Student Council

The Student Council of St. Agnes High School, under the direction of Sister Josanna, Moderator, will focus its primary attention this year on the silver jubilee celebration of the founding of the school.

Judith Amann, president, announced that the Student Council would be organized by a committee system directed by the president and her following officers: Margaret Lynd, vice president; Patricia McHugh, secretary; and Nora Keogh, treasurer. Homeroom representatives and alternates will serve on these committees of which some will also be open to the entire student body.

Forthcoming projects this term include the preparation of a slide program for eighth graders, the Christ the King Assembly to be co-sponsored by the Sodality, the Father-Daughter dinner dances on November 14 and 21; and the preparation of a Student Handbook.

National Merit

Since the official announcement of the St. Agnes High School Semifinalist winner last month, nine other seniors of St. Agnes have been designated by the National Merit Scholarship Program to receive letters of recommendation as a result of excellent performance on this same test.

Feast Day

Festivities for the feast of their principal, Sister Marie Margaret, will occupy the students of St. Agnes High School Thursday. Sister's patronal feast will be Saturday, today was selected for the school celebration.

Father Cushing, Chaplain of St. Agnes, will begin these activities by offering the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass.

The dramatic classes will present the play "Miss Sydney Carter" a modern, one-act comedy in which two young teenagers develop a martyr complex. Members of the cast: Elizabeth Dipinski, Kathryn Rogowicz, Deborah Norman and Patricia Sloan, Margaret Guinan and Sue Riccio.

The senior class president, Christine Faraone, and the student council president, Judith Amann, and their fellow officers will present to Sister Marie Margaret a spiritual bouquet and gifts from the student body. In the afternoon all will enjoy a special full-length movie, the title of which is being withheld as a surprise to all.

Sodality Outing

Junior and Senior Sodality members of St. Agnes High School will journey to the Society of the Divine Word Monastery at Conesus, New York, on October 16. The excursion, lasting from 17 p.m. to 10 a.m., will include a tour of the monastery, and a picnic. Joan Woolston, Senior Sodality in charge of arrangements, announced that 40 Sodality members are expected to make the trip. Sister Kostka is Sodality Moderator.

Aptitude Tests

All students in the Junior Class at St. Agnes High School will take the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test next Tuesday morning, October 20. Besides the usual guidance purposes for which testing programs are formulated, Sister Marie Margaret, Guidance Director at St. Agnes, explained that PSAT scores are most useful to the students themselves in planning for college. These scores, considered with their secondary school academic record, will enable each girl to estimate more accurately her ability to do college-level work.

Since the PSAT and the College Board Examination contain comparable questions and measure like abilities, scores on this PSAT will give an early indi-

Soph-Fresh Day

The sophomore class of St. Agnes High School will officially become upperclassmen October 20 as they join the ranks of "Big Sisters" at St. Agnes during the traditional Soph-Fresh Day ceremonies. The sophomores, each chaperoning the "Little Sister" she picked, will initiate, entertain and welcome the freshmen as the newest members of the S.A.H. family. Omnitest classes, normally scheduled for periods 6 and 7, the sophomores will present entertainment and refreshments in the school auditorium. Sophomore homerooms 108 and 107 will present short skits. Miss Day's 10th skit is under the direction of Donna Maloney. Elaine Legier will direct 107's skit, "Snow Soph and the Seven Frosh."

Senior Parents

The administration and faculty of St. Agnes High School extend an invitation to the parents of the Class of 1965 to meet their daughters in the classrooms Wednesday and Thursday evenings, October 21 and 22, from 7 to 10 p.m. Of special interest to these parents will be a meeting with Sister Marie Margaret, Principal of St. Agnes, at 8:00 p.m. in the school auditorium. Sister will acquaint them with the complete guidance program available to their daughters under the direction of Sister Marie Margaret, Guidance Director for the Senior Class; and with the many opportunities offered to their daughters for pursuing their particular vocations or professional interests after their present year.

"Mister Stephen"

With Mercy's Mission Days this year comes "Mister Stephen," a musical comedy based on the life and works of Stephen Foster. Scheduled for November 13, 14 and 15 at Mercy High, the two-act play calls for a large cast of Southern belles and gentlemen, minstrellets and river folk.

According to Sister Mary Plus, director of the production, the play is a light, gay comedy calling for polkas, waltzes and soft-shoe numbers. The setting is a river front in Ohio in the late 1840's where Stephen is forced to decide between Jeanne, the girl he loves, and his desire to travel to New York and compose music.

Editor's Meet

Crest editors, Louise DeVore and Daniel Kavanagh will attend the Scholastic Editors Conference to be held on Saturday and submit the paper for competitive criticism. This annual conference is sponsored by the Rochester newspapers.

Founders Day

Founders Day will be commemorated at Nazareth Academy today (Thursday, October 15) under the direction of the Student Council.

An assembly, directed by Miss Jean Strachan, will be held in the afternoon. Ann Lazrus is stage manager and Barbara Tocano, narrator. A speech choir will present the "Centenary Ode," written in 1934 by Sister Margaret Teresa, chairman of the English department at Nazareth College, to mark the hundredth anniversary of the coming of the Sisters of St. Joseph to the Rochester diocese.

New Look

For the months October through February the Sodality at Mercy will not hold meetings but will sponsor an intensive Christian Leadership Program for each of the four classes. In this program, in the words of Sister Mary Maureen, moderator of the Sodality, will "stamp out the false 'holier-than-thou' image that the spiritual organization has had" and replace it with a working organization where "a girl because she takes her Christian responsibility, stands herself in the fields of apostolic action and by leadership."

Meetings on the senior, junior, and sophomore levels are conducted in four-week cycles. Father Finks, school chaplain, starts each cycle with spiritual

DeSales Officers

Geneva — De Sales High School sophomore, Junior and senior classes have elected members of the student body for class officers for 1964-65 school year.

The seniors elected John Turitto, president; Helen Lynch, vice president; Joseph Zoll, treasurer; and Mary Alice Coughlin, secretary.

Junior class results were: Patrick O'Malley, president; Christina Rizer, vice president; Robert Brennan Jr., treasurer; and Dale La Vole, secretary.

The class of 1967 chose Michael Roulan, president; Mary Beth Monks, vice president; Joseph Presutti, treasurer; and Mary Anne Duchaney, secretary.

Mooney Debates

Political debates on platform issues took place this week at Mooney in preparation for the mock election on Monday, October 19. Under the co-chairmanship of Barbara Koerner and Paul Salber, all social studies classes will take part selecting their candidates, using an official voting machine.

Democratic debaters included Carol House, Joseph Menard and Brian Siple. Republicans were represented by Helen Marie, Jean Wagner and John Vermeire. Faculty members Sister Mary Basil and Brother Michael Keegan, C.S.O., were in charge of the program.
