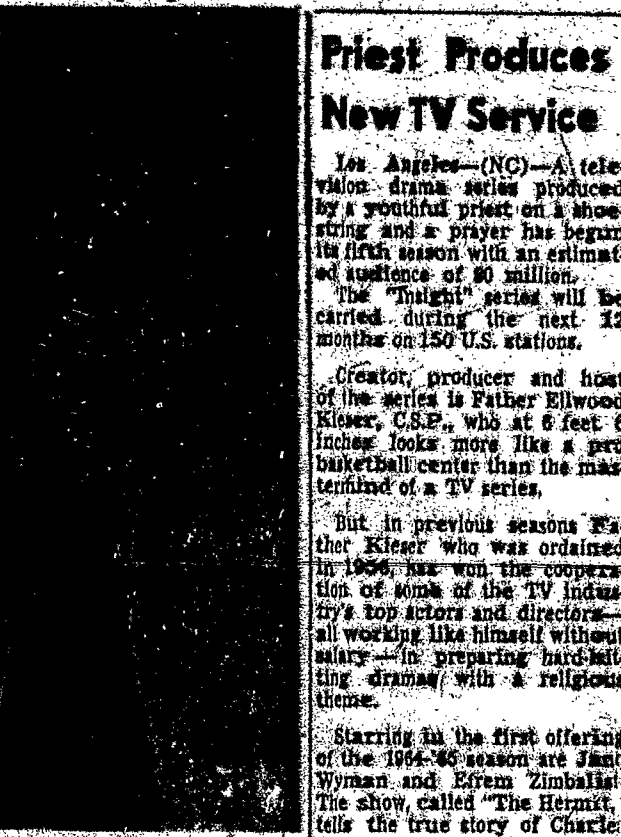

A shrine with Mignard's painting of Our Lady of the Grapes has been erected in the church and children of the parish rode a float in the festival parade depicting the new shrine.

Here are some pictures of the festival.

Aquinas Institute and Nazareth Academy bands marched as a unit in Naples parade.

Louise Wilson sat atop parade float to describe parade units as they passed Naples school in heart of village.
