BERNARD E. TOFANY

Duffy, Tofany Head Bona Fund

Michael J. Duffy and Dr. Bernard E. Tofany, both of Rochester, have been named legal and dental chairman respectively, of this year's "Annual Bonaventure Fund," the Rev. Robert Gavin, OFM, vice-president for development at St. Bonaventure University, announced this week.

In announcing their appointments, Father Gavin said the renamed "Annual Bonaventure Fund" is for the purpose of increasing current income in the face of a continuing increase in expenses. This year, he added, the fund program has been expanded in order to increase the "dollar and donor" return for greater annual unrestricted support to St. Bonaventure University, a private school. The goal is $62,000.

Duffy, a member of the law firm of Wiedman and Wiedman, was graduated from St. Bonaventure University in 1933. He resides at 50 Austin St.

General chairman of the fund, Father Gavin said, is Edward Cain '27 of Westport, Conn. Associate chairman is Paul F. Ryan '28 of Manchester, Conn.

Dr. Tofany, a 1948 graduate of St. Bonaventure, resides and practices his profession at 753 Titus Ave.

Buck-Passing Charged On Local Race Bias

"There is a lot of talk, a lot of buck-passing, but not enough action in Rochester on race relations," was the blunt comment of a young Negro chemist last week.

Ronald Weber was addressing the Holy Name Society of Holy Family Church at a supper meeting.

"EVERYBODY agrees that there are three basic problem areas which should be tackled —housing, jobs and education," Weber stated. But he noted that as soon as someone wants to take concrete action in any one of these areas, he is advised to start elsewhere.

"It's a vicious circle. Those who suggest changing this de facto segregation in our schools are told that open housing is the answer. Those working on open housing are advised to work on job opportunities. And those who try to open up jobs for minority groups are met with—'you should work on education first.' So you've come full circle, and wind up where you were before," the Xerox chemist explained.

Actually, these areas of discrimination are interdependent, and an improvement in any one of them will help the others. The main thing is for people who are concerned, to do something, Weber said.

Having been educated in the South (Xavier U. in New Orleans) and worked in the North, Weber offered some insights into the differences in racial prejudice in those different areas.

"In the South, the pattern of prejudice is sharp and clear. In the North, racial prejudice is like a heavy fog — you can't touch it, it's hard to fight against, but it's there, and makes the going very difficult for a Negro," he commented.

The starting point for Catholics, Weber felt, should be in their own consciences. Their guideline should be the clear doctrine of Christ on love of neighbor.

"Whatever you do to the least of My brethren, you do to Me" problems is to start applying these words to all our neighbors, he concluded.

Bake Sale, Bazaar Set

Also plans for the annual Christmas party this year will be held in the church hall, Dec. 9. A turkey dinner will be cooked and served by some of the members, and instead of exchanging gifts each member will bring an article of baby clothing for needy children, which will be sent to the Pope's Warehouse.
