Aquinas Wins

Aquinas Institute's varsity debaters won two trophies and four best speaker awards at the First Annual Genesee State University College High School Debate Tournament held Saturday, December 12 on the Genesee campus.

Debating the control of nuclear weapons on the affirmative side for the first time, David Hill, junior from St. Helen's parish, and Robert Craig, senior from St. John Evangelist parish in Greece won all four debates to take the trophy for the Best Affirmative two-man team. Hill and Craig were awarded the first and second best speaker medals also. Seniors Thomas Farrell, Sacred Heart Cathedral parish and James Hendrick, Our Lady of Perpetual Help parish, debated the negative and won two and lost two. Both boys were awarded medals for being in the top ten group of the eighty debaters participating. The four-man squad was then awarded the trophy for overall Second Place winner.

The other varsity Aquinas debaters and orators produced their most successful day of the current season at Monticello, New York last Friday and Saturday.

McQuaid Orators

McQuaid Jesuit High School debaters and orators produced their most successful day of the current season at Monticello, New York last Friday and Saturday. The knights came up with the top debating trophy against a competition from 32 other schools as junior George Northrup and sophomore Joseph Combs scored 6 wins in a row, including the last two over runner-up Hendrick Hudson High School. Not far behind in the large field was McQuaid's other team of senior Richard Rudy and junior John Keenan, which posted a 5-1 record.

Third Meet RADL

The third meeting of the Rochester Area Debate League (RADL) was held at the Main St. annex, 3rd prize. RAINBOW TROUT — M. A. Colacino, 336 E. Main St., Palmyra, 2nd prize.
