

Aquinas Cagers Open Tomorrow

By WHIT JOHNSON

Aquinas Institute basketball coach Jack Kelly makes no bones about it. He likes the looks of his 1964-65 team.

"This could be the best shooting team we've had in years and we'll run against any body," says Father Cyril Carter, the school's popular athletic director.

The Little Irish unveil their latest edition Friday, Nov. 20, in Canandaigua against Canandaigua Academy.

Last year, Aquinas finished with a 14-6 overall record and the Eastside Christmas Tournament championship but lost out to McQuaid in the Diocesan Tournament.

This season's schedule features 19 games including two contests at East High in the annual Christmas Tournament Dec. 23 and two games in the Catholic Diocesan Tournament. Regular season play will find the Irish at home for 7 games and on the road for 8 contests.

Three teams are scheduled for Aquinas this season for the first time: Canandaigua Catholic High School and Greece Olympia East Rochester High School, returns to the schedule after several years' absence.

Coach Kelly's men will play four home games at the Community War Memorial against McQuaid, Edison, East Rochester and West High.

The annual Christmas season meeting between Aquinas and McQuaid is set for Saturday, Dec. 19.

Kelly likes to think of basketball as an eight-man game.

"I know only five cagers can play at one time," he admits, "but you've got to have eight players ready for quick changes."

So, with this thought in mind

Knights Open Season With Batavia Cagers

By JESS HEWITT

Seven holdovers will be in the McQuaid basketball cast next Wednesday when Ken Jones sends his Knights into their season's opener at Batavia. Two nights later McQuaid will make its first of six appearances this season at the War Memorial, where it takes on Irondequoit in the first half of a double-header.

Irondequoit is one of two newcomers to an 18-game schedule. The other is Watertown, which comes to Rochester in December.

Coach Jones can choose his starting five from a group of veterans that include the two top scorers from last year's 14-4 squad: Tony Leonardo had 283 points and Lance Compa 254, and there's good scoring potential represented in the 157 of Mike Spriguel and the 141 of Bob Hudak. Irondequoit and Spriguel are inside men, as is Jerry Bunce. Lillard of the returnees at 64. In the backcourt, seniors John Stanley and Dan Wegman are also holdovers, giving more depth than the original squad had had in recent years.

Adding to Jones' happy man power situation is the presence of juniors Grant Smith, Tom Miller, Tom Blake, Tom Gibson and Ray Shebinski, all starters on last season's 14-4 junior varsity team.
